Scholarship Exchange Plan Offered Students By NFCUS

The National Federation of Canadian University Students have announced their Interregional Scholarship Plan for the coming year. This plan enables specially selected students to take one year's work at universities other than the 'home' university and in a different part of Canada. This plan has been in effect for 19 years. Many students have been able to take advantage of the plan in that time and all have voiced their appreciation of the opportunities it afforded.

This plan provides study in another university in another part of Canada for a student in the second last year of his course towards any degree. The student must undertake to return to his home university to complete the work for that degree.

The universities of Canada are divided into four divisions for the purposes of the plan. These are (1) the University of British Columbia, (2) the Universities of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba, (3) the Universities of Ontario and Quebec and (4) the Universities of the Maritime Provinces. No student is allowed to apply for the benefits of the plan unless he contemplates taking work at a University which is in a different division than his home Universities.

Only sophomores may apply for this scholarship plan. Universities taking part in the plan will only accept students in their second last year.

Every university may select for attendance under the Interregional Scholarship Plan a number of students not exceeding one percent of the total student body. This means that as many as 14 may be accepted from Dalhousie. The successful candidates are to be known as "Federation Scholars."

It will be the duty of the NFCUS Committee at the Exchange University to help the successful applicant to arrange suitable accommodation if he signifies his desire that they do so.

Students should not make application for the scholarship unless they intend to carry out the 'deal' if they are accepted and are successful in their examinations. They should not make application and then refuse to go.

For further information on this plan, see the Registrar or a member of the local NFCUS committee.

It is hoped that these scholarships will to a certain extent act as a check on the tendency of Canadian university students to become restricted in outlook, academically and geographically. Also, in many cases the plan permits specialized study otherwise unobtainable. In most cases the saving in tuition fees will more than balance the transportation charges if the Exchange scholar from his home university to the exchange university.

Who's Who In Orchestras Around Here?

This ought to be interesting! Joe Laba and his orchestra are going to have a busy night tonight if posters are any indication.

There are two dances tonight and, according to the posters in the Men's Residence, Joe Laba is playing at both of them. One is in the Nova Scotian Hotel; the other in the Gymnasium.

There was probably some mix up at source which doesn't actually exist. The Gazette can assure its public that whatever the cause of the inconsistency, it will be explained and that both dances will be outstanding successes.

While we're discussing the matter, we might as well put in a plug for both dances.

The Newman Club formal is being held at the Nova Scotian Hotel (Bedford Room). Tickets are $3.00; no corsages. Dancing will be from 9.00 till 1.00.

The Millionaire's Sweater Dance is being held in the Gym tonight. Admission will be $1.25; there will be a 25c fine for girls not in sweaters. While the regular orchestra is not playing, Alf Coward will supply music. The music will be continuous.

At this dance the sweater queen of Dalhousie will be chosen. Last year the queen was Betty Morse.

So there's this evening entertainment. You'll have a good time whichever you go to and remember, Joe Laba will be playing.

To Give Talks At Law School

John B. McEvoy, C.B.E., K.C., of St. John's, Newfoundland, will be the guest of the Dalhousie Law School at the end of the month. Himself a graduate of the Law School, Mr. McEvoy will deliver a series of lectures to the students over a five-day period.

His first lecture will be given at noon on Jan. 28. The others will follow at the same time for the next four days.

Mr. McEvoy is the donor of the Olive Moore McEvoy Scholarships, the winners of which for this year were recently announced.

Mr. McEvoy graduated from Dalhousie Law School in 1935. He has since become a King's Counsel in both Quebec and Newfoundland. He is also a member of the Nova Scotia Bar.

Photographic Salon Being Sponsored

The fourth Canadian Inter-University Salon of Pictorial Photography will be held at Queen's University, Kingston, Ont., on Feb. 10-16. The salon is open to students and faculty members of all Canadian Universities.

This Salon is sponsored by the Queen's University Camera Club. It is the fourth such salon held.

Entries may be in colour or black and white; hand coloured prints are not eligible. The closing date for entries is Feb. 6.

The prints will be judged in two sections: (a) Black and White medium, and (b) Colour transparencies and prints. They must be mounted on light coloured mounts, 16" x 20". All prints must be the work of the contributor. Photographs which have previously hung in Inter-University salons will not be eligible.

Any interested students may get an entry form from the Gazette office. For further information not available on these forms write Shelia Omond, 181 University Ave., Kingston, Ont.

Prof. Harold Berman To Give Talks On Sociology Of Law

A distinguished professor of Law from Harvard University will be visiting Dal towards the end of February as a guest of the Law students it was learned yesterday.

He is Prof. Harold Berman, B.A. (Dart.) C.G.S. (London School of Economics), M.A. (Yale), and LL.B. (Yale). Prof. Berman is an authority on Soviet and Public Law and on the Sociology of the Law.

The announcement was made by Ronald Macdonald, President of the Law Society, at a meeting of that group yesterday.

The professor will be here on Feb. 21, 22 and 23. During that time he will deliver several lectures to the Law students on Soviet Law and the Sociology of the Law. (He has recently written a book on the Soviet Legal System). He will also hold discussions with the students so that they may ask him questions and present their own ideas on the discussion.

While in Halifax, Prof. Berman will be the guest of the Law students. The Law School have paid transportation expenses. It is understood that while he is here, the distinguished visitor will be guest of honor at a dinner given by the city lawyers.

Law students are looking forward to his visit with keen interest.

Poor Man's Law Ball On Jan. 26

Two main topics were discussed at a meeting of the Law Society this week. The first of these was the visit to Dal of Prof. Berman (see elsewhere on this page) and the second was the Poor Man's Law Ball.

It was first felt that the Poor Man's Law Ball should be held at Mulgrave Park. However, it was felt that this was too far afield so the meeting discussed the possibility of holding at the Sea Gull Club.

The idea was approved in principle so Neville Lindsay went out to phone the manager about possible dates for the affair. Three suggestions were brought in and it was decided after considerable debate to hold the affair on Jan. 26.

A committee was elected to arrange the affair. This consists of Neville Lindsay, Jeff Flynn and Jack O'Neil.

The Poor Man's Law Ball is an annual affair which carries the social rating of the Law Ball but not the dignity. It is within reach of pocket books suffering from the post-Christmas and pre-Lent rush.

Notice

The University has requested that students going to and from classes in the new Arts building please refrain from cutting across the grounds on the northeast corner of the building as serious damage is being done to the lawn.

Prof. E. K. Theakston has notified that the front doors of the Arts building will be open for student use commencing Monday morning.

Cercle Francais To Show Films Monday

The Cercle Francais are sponsoring free movies on Monday evening.

These will take place in the Engineering Building at 8.00. Films in French (text available) will be shown as well as films in English and in colour.

You will be able to see the Lourdes and scenes in North Africa at this function. It promises to be a very enjoyable evening.

Round Table Meet Monday

The new Round Table Club will hold its first regular meeting Monday evening at 8.00 in the Haliburton Room, King's College. This meeting is open to all students interested in joining the club.

The club will discuss various topics from the fields of the social sciences, international and national affairs, and anything which is thought to be of interest. It will probably meet every two weeks at convenient times. At each meeting the discussion will centre around some specific topic which will be introduced by a brief talk by a student-member of guest speaker.

At the meeting Monday night the topic will be the role of the CBC in Canada and will be introduced by Jack Kane. Refreshments will be provided.

The first meeting will be in effect exploratory to allow students to get some idea of what the Club will be like and to decide what form it should take in the future.

It has been arranged to have A. C. Hall of the United Kingdom Information Office speak at the Club the afternoon of Jan. 30. Dr. Hall has had the experience in the London County Council and the British Foreign Office serving in Algeria, Jeddah, Cairo, Tehran and Moscow.

To be a success the Club requires the support of really interested students and it is hoped that they will attend the first meeting to find out what it is about.

Rodent Disturbs Commerce Meeting

The first meeting of the new term was held by the members of the Commerce Society Tuesday noon in Room 328 of the new Arts Building.

The meeting was held up momentarily when a ferocious, man-eating rodent crawled from under the radiator. The creature was soon over-powered and business went on as usual.

The main business was, of course, tonight's Sweater Dance in the Gym. It was decided that the males present should be attired in sweaters, as of course the girls will be. Shoulder and other pads are to be eliminated where possible.

Due to the high moral standards of Dalhousie womanhood, the sweater contest on the stage has been cancelled, but a group of advisors will pass among the crowd to judge any girls with outstanding capabilities. In this way a Sweater Queen will be chosen.

Chaperons were announced as C. F. Fraser, and his bride, Professor Cumming and wife, and Professor Berman and a suitable companion.

As advertised, the continuous dance music will be supplied by Alf Coward, was bass, and Joe Laba's eight piece orchestra.

FORMS FIRM

The Dalhousie Commerce Society has formed a commerce accounting firm. It is a non-profit organization, with experience the only reward asked or received by its members. Their initial venture into the field has been taking over of the canteen books. The canteen is operated by the Students' Council.

An Opportunity Missed

Dalhousie students are missing the boat! Each year at this time the National Federation of Canadian University Students publicizes through the medium of the Gazette and through notices on the bulletin boards the Interegional Scholarship plan sponsored by that organization and open to Dalhousie students. Each year, too, the students studiously ignore the notices and the advantages offered by the plan.

The record of Dalhousie has not been favorable during the entire nineteen years the plan has been in operation, but during the past four years we have hit an all time low for no students at all from this university have gone on an exchange scholarship. Yet in universities in Central Canada and in the West it has become the custom that several students yearly go on a scholarship. Why not Dal?

The plan, which provides for a year's exchange at another university outside the students own home university region, was originated for the purpose of broadening the outlook of Canadian university students both academically and geographically. In some cases, also, providing an opportunity for special study not otherwise obtainable.

We cannot think of a better basis for a scholarship. Inhabitants of any one region of a country tend too often to become restrictive in viewpoint, losing a sense of the perspective of the whole through trying to piece it together through one keyhole. The Maritimes have often been accused of this and as it is true of any region of Canada so it is of the Atlantic Ocean provinces and an effort must be made here to overcome it.

The opportunity is offered, yet lately it has been ignored.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Madam:
On behalf of the Commerce Society we would appreciate using the medium of your newspaper to bring a complaint before the students.

In order to publicize the Millionaires Sweater Dance on Friday, January 18th, the Publicity Office and Commerce Society went to great pains to produce a number of posters, one of which was placed in the Men's Residence, Monday noon.

The following day said poster was mutilated in a manner becoming a child. As this is not the first time that Commerce Society posters have been mutilated we wish to voice this public complaint.

While we would not like to cast any disparaging remarks upon the Engineering Society as we realize that the Society cannot be responsible for the actions of any individual, the nature of these child-like alterations leave little doubt but that it was an Engineering student who practised his dubious artistic talents upon the Commerce poster. We make this assertion in view of the fact that a forthcoming Engineering function was publicized in the midst of these alterations.

Canada's Oldest Student Publication In 83rd Year

The Dalhousie Gazette is "The Oldest College Paper in America" according to the records in the Archives, and they have not been disproved although they have been investigated several times.

In 1946 on the basis of statements made by a professor at Dalhousie the Gazette ceased to use the "Oldest" slogan in favor of "Canada's Oldest Student Publication". Since that time, investigations show that the Dalhousie Gazette became the STUDENT publication at Dalhousie Nov. 10, 1869. For years prior to that it was the college paper published by a few independent Dalhousians.

At a meeting of the students held Nov. 10, 1869 a motion was passed accepting the offer of the editors to hand over the Gazette to the student body ending with the words: and therefore be it resolved that this meeting accept the offer of the editors and adopt the "Dalhousie College Gazette" as the property of the students of the university.

An editorial in the pages of the Gazette on the anniversary of its 68th birthday concluded with the following statement: "The fulfillment of this inaugural has been the Gazette's aim since then and today the Gazette, although changed in many respects still represents the student views and is "The Oldest College Paper in America."

Reflection

At Harvard University officials are carrying on an investigation of illegal stills producing moonshine. One student, who had been brewing 170-proof liquor since last spring, said he did it for fun and low cost. Students involved in the brewing have denied selling their product, and claim no illness has resulted from drinking any of the stuff.

"When It's Sleepy Time Down South."

SHORT STORY CONTEST

The Gazette is sponsoring a short story contest open to students registered at Dalhousie for two or more classes. Awards will be $10.00 for first place, $3.00 for second place. Judges for the contest will be Prof. C. L. Bennet, head of the Department of English, Graham Allen, and Prof. A. R. Bevan.

Stories must be under 1200 words in length and submitted under pseudonym accompanied by a second envelope containing the author's real name and the pseudonym. All entries must be typewritten and double spaced on one side of the page only and must be in the hands of the editor by Friday, February 15th.

HER LETTER'S REPLY

By Gosh

*I'm sitting alone on the terrace,
 And the sun's getting over the trees
 That stud the big lawns of this palace
 And a Board meeting meets without me.
 And the cocktails at five I have bypassed,
 And the seat at the opera I've waived,
 With demands of Big Business forgotten
 I'm alone, with my fame, on the Bay.
 I'm writing to tell you I'm lonely,
 And as I do let me say
 That success isn't sweet like they tell you
 For it's taken me so far away
 From the times that we once knew together
 And how when the spring time was new
 There were barn dances down by the Ferry
 And History was heaven with you.
 Remember the night Joe's old father
 Was drowned in Perpetual Falls
 That was the night that you kissed me,
 That was the night of the call—
 The call that meant farewell and sorrow,
 And all of this fame and this gold
 That is worthless, for all that you brought me
 With the years, is now faded, and cold.*

SNOBBERY

Snobbery is the inalienable infirmity of men. Nursed by false sense of self importance, it inflates the mind with an empty superiority that protracts itself by that annoying manifestation: a supercilious and arrogant sneer. There are many causes for this marvellous phenomenon. Perhaps you belong to a large city and view poorer districts as inferior by the magic of the irrational human mind. Or maybe you just have money and put this up as the wall of your distinction and exclusiveness. Let the cause be what it may all of you have one thing in common: a superlative degree of ignorance coupled with an inexhaustible reserve of subconscious inferiority within yourselves, which deficiency you seek to forget in the hollow structure of false pride.

Conceit, snobbery, and pride can be condoned, accepted and tolerated in cases where said qualities are justifiable. But in the majority of cases there is not a possibility of justification and it rests solely and pathetically on ignorance and a lack of human understanding as already inferred.

Whenever someone starts to boast in the "we are the greatest that ever was" line you may start off on the basic assumption that he does not know what he is talking about. Disregarding the question of immaturity of mind, we can observe here that this boastfulness is what makes Americans so unpopular in most of the world. Human spirit naturally recoils against it. Because he is more fortunate than I, you ask, does this give him the right to place himself at a higher level than I? Of course the answer is no. But he does not see this and goes on with his nauseating display of arrogance.

The next thing to analyse is his most unchristian behaviour, lack of simple politeness and seemingly uncontrollable effort to impress you. Beneath it all lies a defection, inferiority and infirmity that needs to be submerged in all manifestations that are the direct antithesis of them. This is the type that dresses gaudily, buys cheap cars and dresses them with imitating gadgets of the more expensive, and, of course, talks as loudly. Behind this veneer of pretense they assume the position of gods, blinded by the cheap splendour of their own creative genius and thinking the eyes of the world can't see through the masquerade, whereas in fact, it is transparent. This is their way of making up for what they can not be but wish to be.

This is the ludicrous analysis of the snob. And what is more ludic-

SWEET SINGER

At close of day, darkness.

Harper & Sons have recently come up with a publication of a book by Vincent Sheean on the life of that greatest of all American lyrical poets, Edna St. Vincent Millay.

Edna Millay, so all have discovered who have read her, was a woman of exceptional writing qualities. Her work is cloaked with a sadness and a deep melancholy that seems to reflect either a bottomless despair or an unmitigated loneliness. But if sorrow is her prevailing theme it is a sorrow of beauty for seldom has such literary perfection come from an American pen; seldom has such a delicate and profound feeling been put into words.

Witness the following sonnet extract:

Pity me not because the light of day
 At close of day no longer
 Walks the sky . . .

This have I know always, love is no more
 That the wild blossom that the wind assails,
 Than the great tide that treads the shifting shore
 Strewing fresh wreckage gathered in the gales.

. . . or this, from What Lips My Lips Have Kissed:

. . . The rain is full of ghosts tonight
 That tap and sigh upon my window . . .

This silently sorrowful woman is ranked high in place of not only contemporary but past poets. It is this woman that Mr. Sheean met and knew and in his 'memoirs' discusses as a person in his treatise entitled The Indigo Bunting. As an analysis the book is next to valueless but as a portrait of an author it is well done. Mr. Sheean well labelled his work 'memoirs' for it is little else than personal impressions. Perhaps he has spent too much time on mannerisms and too little on analysis. He refers to her store of knowledge and education but fails to explore their effect. However, as a word-painting of a great poetess, Indigo is well worth the reading.

Such people, no matter in what way they choose to create their own artificial exterior of snobbishness or for what cause, are rarely to be listened to or answered. Their aspect, their words, are noisy but empty. They don't know of what they speak and every word rests on the lie that they have created for themselves and as such is emotional and not logical. Let the snob go his own way in the perpetual bliss of his ignorance, but as for us, let us never admit so blatantly to the world that we are in reality inferior or deficient in one thing or another.

SOUTH OF THE BORDER (A. C. P.)

BREAKDOWN IN MORAL VALUES . . .

A student ring at Washington University has been breaking into campus buildings and offices with a master key to get examination data. All locks have now been changed.

Five students have been dismissed and the University is guarding its papers with renewed vigor. A student survey indicates that cheating is "fairly widespread" in all classes.

Declared Chancellor Arthur H. Compton: "Discussion in university circles throughout the country indicates that student insecurity over the draft and world conditions has led to a decline and breakdown in student behaviour and has increased cheating."

Washington University was spotlighted a few weeks ago when it refused admission to a Negro girl. The University, said authorities, did not want to risk placing itself "outside the community." But WU's Student Life pointed out that St. Louis University has removed racial barriers without losing community prestige.

In an editorial on Washington University, The Nation commented, "A University that will not admit qualified students to all departments . . . is hardly in a position to lecture students on a 'breakdown' in moral values."

"As long as the university locks out Negroes, it has little reason to complain if a few students appropriate the master key which unlocks the answers to examination questions."

SCARRED CHEEK AND THE HONOR ROLL . . .

The United Press reports that duelling on German Campuses is again being practiced. The scarred cheek is a mark of honor.

Fraternity men have been ordered by their alumni officers to practice duelling secretly once a week in case of possible challenges. In two cases, where fraternities have disobeyed their elders, they have lost their houses.

The sport was banned by occupational authorities, because it was thought to promote German militarism and nationalism. But the ban is being increasingly evaded.

NIGHT LIFE . . .

The Orange and White, University of Tennessee, feels the system of campusing coeds who are late getting back to the dormitory is a bit stiff.

Any girl who is one to five minutes late gets campused one night. If a girl is more than 15 minutes late, she is campused a whole week. The Orange and White suggests that the administration look into the matter and make some changes.

ANIMAL, VEGETABLE OR MINERAL? . . .

Is the multiple-choice quiz a fair way to evaluate a student's knowledge?

Multiple-choice quizzes have their advantages from the viewpoint of both teacher and student. Undoubtedly, they are easier to grade. It is even possible to slough off this tedious job on a machine.

Most students will agree, we think, that such an examination requires more knowledge of facts but less correlation of them. And where wrong answers are not subtracted from the final score, guesswork is often the decisive factor.

Is this right? A student can perhaps pass a quiz or a course on guesswork, but after graduation nobody is going to stand around with three alternatives for him to pick from.

Essay quizzes are criticized for giving a break to the student with writing ability who can "sling the bull." But multiple-choice quizzes seem just as partial to the student who has a good memory for isolated facts, although he often has no idea how these facts fit together.

It looks as if the essay quiz, while not ideal, still gives the teacher a good idea of what the student is getting out of his course. And it helps the student put the facts bumping around in his head to some use.

Shouldn't learning be more than filling in little circles with a black pencil?

INSIDE THE STUDENT . . .

Arthur G. Phillips, associate professor of English at the University of Miami, Fla., recently wrote a guest editorial for the Miami Hurricane, in which he made the following observations about the species Freshman and Sophomore:

1. Freshmen believe that all of their professors are smart; Sophomores believe that one or two of their professors are smart—the ones that gives them A's.
2. Freshmen are in college to get an education! sophomores are in college because their fathers refuse to pay their fare to Las Vegas.
3. Freshman aren't dry behind the ears; sophomores are always dry.
4. A freshman will take a wooden nickel; a sophomore will take a wooden nickel too, and five minutes later put it in the slot machine.
5. Freshmen write home once a week; sophomores write whenever they're broke.
6. A male freshman is looking for a girl like his mother; this is also true of the sophomore, if his mother happens to be Jane Russell.
7. A freshman believes the way to get good grades is to study hard; the sophomore has decided that a better way is to sit next to someone who studies hard.
8. A freshman's ambition is to get into "Who's Who;" a sophomore just wants to get called before the Kefauver committee.
9. Freshmen suspect that professor's aren't human; sophomores know it.
10. Freshmen kiss their dates goodbye; sophomores kiss them hello.

Concludes the professor: "Everybody loves a freshman. What makes life so disillusioning to a professor is the thought that this year's freshmen will be next year's sophomores. Sic transit gloria mundi."

DAL HOOPSTERS WIN 71-18

VITA-MEN POWERHOUSE TECH BIG MIKE CORDS 14 POINTS

Riding the crest of victories the Dalhousie Basketball Tigers surged to another victory Wednesday night at the Dal Gym as they defeated the T-men from the Nova Scotia Technical College 71-18. Jumping into a quick lead which they never relinquished the Tigers ran roughshod over the hapless engineers.

Displaying shooting power never before shown the Dal quintette jumped into the lead in the first quarter coring 20 points to 3 for the Tech men. Playing an unusual defensive game the men of the Blue and White hoped to stop the Dal squad but found out much to their dismay that their type of defensive play sharpened the basket-starved eyes of the Dal men. Led by the big Freshman Mike MacDonald the team continued to give Tech one of its worst defets. Mike, Fraser Mooney and Scott Henderson tickled the twines most often garnering 17 of the twenty points in the first quarter with Chuck Connelly picking up the remaining 3. In the second quarter the picture was slightly brighter for Tech as Dal only scored twice as many points as their aggregation, 13 points to 6. Tech divided their point spread scoring 9 points in the first half, 9 in the second. Dal, however, did not quite split their scoring racking up 33 points in the first half and 38 in the second.

Notes—
An unusual game in many ways, it could be called dull in comparison with other games played in Gym this year . . . Doug Clancy became the proud possessor of a milkshake for scoring a foul shooting percentage of 1.000.

BIG GAME SATURDAY

The Dalhousie Hockey Tigers will meet the hockey team from Nova Technical College at the Memorial Rink Saturday afternoon at 2.30. Dalhousie suffered its first defeat Tuesday at the hands of the Fairview Aces and will be out to move back into tie top position. Tech is now in 5th position in the North West Arm League will have the two ex-St. F. X. players, Bowes and Centa in action when they meet the Tigers Saturday.

Arts and Science dropped to the cellar and Law took over first place in the Inter Fac Hockey League Tuesday noon due to Law's 3-2 win over the Arst and Science boys.

Patty MacLean was the big factor in the Law triumph with two goals. "Whitey" Lane was the other Law marksman. George Clark and Andy Sim split the losers' pair of tallies.

The game was the roughest seen in the loop yet this season and two Arts and Science players required medical aid. Herbie Dickey and Dave Bryson had to be taken to the Students' Health Clinic to receive stitches.

A team representing Pinehill residence dropped the Engineers hockey squad by a 5-3 count last Friday afternoon at the local rink.

Med-Dents, sprinkled with former Acadia University stars, climbed into first place tie with Law Tuesday night as they ran roughshod over Pharmacy to rack up a 9-0 victory.

Eddie Lund played a standout game to pick up the first shutout of the season.

Despite numerous penalties, Commerce coasted to their initial win in the Inter Fac Hockey League Thursday noon, as they trampled Pinehill by a score of 9-1.

The Millionaires played stand-out hockey throughout the game, and contradicting the score, it was one of the better games of the young season. All the scoring came within the last two periods.

Doug Wade scored twice for the Moneymen with the other seven goals going to Mal Young, Don Shatford, Jack Hills, Gordon McMurty, Warren Pendleton, Newt Demers and Bliss "The Blister" Leslie.

This week there has been a notice on the gym bulletin board asking all girls who would like to play badminton at Shearwater, to sign their names. Shearwater has invited Dal badminton players to play their players at the Shearwater gym on Wednesday, January 23. So far, only six girls have signified their interest. It is hoped, however, that a team of about twelve girls will be able to go. If you are interested in playing on the Dal team, this competition is very good experience and practice, and you are urged to take part.

As you know, the Dal team, which will represent Dal in the intercollegiate meet, is to be chosen from the results of the Dal Badminton Tournament. It has been arranged that this tournament will take place in the gym on Monday and Tuesday night, February 11 and 12. As yet, Miss Rowley has not heard when and where the intercollegiate tournament is to be held. It is expected, however, that it will be during the last week in February. Girls who are interested in badminton, do get out and practice. Dal has won the intercollegiate meet the last few years, and although the boys won't be playing this year, it is hoped that the girls can establish a good record.

Plans for a Round Robin in the girls' hockey are now being made by the executive of the DGAC. Mt. Allison, Acadia, and Dal are expected to enter teams. The date for these hockey games is Saturday afternoon, February 23. The Dal team is practicing for this meet every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. Coach Jardine is hoping the girls can maintain their undefeated record of last year. More girls, however, are needed to come and practice for the team.

Hockey Squad Defeated 4-3

The Dalhousie Hockey Tigers went down to defeat at the hands of Fairview Aces in the Dalhousie Memorial Rink Tuesday night 4-3, their first defeat of the season. In a ragged game the Aces came from behind to nip the winning streak of the Tigers at six games, four wins and two ties.

The feature of the game was the goal scored by ex-senior player 'Pud' Reardon at the 18:59 mark of the final period. Scoring unassisted Reardon manipulated the puck through the whole Dal team before potting the puck behind Barry Sullivan. Frankie Redmond, making his initial appearance with the Fairview aggregation scored the other three of his teams goals ably assisted by 'Pud' Reardon. All the goals scored by the Fairview squad were scored when the Dal team was shorthanded and the third goal was scored when Dal had two pucksters sitting in the 'sin bin'. Of the 11 penalties handed out by Charlie Copus and Laurie Power, Dal received the nod on eight of them. The Dal marksman in the losing cause were 'Lick' MacDonald, Al Stewart from Ted LeBlanc and Reg Beaver. As usual the fans were not noticeably in attendance, except for the Sheriff Hall gang.
