

Medford, Oregon, Box 561,
July 29 - 1942.

Dear Mr. Roddall:

I have wondered every since I read your "Blind McNair" if the long list of songs mentioned in the story are real or ficticious; will you please write ~~me~~ and let me know. If they are real I would like to get them, if not, I'll forget about them. Have written all over the U.S. to get a copy of the Post which contained the story, did not succeed so went to the library the other night and had the clerk look it up. We read "Blind McNair" and then lost our copy but did not forget the story, so please put us out of our misery re the songs. Have written the Post twice now to get your address but they would only consent to forwarding a letter. Please reply by return.

Very truly yours,

(Mrs) Grace Bartley

*Ans'd
Aug 30/42*