

New house
Walt - 1910

Taken August 29, 1931 by Norvell Leon Hunter. House built by "David Hunter" of "Agadowney" Island, on land granted to him by George III in 1785.
It is the only house remaining of a little hamlet at Ardoid Hill on the old Halifax Road

Mr. Thomas H. Raddall

Dear Sir

I have a great appreciation of your old Nova Scotia articles:

Enclosed is a snap of the House built by my G. G. G. father on Anclouis Hill. He and his son "Lodowick" are buried in the old Parish Burying ground in Windsor together with many of the clan. Lodowick's house on the Hill has disappeared so has his father-in-law the Rev. Geo. Gilmore

Yours truly
A. HUNTER
