Administrative history / Biographical sketch

Note

Robert N. Anderson was a commercial ship's captain. He commanded the schooner Corona in the 1880s and the S.S. Winona in the late 1910s, carrying freight between the United States and the United Kingdom and elsewhere.

Custodial history

Materials were purchased by Dalhousie University Archive from Larry Fillmore on 28 April 1982. Further information about the custodial history is unknown.

Scope and content

Fonds consists of materials regarding Captain Robert N. Anderson's activities as a shipmaster, including a ship's logbook, a bill of sale for the schooner Corona and receipts of goods freighted by the Corona. Records also include correspondence sent to Anderson by his family.
