

Ragweed Press,
Box 2023, Charlottetown, P. E. I.
C1A 7N7

February 3, 1984

Thomas Raddall,
Lunenburg, Nova Scotia
BOJ 2C0

Dear Mr. Raddall,

Ragweed Press will be publishing this year the first volume of The Atlantic Anthology, edited and with an introduction by Fred Cogswell. This first volume will consist of prose selections, and the second volume poetry and drama. There will be twenty-five authors represented in the first volume, and we feel the anthology will give a comprehensive look at Atlantic prose writing from the past up to the present. The book is geared toward the last year of high school/first year college level.

We would like to include the following selection of yours in the anthology:

"Winter's Tale" from At the Tide's Turn
(McClelland and Stewart).

A permissions form is attached to this letter. If possible, could you also include a short biography with it.

Many thanks, sincerely,

Laurie Brinklow

Laurie Brinklow,
Permissions

P. S. - If you do not hold the copyright for this material, we would appreciate any indication you might be able to provide concerning the correct permissions source.

*Signed & returned permission form
Feb 10/84*
