Barrister and Solicitor

Court House Building

April 17, 1945.

Mr. Thomas Raddall,
Liverpool, N. S.

Dear Mr. Raddall:

I am sending you under separate cover two of those framed Blackett prints. I was able to find some at Cooleys in Halifax and I had them framed. The one missing is of the old Blockhouse at Annapolis.

In the January issue of the Dalhousie Review there appeared a biographical sketch on this Blackett and according to the writer of this sketch Blackett was around in these parts about 1830.

Each of the prints cost me $3.00 and the framing was $1.25 each. I have mislaid the bill for the framing.

In a weak moment I gave an undertaking to Andrew M. that I would write my version of James D's visit to Halifax. I still hope to carry out this obligation, but since coming home I have been very busy catching up with a lot of accumulated correspondence, etc.

With kindest personal regards.

Yours faithfully,

R. A. Laurence
