Dear Sirs:

I have been absent from the country, and just come now to your correspondence and telegram, asking for an article for the Christmas edition.

It seems now quite too late to send you anything. But perhaps on another occasion, with longer warning, you will give me the same opportunity, and I shall be glad to avail myself of it.

There are certain things in the City of Saint John - the Vocational School, the new High School, the Museum, the Library, and your magnificent hospital, - which place Saint John in the van among Maritime cities. Saint John is to be congratulated on these things.

With best Christmas wishes,

Yours sincerely,

CS/LH.

President.

Dear Sir:-

Thank you for your letter of December 22.

It is customary for our newspapers to give the advertising colleges in our Christmas section a good news story or article. As you did not have one in our edition of December 16, we shall consider that we owe you a story and will publish same at some future time, when convenient to yourself.

Thank you for your season's wishes, which we heartily reciprocate.

Yours very truly,

THE TELEGRAPH-JOURNAL
THE EVENING TIMES-GLOBE

Advertising Manager.
