

CUSTOMERS VISITED BUSINESS ADDRESS REMARKS

Stellarton 1¹⁰ A.M.

My Own Little Girl: Guess you'll be rather surprised to hear from me from Stellarton - to tell you the truth I'm surprised myself. Well to begin with I didn't hear the alarm clock go off this morning so naturally missed the train. Came up here on the afternoon train & went through to New Glasgow thinking I might do a little work around there & then go to Pictou & take the boat across tomorrow afternoon instead of today. I just got in the hotel at New Glasgow when I saw a notice stuck up saying that the boat would leave Pictou at 7 A.M. on Wednesday instead of in the afternoon. There were no more trains tonight so I caught the last train car from N.G. to this bug. Am now getting in a special that will be leaving here for Pictou sometime tonight, Heaven knows when.

Was thinking of writing you up this morning at the office, but decided not to. I had said good bye & I hate to have anyone see you around town after I have said I was going away. Didn't even want to go home to dinner but made up my mind & went after a while.

I suppose fully is over to you place tonight. I know you'd rather it was someone else though (Concise again)

See I felt blue coming up in the train today. It wouldn't be so bad if I didn't have to think about being away for those Saturdays & Sundays. I dread the thought of it that's straight.

Don't know if you'll be able to make the out or out. I'm hurrying to get through before the train starts. Also please excuse the paper, it's the only kind I had in my writing case. It's now 1³⁵ A.M. & things are beginning to live up over somewhat, so I guess we are about to pull up. Thank Heaven.

P.S. Have had to go right aboard ship or cannot mail this until I arrive in Clifton. You probably won't receive this until Friday & I had intended getting one to you for Thursday, but you see it isn't my fault.
Will ship another line in with the when I arrive & address it to the office so that you'll get it first thing in the morning.

Love & lots of it
