Miss Jessie I. Lawson,
Editor, "The Educational Review",
14 DeMonts Street,
Saint John West, N. B.

Dear Miss Lawson:

I learned just this morning that very important business, which calls me out of the country, will prevent my attending the Teachers' Institute on June 29. I have just written to Mr. Wetmore about it.

In consequence, I cannot comply with your request; otherwise it would have given me great pleasure to do so.

Yours sincerely,

CS/LH.

President.

N.B. Pres. was able to attend N. B. Teachers Assoc. meeting after all. Sent material to Miss Lawson when passing through St. John

Pres. Carleton Stanley,
Dalhousie University,
Halifax, N.S.

Dear Dr. Stanley,

As Editor of "The Educational Review" I am reporting the addresses to be given at the New Brunswick Teachers' Institute for "The Telegraph-Journal".

Could you let me have a copy of your address in advance? We are anxious to have this part of the newspaper copy prepared next week.

If you have not an extra copy I will guarantee to return your copy, if you will be good enough to loan it to me - either to Halifax, or to you at Fredericton, as you prefer.

Very sincerely yours,

Jessie I. Lawson
