Dear Mr. Raddall:

Thank you very much for honouring our request to make use of the words of the Rover Privateer as the "House Song" of the Privateers' Warehouse, in Historic Properties, Halifax.

We will ensure that your name is credited with their use, and in the event of any printed song sheets.

We would be most happy to show you around the restoration project and to drop in for a bite to eat at the Privateers' Warehouse when you next visit Halifax. Please call us collect so that we can ensure our availability (429-0563).

In the meantime, best wishes for your up-coming film on the "Rover".

Yours sincerely,

James O'Hagan

Dear Mr. Raddall;

James O'Hagan, of Public & Industrial Relations Limited has just copied to us his letter of September 10th in which he acknowledges your permission for us to use the words of the ROVER PRIVATEER as the "HOUSE SONG" of the PRIVATEERS' WAREHOUSE.

My partners Michel Lindthaler and David Forsyth and I are indeed grateful. We feel this will make an important contribution to our efforts to create the PRIVATEERS' WAREHOUSE as a living monument to the colourful past of Nova Scotia.

Personally, I have long been an admirer of yours and enjoy very much your use of the Historical Novel in leaving me a sense of being Nova Scotian. My ancestor Simon Giffin established, in 1755, a rum and molasses business on the waterfront at the foot of what is now Tobin Street. So for me the success of the PRIVATEERS' WAREHOUSE is broader than in merely the business sense.

I hope that if you can come up to Halifax sometime, that you will be able to contact James and that you and he will be our guests at the PRIVATEERS' WAREHOUSE.

Sincerely,

Ken Giffin, C.A.

Heritage Restaurants Ltd.,

Halifax, N.S.

Dear Mr. Giffin:

Thank you for your letter of September 22.

As I told Mr. O'Hagan, your people may use my "Rover" verses, providing that my ownership of the copyright is publicly acknowledged.

I seldom get to Halifax these days but I'll keep your invitation in mind.

Sincerely,
