Dear Elizabeth,

I wish to thank you for your invitation to give a lecture on cooperation with international institutions in ocean management at your forthcoming summer training course. Unfortunately, the date you suggest coincides with our World Fisheries Conference (27 June - 6 July) and you can imagine that I will be rather busy during that period. This will also be the case for most of the staff of the Fisheries Department.

The workload will be somewhat lighter after the Conference and, if you wish, I could release Mr. M. Savini, Liaison Officer (International institutions) to deliver the proposed and related lectures during the fifth week of your programme (16-20 July).

With best regards,

Yours sincerely,

Dear Dr. Borgese,

Many thanks for your letter of 15.2.84 and the enclosed information on IOI.

It would have been good to send a Capeverdian participant to Halifax this year since this time funding is not a problem but language limitation prevents it. As such, we will be waiting for some of your other programmes, in French, in the future. Senegal would of course be a good choice for us.

In my case kindly keep me informed about IOI activities; if at all possible please include our project on your mailing list.

With all good wishes,

Sincerly yours,

Dear Professor Mann Borgese,

This is a short note to inform you that Professor Arvid Pardo's name for the Paul Hoffman Award was, after all, not submitted by the Department due to differences of opinion on the candidates. I regret this decision and hope that I shall have better success next year when I will repeat my request for him to be proposed for the Award.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for the background information which you kindly provided, which will be very useful for next year's proposal.

Dear Jean:

FAO has been splendidly cooperating with our Training Programme: so has IOC, IMO, UNEP, UNCTAD, ILO, UNDP. So we feel the time has come to make this cooperation a bit more systematic, less ad hoc, more long-term.

To discuss this possibility, we are organizing a workshop in Dubrovnik on April 29-30, which will be attended by the members of our two Governing Bodies and representatives of all the agencies engaged in marine activities. We want to make sure that our programme fits in with, and usefully complements their own sectorial activities, and we want to benefit as much as possible from their expertise in various sectors, using their staff members as lecturers and discussion leaders. We also would like to see whether each of them could perhaps assume the responsibility for one or two scholarships for each programme (IOC, UNEP, UNESCO, UNDP, and FAO have already giving us many scholarships). If this could be put, so to speak, on an automatic basis for the next three years, it would alleviate the rather backbreaking burden of raising all these funds and allow us to consolidate the programme and improve it.

Since you have been with us from the very beginning and are familiar with our work, it would be splendid if you yourself could come to this workshop. Is it possible? Please let me know as quickly as possible.

I am enclosing a poster describing this year's programme -- together with a project outline for a "Open-IOI Programme," linked to the Training Programme, which we plan to initiate this summer.

I hope FAO will be as cooperative as in the past. We got good people through you, and they got a lot out of the course.

I am enclosing copy of my letter to Mr. Kojima -- I really don't know who is handling this matter, now that Ken Lucas is gone.

Dear Mr. Kojima:

I am really sorry we caused you so much trouble. I fully realize that it was not your fault, and that once an error had been committed somewhere along the line, it was impossible to redress it.

But, as I cabled you, we have now received also the second scholarship, and all is well that ends well.

I am enclosing herewith our programme for 1982. It will be a good programme, and I fervently hope, FAO/UNDP will again send us a good number of participants.

In the Class A programme (EEZ) we intend to complement the basic, interdisciplinary course work with an optional crash course in fishing and aquaculture technology, or oil drilling technology, or marine geology. This is an experiment. Participants will have to work even harder than in the previous courses. But we do have this kind of infrastructure here, and why not use it.

June 21, 1981.

Mr. Kojima
FAO
Terme di Caracalla
Rome, Italy.

Dear Mr. Kojima:

Thank you for your cable, dated June 9, of which I am enclosing a copy.

In reply I cabled that Miss Ching Kim Looi of Malaysia cancelled her participation in the programme at the last moment. However, we now have Mr. Anton Reginald Atapattu of Sri Lanka with us.

Originally, the Government of Sri Lanka informed us that Mr. Atapattu was to receive a FAO scholarship -- which would have helped us greatly as we are running this programme at considerable sacrifice.

As it turned out, no scholarship was available. We accepted Mr. Atapattu in any case: He is a fisheries officer, and highly qualified, with a degree from the University of Sri Lanka and one from the Institute for Fisheries Education in Bombay. We are glad to have him with us.

Now I wonder whether the Malaysian scholarship could possibly be transferred to Mr. Atapattu? Since the funds had already been made available, I would hope that this should be possible. If it were necessary for the Government of Sri Lanka to submit a new application for Mr. Atapattu, I am sure they would be glad to do so upon our request.

We have accepted three Indians for the programme. Two of them (including Mr. Das) are Government officials, one is a University Professor.

Originally we were told that the Indian Government would pay for the transatlantic air fare of the two Government officials, while we would have to pay for the air fare of the University Professor (Ms.Puri) as well as the scholarships for all three. Considering the quality of the applicants and our relations with the Government of India, we were glad to accept this arrangement.

It turned out later that the Government did not pay for the trip of Mr. Das. Is it possible that there was some misunderstanding between FAO and the Government of India regarding this point?

In any case, I am enclosing invoices for the scholarships of Mr. Das and Mr. Atapattu as well as the receipts for their air fares. I leave it to you, how much of this you can pay us. The cooperation of FAO is for us as much of as moral encouragement as it is financial help, in what I really think is a pioneering effort. In general, the response we are getting is indeed heartening, and we are gratified with the development of the programme.

Thanking you for your cooperation,

Sincerely yours,

Dear Elisabeth,

Thank you for your invitation to contribute a paper on FAO's EEZ Programme - our Programme of Assistance in the Development and Management of Fisheries in Exclusive Economic Zones - to the Ocean Yearbook. I read with some admiration the contribution of Peter Thacher and Nikki Meith. I was delighted to find due acknowledgement to FAO's work in support of UNEP's Regional Seas Programme.

We might find it a little difficult to make such a lengthy contribution because the EEZ Programme has only recently been launched, but, of course, the Fisheries Department's efforts in this area pre-date the programme, even the current UNCLOS meetings. Certainly, I am sure we have a story worth telling and could provide a contribution that will have value both as a reference source and as a narrative on the emergence of a new order in world fisheries.

Because of pressure of work, I would have to join with another author. I have sounded out Tony Loftas, the founding editor of Marine Policy, who has been quite heavily involved in information work associated with our EEZ Programme. He is willing to co-author the piece, but unfortunately he, like me, has a rather heavy schedule of work over the next few months. The July deadline indicated in your letter seems to be a tentative one. Could we settle for a firm delivery date of 12th September this year? This will give Tony and me time for discussions and should provide ample opportunity for revision: I see this as being the definitive statement on the EEZ Programme thus far and as such will involve pulling together a lot of information not previously collated in this way.

I have written to you separately on the workshop.

Please let me know if the above arrangement is acceptable. If the deadline is too tight, perhaps you could suggest an alternative one.

I look forward to hearing from you.

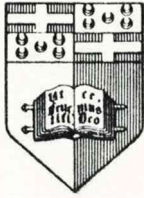

My best wishes.

If possible it would be very nice if you could send a copy also to me. I will be back in Halifax during the first days of September. So you could send it here.

Am going to Malta to wind up our first training programme.

As to "Class B" I have a number of acceptances from teachers; I just got three more scholarships ($24,000) from the General Service Foundation in the US -- and we have ten applicants thus far.

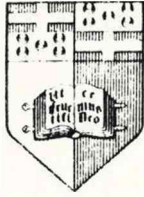

So I am very anxious to get things into final shape as quickly as possible.

Dear Ken:

Thanks for your letter of May 14 which took rather long to reach me here.

I certainly would be happy to have Tony Loftas co-author the piece with you. I know and highly esteem his writings.

As for the date, we have two options: If we want to include the piece in Volume III, as I hope we would, then September is definitely too late. The official deadline is June! I think we can stretch it to August -- but no further. I realize the constraints at your end, and certainly we would want this to be an important and representative and authoritative piece. So, if you could not meet the August deadline, we would have to move the piece to Volume IV. I always hate to do that, because, who knows whether we'll all be alive and kicking at that time. Besides it seems to me that your admirable programme points to developments way beyond the Law of the Sea Conference, and we need such pointers right now: the sooner the better.

So please let me know as soon as possible.

I am looking forward to receiving your letter on the training programme. We have to move rather quickly on this.

It is good to be back at Sambro (Halifax).

Dear Ken:

Enclosed please find

(1) a small brochure, which we sent to the Governments of all developing countries. We also have written letters to all the teachers listed in the Annex to our Workshop Report. So now I am waiting to hear from you about FAO's role in the programme. We need your help in fleshing out the fisheries sector; we hope you will provide a couple of teachers; and we hope you will mobilize a few participants. With regard to teachers, you remember from the Workshop report (paragraph 19), that it was suggested that E. Akyuz, of the Fisheries Department of FAO, be invited to lecture on access to data and information. He could demonstrate the computer terminal which, by telephone can interrogate files in fifteen countries. The system could be used throughout the course for information retrieval.

Do you think you could arrange that? It would be tremendously helpful.

(2) a provisional agenda for Pacem in Maribus X, which will take place in Ljubljana on October 27-30. We would be very very happy if you could come. We would like you to prepare a paper on monitoring and surveillance in the management of living resources. Would that be too much trouble? The papers will be published in the Ocean Yearbook.

I would be very grateful if you could let me know as soon as possible so that we can finalize the programme.

With all good wishes,

Cordially yours,

Dear Mrs. Mann Borgese,

Further to Ken Lucas' recent letter to you regarding my participation in your next EEZ training programme, this is to let you know that I'm booked on Air Canada 861 on Thursday, 30 July, arriving Halifax 15.35 hours. If it's possible for someone to meet me at the airport, that would be much appreciated. If not, perhaps we could arrange for me to meet one of your staff later that day to get more personally into the picture and discuss the arrangements for the following day. I'd also be grateful if you could kindly reserve me accommodation at a convenient hotel for the nights of Thursday 30 July and Friday 31 July. Much to my regret, my trip to Nova Scotia will have to be a short one; I'm booked to return, via London, on AC 860 the night of Saturday, 1 August.

The package of EEZ Programme information kits and other documents will be despatched to you within the next few days, for distribution to the trainees at the conclusion of the lecture and discussion. I'm looking forward to receiving from you the material requested in Ken Lucas' letter.

It also goes without saying that I'm looking forward very much to participating in your Programme and to meeting you and your colleagues and trainees.

Dear Elizabeth,

Thank you for your 'phone call on the 22nd May regarding IOI's next EEZ training programme. I'm sorry I was not on hand to speak to you personally but I was pleased to receive the message that you'll be happy to have John Naylor address your trainees, in my stead, on 31 July. John has worked very closely with Jean Carroz and me during these last few years on policy matters and in particular upon the design, planning and coordination of our EEZ Programme.

I note from your telex to the Director-General on 11 May that you would like the FAO representative to address the subject of the role of the (UN) specialised agencies in assisting developing coastal states (in EEZ fisheries development and management) and in fostering regional collaboration and then to lead discussion on these topics.

I'm sure you will agree that it would not really be appropriate for one such agency (FAO) to go into great detail about the activities of all the other specialised agencies in the UN System. Thus, whilst John will, of course, review in general terms the function and responsibilities of the various organisations in the UN System so far as fisheries is concerned, he will deal most fully with the role of FAO itself in this respect, in particular on policies and practices regarding regional co-operation in fisheries. We assume you will be looking for a lecture of around one hour, followed by a discussion session of about the same period.

We'll send ahead of John's arrival, a package of the new version of our EEZ Programme information kits, plus other relevant documents. Please hold these for distribution after the lecture - there's nothing more irritating to a lecturer than participants rifling through reference material whilst he's actually speaking and seeking their attention!

Incidentally, it would be helpful at this end, if you could kindly send to John Naylor, material describing the detailed programme of your Dalhousie course, together with a list of lectures and lecturers and of the trainees. The course text written by your 1980 Class B Programme participants would also be of interest.

One final point. Michel Pedini, who lectured on aquaculture at your October 1980 Malta course, reported back that he had been informed that you had bilateral and other sponsors (CIDA ?) for your programmes and that funds were available to finance the expenses of invited lecturers. I saw no reason to request reimbursement of Pedini's relatively modest expenses to Malta but I would be pleased to know whether you could cover, in whole or in part, the much greater costs of sending a lecturer over to Halifax. The FAO budgeting situation is very tight now and I would much appreciate any initiatives you could take in this respect.

The above matter apart, from here on I'll leave you to finalise further practical arrangements direct with John Naylor, who undoubtedly will be contacting you shortly re flight arrival times, hotel accommodation etc.

A full list of available publications, documents, reports (especially reports of training workshops and seminars) etc. can be provided. I would be pleased to forward any document on request.

- Teaching material

A catalogue of available material (films, film strips, photographs, etc.) could also be provided.

- Lecturers

If it is deemed desirable, I would be prepared to suggest to the Assistant Director-General (Fisheries) that FAO should consider making one or two staff members available as lecturers for short periods (mariculture, fishery management, fishery institutions, licensing agreements and joint ventures, etc.).

Dear Elisabeth,

I have just received your letter inviting me to participate in the informal inter-Agency consultations on possible joint support to IOI training courses, which has now been rescheduled for 19 and 20 December 1983 in Paris. Most likely I shall be in the Philippines, heading an FAO mission, at that time, but I will see to it that someone from the Fisheries Department attends, and will send you the name shortly.

Many thanks for your congratulations on my new appointment. Your kind words are much appreciated.

With best personal regards.

Dear Mr. Charbonnier:

On behalf of the International Ocean Institute, I should like to invite you to participate in Pacem in Maribus IX, an international conference on marine resources, ocean management, and African development strategy, to be held in Yaounde from January 18 to 22, 1979.

Enclosed is a provisional agenda for the conference as well as some information about the International Ocean Institute. We hope you will be able to be with us on what appears to be a rather unique occasion for a constructive contribution at a crucial time in a crucial area.

Please let us know as soon as possible if you will be able to attend. We shall send you detailed information about logistics, including hotel reservations, at a later date.

With all good wishes,

Sincerely yours,

Dear Ms. Borgese,

Thank you for your letter of 17 May 1977 in which you describe briefly the plans of your Institute to publish, with the assistance of the University of Chicago Press, an annual Ocean Yearbook. I note that one of the three parts of each of your Yearbooks will present statistical tables, some of which will be concerned with the use of the ocean for food production. With regard to these tables, you mention that you would like to have our assistance in supplying, even before we issue the two annually published FAO Yearbooks of Fishery Statistics, summary tables presenting up-to-date data on catches, commodity production and trade.

My staff have reviewed the situation and have indicated that such summaries are not available until shortly before the publication of the Yearbooks of Fishery Statistics. It appears that within a week or so of receiving the up-to-date computer-printed tabulations, we send these off to the printers and then only a few weeks are necessary for the external printers to deliver copies of the Yearbooks to us. No time would be lost if you await the arrival of an airmailed copy of the Yearbook which we could send you in advance and then you can extract the data from this publication.

I feel that it would be useful to clarify our position by providing you with a brief description of the availability of timely data in the Department, which is given below.

At the beginning of each calendar year we receive, by letter or cable, total catch figures, without any breakdown from some member countries. These preliminary figures enable us to make estimates concerning the world total catch by March for the preceding calendar year. These figures are all subject to revision, however.

During the first quarter of each year we send out questionnaires requesting detailed figures which often also remain provisional but in some cases are final. These requests are sent to about 80 percent of the 240 reporting countries, territories, etc. in the world. We do not receive responses or replies from

Ms. E. Mann Borgese
Chairman, Planning Council
Box 4716
Santa Barbara
California 93103
USA

many small countries and even some large ones and we have to make estimates for these countries and feed these into the computer. Most of the large fishing countries supply us with data by the middle of the year. However, Japan can only do so by October. Because of Japan's importance we cannot prepare any adequate summaries until we receive their figures. Within a week of receiving the Japanese data the figures are fed into the computer and we can then obtain the print-outs which we use immediately for prompt despatch to the external printers. Our cut-off date is therefore the arrival of the Japanese data and we do not delay the publication to await the arrival of data from any of the smaller countries which have not yet reported by that time. You will therefore notice that there is no time-lag between the availability to us of the final figures and the despatch of the manuscripts to the printers.

In these circumstances I think it will be best, for the quality of your own production, if you await the release of our data and we will make sure that there is no delay in sending you copies of the Yearbook of Fishery Statistics.

I should also like to point out that the above remarks apply to the Catches and Landings Volume of the Yearbook which is generally available in December and which covers the statistical time series up to the preceding calendar year. The Fishery Commodity Volume is published a month or two later and these statistics can be made available in January or February of the following year, i.e. in January 1978 we would be in a position to give you the commodities series up to and including 1976. In November or December 1977 you will have the catch statistics up to and including 1976.

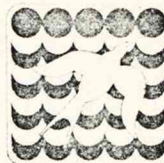

One other solution, of course, would be for you to print the tables that you wish to publish and provide us with tear sheets. We will then be able to add in the last blank column the data available to us and shown in the tables we have submitted to the printers. This is the procedure we follow in the case of other Yearbooks, published by the UN Statistical Office and other UN Agencies.

I note that you suggest that Dr. S. Holt could establish an appropriate format and I will be asking him to discuss this with Mr. L. P. D. Gertenbach, the Editor of our Yearbooks of Fishery Statistics, to establish a tabular lay-out which we could up-date immediately our manuscripts have been sent to the printers.

Yours sincerely,

H. Watzinger

AUG. 8 1977

Dear Mrs. Borgese,

Thank you for your letter of 13 July. Sidney mailed to Prof. Ginsburg a few days ago his contribution to the "Ocean Yearbook" containing statistical tables up to 1975. This article for the first Yearbook reviews in detail the last five years of development and therefore establishes a baseline for chapters in future issues. There is thus now plenty of time to establish a format along the lines we have agreed.

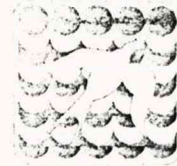

There is, however, a problem of timing. We shall normally not have ready the statistical data in less than 9 or 10 months after the end of a calendar year. Thus we still await submissions from important fishing countries relating to 1976 catches. Other kinds of data arrive later still. The editors of the Yearbook might find similar difficulties regarding other types of ocean use statistics. I suggest, therefore, that in considering the regular schedule to be established in the future, account should be taken of the real time lags in data collection, so that either the deadline be established at, say, October rather than June as it was for this first volume, or you could set it at the same time, or even earlier as far as we are concerned, about April-May, and include statistics up to the beginning of the previous calendar year.

It would be possible, in this latter case, to include provisional figures for the previous year, as I said in my letter of 21 June. There is a difficulty, however, in that in those figures we cannot, at present, distinguish marine from freshwater catches, and their inclusion could therefore be rather misleading. We may be able to improve this situation during the coming year, and we will keep in touch with you about this.

Yours sincerely,

Thank you for your kind letter of 8 July inviting me to attend PACEM IN MARIBUS VII, and for your letter to Mr. Silva of 8 September on the same subject.

I am sorry I have not replied earlier, but I have been awaiting a decision regarding FAO representation. This has now been decided and, as Mr. Crane has already advised you, Mr. L. I. J. Silva, Assistant to Assistant Director-General (Fisheries) will represent FAO and consequently, also the Department of Fisheries.

It has been further agreed that Dr. Holt will attend the meeting in his personal capacity, but unfortunately, I will not be able to participate on this occasion. May I take this opportunity, however, to wish you an enjoyable and interesting meeting. Thank you again for inviting me.

Dear Mr. Silva:

Thank you for your letter which was read to me over the telephone in New York where I am attending the Law of the Sea Conference.

I am sorry an error was committed in listing Dr. Holt and Dr. Kesteven as FAO. This was merely for identification. It did not apply that they were officially representing FAO. The program you saw, furthermore, was a provisional and unpublished document. We shall certainly take care of deleting reference to FAO in the official and final program.

At any rate, I thank you for having brought this to my attention. We do hope it will be possible for Mr. Watzinger to attend.

Dear Mrs. Mann Borgese,

You have been kind enough to write to Mr. Watzinger of this Department about your forthcoming Algiers meeting and have expressed the hope that he will attend in a personal capacity.

As you may know, participation of an FAO staff member in such activities requires the approval of the Director-General and Mr. Watzinger has, therefore, referred your letter of 8 July and enclosures to Mr. Popper. Consideration will be given to this matter shortly but, meanwhile, I notice in the prospectus sent with your letter that, in the programme for October 26 under item II, Dr. Sidney Holt (who is a staff member of FAO) is selected to present technical comments of twenty minutes duration on the subject of the Economy of Living Resources. Dr. Holt is away from Headquarters at present, so I do not know on what basis his name has been included in your programme, but meanwhile I should, I think, point out that it is by no means certain that he will receive the necessary authorization for participation. Also, in the programme for October 28, there is an entry "Rapporteur: Dr. Geoffrey Kesteven, FAO". Should Dr. Kesteven be on the staff of FAO next October the same remarks as are made above about Dr. Holt would apply. If not, the designation "FAO" should, of course, be deleted.

I hope to write to you again, when a decision on Mr. Watzinger's participation has been reached.

Mr. E. Saouma
Director General

Dear Mr. Saouma:

On the kind invitation of the Algerian authorities, the International Ocean Institute is organizing Pacem in Maribus VII in Algeria from October 25 to 28, 1976, on "The New International Economic Order and the Law of the Sea." The meeting will be held partly concurrently, partly jointly, with a Special Meeting of the Club of Rome on the New International Order. The main background paper for the joint conference will be the RIO (reshaping the international order) Report, drafted under the chairmanship of Professor Jan Tinbergen. The main background paper for Pacem in Maribus will be a study, The New International Economic Order and the Law of the Sea, revised edition, by Arvid Pardo and Elisabeth Mann Borgese.

The reasons for holding Pacem in Maribus VII in conjunction with the Special Meeting of the Club of Rome and the RIO project are twofold. On the one hand, the study on the new international economic order and the law of the sea developed out of the RIO project and is an integral part of it, applying many of the RIO proposals in the specific area of ocean management. On the other hand, the results of the last session of the U.N. Law of the Sea Conference must now be further developed and inserted in the general attempt to build a new international economic order. The Algerian conference on the RIO project offers a first, and exemplary, opportunity to demonstrate this juncture.

The meetings will consist of eight sessions. The first three will be held jointly with the Club of Rome. They will be devoted to the general topic: "Concepts and finalities of the new international order." On the afternoon of October 26th, Pacem in Maribus will go into special sessions. One further joint working session with the Club of Rome will take place on the afternoon of the 27th, when an attempt will be made to consider the problems of ocean management in the broader context. On the morning of October 28th, Pacem in Maribus will divide into working groups, responsible for drafting reports. The afternoon of the 28th will be dedicated to the closing of discussions and a press conference. A detailed agenda and flow chart are enclosed.

The meeting will convene in the beautiful Club des Pins, about 20 kilometers from Algiers, which offers an ideal setting for such an event. Participants will be lodged in the nearby hotel which can accommodate all of them. Buses will shuttle participants to and from the meeting place.

Whatever their official positions, all participants will attend the meeting in a personal capacity. The meeting will be informal, both in spirit and organization and with respect to attire. It is aimed at fostering personal acquaintance, constructive exchanges of views, mutual understanding, as well as at indicating some feasible steps along a possible road to a more satisfactory world order, including the oceans.

Round-trip, economy-class air tickets for participants who cannot charge them to another organization and hospitality in Algeria will be provided by the Algerian sponsors of the meeting. You should inform yourself at the nearest Algerian Consulate whether or not you need a visa to come to Algeria. Visas to participants of the Algiers conference will be issued without delay. Should there be no Algerian Consulate in your vicinity, or should you be unable to obtain a visa in advance, please advise me or my assistant, Mrs. Jean Muller. We shall then arrange to have your visa issued at the Algiers airport.

A logistic nucleus is being created in Algiers to take care of all questions related to travel arrangements, hospitality and other needs or wishes participants may have in Algeria -- contacts with Algerian institutions or personalities, visits to other parts of the country, etc. Questions regarding such arrangements should be addressed to the office of M. Idriss Jazairy, Presidence de la Republique, Alger, Algeria. For any other information, kindly address yourself to my office. Throughout the meeting (except the working group sessions on the morning of the 28th), simultaneous translation will be available from English, French, Spanish and Arabic into French and English.

Please send your confirmation as quickly as possible to Pacem in Maribus VII, P.O. Box 4716, Santa Barbara, California 93103 USA.

We very much hope that it will be possible for you to attend personally. As you will see from the enclosed provisional agenda, Pacem in Maribus VII is an event of particular international importance.

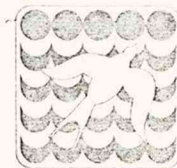

Should it not be possible for you to attend personally, we would be grateful if you would designate a representative.

With best wishes,

Yours sincerely,

Elisabeth Mann Borgese
