My Dear Sir

I am downright angry with you, and if it were not, that I do not chuse to commit myself in Black and White I would scold you well; for not keeping your promise with the ladies, indeed this is very shabby behav<sup>our</sup>. My sister and I intend, to inflict some punishment on you, the next time we see you, I advise you before to take care of yourself, I think if we set our wits at work, you will see too many for you: after all, I hope you arrived at home on Thursday; before the rain began, and that you did not find yourself any worse, for your long walk: My Father will not be able to call on you to morrow, for the tickets you have so kindly offered, as we are engaged to tea, at Edington tomorrow afternoon, My sister has not either heard from or seen Dr. M. - we shall expect to see you, before she leaves town, that you may stand trial, and either be honorably acquitted, or condemned, to suffer as the judges, in their great wisdom think fit. Till then, and perhaps after, My dear Sir, Believe your grateful Mary Dabie

Dear Sir

I have this morning, got a variety of Receipts, for different Wines, I hope shortly we shall be able to offer to a discerning Public a choise collection, that will entertain and exhilarate their spirits, and do credit to our exertions to please I hope to see you soon, that we may consult on this weighty business - if you have any letters or small parcel to send, to Dumfries, we can procure a convoiance, a young friend is going to that Part the exact time is not fixed, but when he has determined what time he leaves Town, I will let you know My Father and Mother beg to be kind by remembrance to you

I am Dear Sir yours

My Dear Sir

We made out our expedition yesterday to Ealing, after a variety of mistakes, we found all the Ladies well and very anxious about you, to let you into a secret Miss N. is extremely desirous to see your Indian Duties, I have made half a hundred promises in your Name, as I know it is not in your Nature to refuse a Lady, anything in your power to grant, I hope you will not be very angry with me, for saying, you would feel a pleasure in obliging her, if you got them to your own ho-again. I have a long message from Dr N. which I shall have the pleasure to deliver to you soon, if you are disengaged on Tuesday afternoon, my father and I will ~~have~~ do ourselves the pleasure to take tea with you, ~~use~~ no ceremony if you have any appointments, ~~business~~ and I will come another day and tell you all about business he has devised me to make.

Let kind regards to your, don't you think I am ever good to tell you all the fine things the ladies said of you, and to you I shall expect one of your best bows for my honesty. I am my My Dear Sir, with the Most Respect yours Most Obediently M. Doble

My Dear Sir

I yesterday received a letter from Dinwiddie, with an invitation for the Latin Play, on the 24th, we are requested to go on the Thursday evening, otherwise we shall miss the speeches, in the morning Mr Cowan desires me to say, if he should unfortunately not have his business settled he will make one of the party, we are not to expect a bed in the Castle, but one can be procured without the Castle walls, my Mother will go with us, Mr Cowan thinks as there will at least be four of us it will be best to have a glass coach, in that case we will take you up, however we will leave that to you, I shall expect to hear from you as early as possible, I feel much disappointed at finding you from home Yours ever Respectfully Mary Dobie two other ladies at the door, I neither can, or will allow such proceedings. Look that you can give me a satisfactory explanation

My Dear Sir

I am quite distressed, to hear such a bad account of your health, I had hoped this fine warm weather, would have effected your perfect recovery, be assured at all times, I will sacrifice my any pleasure, I may propose myself, from your company, when it interferes with your health or comfort, it certainly will be a great disappointment, but I would by no means urge you, against your better judgment, least the consequences prove unfavorable, I wish to see you, and hear what you have to advance on the subject, we propose to take tea with you on Sunday, when I intend to take my revenge, for your stolen gallantries, if agreeable, however make no complaint if you are engaged, say so, and we will take another opportunity, my Mother and Father and their respects Mr Cowan begs to be remembered kindly, Believe me my Dear Sir with the most respectful affection yours M Doherty

My Dear Sir

According to promise, My Father, paid the money, into Messrs Tarkie and Co, by which you will perceive, we were not attacked by any Robbers, or met, with any disturbance, in our way home, except what arose from the fog, which was extremely disagreeable.
I have taken a slight cold, which I intend to disengage in a day or two, I hope you are tolerably well, and intend to put in practice, the good advice I gave you, in regard to your diet, and health, I shall come and look after you, the first opportunity, My Father will see you on Sunday, when he will bring the receipt from Mr Tarkie, and the balance of your bill, My Mother begs to be kindly remembered to you, with the most earnest wishes that I could relieve and contribute to your health and happiness Believe me My Dear Sir, Yours most Respectfully Mary Dabie
