

LAW OFFICES OF
SHERMAN W. SMITH
VICTOR H. FALL
TELEPHONE 1576
FIRST NATIONAL BANK BUILDING
HELENA, MONTANA

July 2nd, 1940.

Mr. Thomas H. Raddall,
c/o Saturday Evening Post, Philadelphia, Penn.

Dear Mr. Raddall,

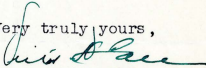

I have just read you story
Bald Eagle 'Iggins in the current issue of the Saturday Evening Post. Curiosity prompts me to ask you if this is authentic or fiction? Many statements in the article point toward it being a fictionized biography of Grey Owl, the author of Men of the Last Frontier and other works.

I assume that you are familiar with the author just mentioned - do you know of anything more impressive than his description contained in the chapter 'The fall of the leaf' in the work mentioned? In case you haven't read it, do so.

My compliments on your story.
It was well done.

Would be pleased to hear from you.

Very truly yours,

Victor H. Fall.

*Answered
July 21/40*