Nov. 22, 84.

Dear Dr. Mairi and Prof. McDonald,

I'm very happy to received the letter of Sept. 21 written by Mairi on behalf both of you. Every letter from you will bring me into the happy memory of the days when ~~we~~ we were together and give rise to my sentiment of undescrivable gratitude to both of you.

I've been very busy this term. Each week I'll give seven hours lecturing on <sup>general</sup> int. law. What is more, I am asked to do some other work for the faculty. Recently, I was appointed to be director of a graduate class of int. law of 84 grade. In the meantime, I often interpret for American guests. Hence, I ~~am~~ met a lot of interesting American scholars ~~and~~ lawyers and businessmen. By and large, my work is smooth and O.K. I have to work hard and well. This is the only way, as I think, to reciprocate you for your concerns for me.

Thank you for your sincere concerns for my family situation. My wife has not been transferred to Peking as yet. This is very bad. Sometimes I was about to lose my confidence and patience.

Prof. Wang told me that you will visit Peking China next May. I am really glad to know it. I look forward to meeting you in Peking. With Best Personal Regards!

Dear Prof. Macdonald and Mairi:

Thank you for your letter of Jan. 8. Please forgive me for not having written you back sooner.

Our University will give you honorable professorship in early April and invite ~~you~~ you and Mairi to come to attend the ceremony.

In order to facilitate your Chinese visa, our University has sent the invitation letter to Chinese Embassy to Ottawa.

Our faculty decided that you will give a short speech on the ceremony, and give a academic presentation to the students and professors of international law. on another occasion. I'd like to ~~to~~ have <sup>a copy of</sup> your academic paper sent to our faculty earlier, so that we can ~~be~~ prepare accurate Chinese translation in advance.

I am extremely sorry that Prof. Johnston and Mrs. Johnston could not visit Beijing during his sabbatic travelling. Our faculty have already arranged his lectures ~~at~~ here. Our faculty will ~~provide~~ <sup>bear for</sup> them <sup>the costs of their</sup> the domestic air tickets, board and room. Could you tell Prof. Johnston that we do hope he and his family can still visit China ~~at~~ this time?

I have received a letter from Prof. Borgese with two application forms enclosed. Upon consultation with Prof. Luo and Dean Zhang, I ~~do~~ recommed Ms. Mei Hsiao Kai, a woman P.H.D candidate specialized in international law and Mr. Liu Yong, a young teaching fellow who will probably take L.L.M. program at your law school. He is a criminal law lawyer.

The Chinese Spring Festival ~~was~~ was just over. My wife and children are together with me in Beijing. We had a good winter holiday.

I'd appreciate it very much if you write back to us earlier. With best wishes.

Dear Gao-long:

Just a note to say that I have reached a good agreement with the publisher in The Hague, and that I will soon be sending to you and to the Dean a detailed outline of the proposal under which books and manuscripts prepared in the Law Department can be published in english and distributed world wide from The Hague.

Mairi and I hope to arrive for four days on Sunday, April 20th and, of course, we are looking forward with the greatest pleasure to seeing you and your family.

With personal good wishes, I remain,

Yours sincerely,

Dear Gao-long:

One of the students is returning to Beijing from Halifax and I am taking advantage of his return to send you just a line of greeting and good wishes.

We are all well here, as I trust you are there, and we are looking forward with pleasure to seeing you before long.

Let me know how your work is proceeding and what your plans are for the future.

Dear Gao-long:

This is merely a line to thank you and your family for your charming Christmas card and message of good wishes, and to send you our greetings for 1986. It is really good to know that your wife and children are now with you in Peking and that everything is going so well for all of you.

I am hoping that we can develop even stronger links between the Department and Dalhousie during 1986/87. There will certainly be two I.O.I. scholarships available for the summer programme, and we are doing our best to find a scholarship for an LL.M. student. I will let you know about the latter possibility as soon as possible.

We are also very hopeful of concluding an arrangement with the publisher in The Hague, which would mean that we could proceed with our plans to publish materials from the Department in English on a world wide basis. I think that the Dean's book on Legal Theory would be a "natural" for this undertaking.

I will write soon again and I will also send you the book you requested. Are there other materials that you need at this time?

All the very best,

Yours sincerely,

Dear Gao-long:

I will be writing a longer letter early in the New Year, but I did not want 1985 to come to a close without sending you a few lines of greetings and letting you know that we are all well here. Your friends in Halifax speak of you frequently and the members of the Faculty enquire about your work and your well-being. Everyone is delighted to know that your wife and children are joining you in Beijing. This is really the best news of all.

Professor Archibald is on sabbatical leave in Europe and Professor Johnston leaves for Thailand in February. It has not yet been decided whether Professor Johnston will be able to visit you on this occasion. Of course, he will be in touch with you as his plans are finalized.

I have not forgotten your request for a good book on dispute settlements in International Law, and I will do my best to send you one before long. Are there other materials that you require for your courses or your work?

I am pleased to report that the publisher in The Hague seems to have accepted our proposal for a publishing arrangement, and that details will soon be sent to the Dean and to Professor Luo.

It is possible that I may be visiting you for two or three days during the week of April 20, 1986, during which we could pursue several of the items which we discussed last May.

When will we have the pleasure of receiving you once again at Dalhousie Law School? Would it be possible for you and your wife to come for six months at some stage in 1987?

With personal good wishes, I remain,

Yours sincerely,

Dear Gao-long:

It was a great pleasure to receive your letter of November 22, 1984 and also your lovely Christmas card, which reminded me of your stay in Halifax and the times that we had together. It is good to know that you are pleased with your work and that you will be attending the ASIL meeting in Washington. I am not sure that I will be there myself but I expect that Professor Johnston will certainly be in attendance. I am anxious to hear about your courses and your research, which I hope you are continuing, and I look forward eagerly to seeing you some time soon. Are there any materials that you need or is there any way in which we can be useful to you?

Let us keep in close touch.

Dear Gao-long:

Here is another little note to help us keep in touch and to let you know that your friends in Halifax remember you and ask for you.

I am anxious to know what work you will be doing and what specific area of international law you are working on. Is there some possibility of joint research in the future?

Keep in touch and write me as soon as possible.

Dear Gao-long:

We were really delighted to receive your letter of December 22, 1983 and to learn that all is well with you and your family. I can imagine how delighted they were to see you in Shanghai!! Naturally I am anxious to know where you will be assigned, what kind work you will be doing, and whether we can keep in touch in regard to possible joint research in the future. As you know, we are extremely anxious to strengthen Canadian links with Peking University and with the international law community in China. Perhaps there is some topic of mutual interest on which we could work together in the future. Incidentally, have there been any developments on that new graduate school of law which we discussed last year?

We are all well here -- your friends ask for you regularly -- and I will send you more news during the summer.

Mairi joins me in sending you, your family and all our friends, best wishes.

Dear Gao-long:

This is just a very quick note to say that I will be writing soon about all the matters we discussed in Beijing in May, especially the on-going cooperation between Beijing and Dalhousie. You will be pleased to know that we have completed the application to CIDA and that we hope to hear the result by September. Naturally I will keep you fully informed.

I have not forgotten your interest in the peaceful settlement of disputes and I am hoping to be able to send you something on this topic before long. Let us keep in close touch with one another.

Please remember me to the Dean and to all our friends in the Department.

Dear Prof. MacDonald and Mairi,

I am delighted to receive your letter of July 16. I feel guilty to write to you so late. It was ~~is~~ <sup>a</sup> very interesting and valuable meeting for us in May in Beijing. It's first time for my wife and my children to meet both of you, though they have <sup>already</sup> known you on photography. All of them were impressed by you.

Our faculty, as always, appreciates your effort to bring about and develop the academic exchange relations between our law faculties. The plan for future cooperation you and our deans set out in Beijing sounds very good. How about the negotiation between your faculty and CIDA. Will <sup>it be possible for</sup> Prof. Johnston and Prof. Archibald to get the finance from CIDA for conducting lecture in Peking University? We welcome them any time.

I'll tell you a good news. My wife and my children will be transferred to Beijing before long. The application is under the procedure. It might ~~be~~ take four months.

In this summer vacation, I am still busy with meeting with some American ~~law~~ lawyers and professors. In the meantime I am doing some writing <sup>on law of the sea</sup> and preparing my courses for next two terms.

I'll thank Mairi for ~~her~~ <sup>your</sup> ebullient letter. I am pleased to see you ~~are~~ <sup>were</sup> very well in Beijing.

Hope to see you soon.

With best personal wishes.

Dear Prof. MacDonald and Dr. Mairi,

I was so glad to receive your letters the Chinese students brought here. Your letters always reminds me of my days in Halifax, especially of your profound and ~~was~~ thoughtful concerns for me.

I am so excited that ~~was~~ both of you will visit China in early May. We'll meet again before long.

On April 12, I shall leave for U.S. together with Prof. Wang to attend the 79th meeting of ASIL. I am sorry that you are not going to attend. You can imagine how I want to go further to Halifax to see you. <sup>when I am in New York,</sup> But, according to our itinerary of our delegation, I can't go to Canada. I content myself with the thinking that we will meet in Peking in May.

For more than one year after I left Canada, I have been busy very much. To teach the students in international law takes me ~~most~~ much time for ~~pre~~ preparing.

~~In next~~ Since I am a little familiar with my lecture, I plan to do more research in the future. Now I am writing two chapters of a textbook on international law. I am also interested in Int. Court of Justice. I'll appreciate it if you can provide me with some material on Int. Court of Justice and on other aspects.

With best personal wishes.

Look forward to meeting you in Peking.

Yours. Sincerely

Dear Prof. MacDonald and Dr. Mairi,

How are you? I miss both of you very much. I've received all the letters you and Dr. Mairi wrote to me. I was so excited to the letters from you and especially the letters written personally by Dr. Mairi. I feel guilty not to write back to you earlier.

I'm quite ~~satisf~~ satisfied with my job.

I was appointed to be a teacher of int. law in the law faculty of Peking Univ. Originally,
I was assigned to work at the national oceanography department which I didn't like. Our law faculty ~~was~~ insisted on retaining me. Finally ~~I~~ I was assigned a job as I wish.

~~As~~ Soon after I began to work, I've been always ~~a~~ very busy. In addition to regular job ~~to~~ of teaching, I was asked by the Faculty to do ~~so~~ part of external affairs. I've met a number of American and Canadian lawyers and professors of law. As a rule, I always introduce myself in ~~this~~ <sup>such a</sup> way that I am a student of Dr. Ronald MacDonald and Dr. Douglas Johnston. Many of them ~~either~~ are your friends ~~as~~ such as Prof. Covert T. Oliver. ~~Some of~~

of them have already know that you are a great man.

This summer, a group of American law student from American Univ. headed by Prof. Covert T. Oliver and Prof. Robert Bennett Lubie, came to Peking Univ. to take summer law program. I was asked to interpret the lectures in the program.

Now I am preparing my lectures on general int. law for the next term which will begin on the first of Sept.

I'm sorry I have not enough time to do research work. But I'll plan to write some chinese articles on the subject which I'm familiar with during my study in Canada.

北 京 大 学

I wish I can do some joint research or give some lectures on Chinese legal systems in Dalhousie Law School in the future.

I've told Prof. Oliver my wish to do P.H.D. in American, I wish you can help me.

My wife has not been transferred to Peking. This perhaps is the bad news for you since both of you are so concerned with me. I suppose it will take another two or three years for her to move in Peking. But, anyway, I can go to see her twice a year, or vice versa.

How are you? Are you quite busy? I'll never forget your kindness and concerns for me.

As to new graduate institute of Law, you might get enough information about about it from the meeting with Mr. Chou who is attending Ocean Management Program.

I hope to see you not long.

With my best wishes.

Yours truly
