Dear Mr. Raddall:

Could you give me a clue to your progress on SABLE ISLAND, GRAVEYARD OF THE ATLANTIC which is the third book of our contract? I need to let my associates know just where we are on this project.

My very best personal wishes to you.

Sincerely,

Ken McCormick

Mr. Ken McCormick,
Doubleday & Company, Inc.,
277 Park Avenue, New York.

Dear Ken:

There will be no book from me on Sable
Island, Graveyard of the Atlantic.

When I signed my last contract with your people on April 2, 1963, George Nelson agreed to include a book on this subject because it was something that ought to be done, although obviously it could not attract a wide sale.

Since then I have found another writer working on the same thing, and I was happy to show him the material I had collected and to give him permission to use it.

Thus the 1963 contract is now at an end.
So is my connection with Doubleday.

Sincerely,

October 20, 1969

Mr. Ken McCormick,

Dear Ken:

I should have mentioned, in my letter of August 28, that I wish to refund any money outstanding as an advance on the Sable Island project, which I have dropped.

I cannot find in my file any recent royalty statement on the old three-book contract, so will you have your accounting department inform me how much I owe.

Sincerely,

DOUBLEDAY & COMPANY, INC.
