Dear Mr. Raddall:

CANADIAN DIGEST wishes to request your permission to reprint two or three of the short stories from "The Pied Piper of Dipper Creek" in the book section of a future issue. We have written your publishers, Wm. Blackwood & Sons, who state that they have no objection to this and they have referred us to you for final approval.

Our magazine is a new all-Canadian publication--the fourth issue will be appearing in about two weeks. It is designed to promote mutual understanding and to make a contribution to national unity. We also aim to acquaint Canadians with their own outstanding writers and literary works. Since we are just getting started we regret that we are unable to pay for second rights.

We are sending you a sample copy of our June issue under separate cover and hope that you will find it worthwhile.

We will be looking forward to hearing from you.

Cordially yours,

Carol McDonald

Canadian Digest.

Dear Miss McDonald,

I have your letter of June 8th. and am willing to let your magazine use without charge two or three stories from the "Pied Piper of Dipper Creek" with the following provisions:-

- (a) Permission is granted for one issue of each story only. That is to say, the tales may not be used again without further permission.
- (b) The permission is not transferable.
- (c) Each magazine issue should make clear that "The Pied Piper of Dipper Creek" is published in Great Britain by William Blackwood & Sons Ltd., and in Canada by McClelland & Stewart Ltd.

Sincerely,

Canadian Digest
