PRESIDENT KERR TO RETIRE
IN AUGUST

Dr. A. E. Kerr, President of Dalhousie University, submitted his resignation to the November meeting of the Board of Governors, to take effect on August 31, 1963. The appointments for all other members of the university staff terminate at sixty-five unless the university renews them year by year, but the appointment of the president is indefinite as to term, and he may elect to retire at any time after reaching the age mentioned.

Dr. Kerr said that he had given the whole question careful thought and he asked the Board of Governors to relieve him of his duties and to use the intervening time to select a successor. He paid tribute to the present Chairman of the board, Donald McInnes, Q.C., to the late Brigadier Laing who was his contemporary in Dalhousie, and to Colonel Laurie who was Chairman when he came to Dalhousie. Dr. Kerr will have completed eighteen years as President of Dalhousie next August and will be sixty-five during the present session.

During this time the number of students has increased to well over 2,500 with 300 persons attending part time post-graduate courses and institutes, and is growing steadily at the rate of ten per cent per year. Various new faculties, especially the Faculty of Graduate Studies and the Faculty of Health Professions, and also the Institute of Oceanography, have been formed during the period; grants for outside research have grown from practically zero to over $600,000 per year; the endowment funds of the university have increased threefold; the value of buildings has increased over fivefold; and the total annual expenditures of the university, which were $473,000, including scholarships, in 1945-46, now approach the figure of $4,500,000.

The chairman and various members of the board in acceding to Dr. Kerr's request paid tribute to the leadership that he had given Dalhousie, and appointed him on retirement to the newly created honorary post of President Emeritus of the University.

Dr. Kerr said that he and the deans had made plans for the development of the university for the next five years. A campaign for $16,000,000 is proceeding under the chairmanship of Mr. J. E. Richardson and by the end of next summer it is expected to have made substantial progress. Dr. Kerr said that the future of the university was now exceedingly bright and this seemed a very good time for him to ask the university to relieve him of his duties.

Dr. Kerr was born in Louisbourg, Cape Breton. During the latter part of World War I he enlisted and went overseas with the Royal Air Force. After his return he graduated from Dalhousie in arts, and then from Pine Hill in theology. He was ordained to the Christian ministry in 1921. He subsequently went to Union Seminary, New York, where he received his degree of Bachelor of Divinity, magna cum laude.

He served the church for short times in Sydney and in Montreal, and then accepted pastorates in Vancouver, where he served five years, and Winnipeg, where he served ten. He left Winnipeg to become principal and professor of systematic theology at Pine Hill and after six years in that office was invited in 1945 to become President of Dalhousie.

He holds honorary degrees from many universities in the Maritimes, from Winnipeg and from the University of Glasgow. He was nominated by the Maritime Conference of the Church, the Montreal-Ottawa Conference, the Lon-

J. E. Richardson Named University Fund Chairman

J. Ernest Richardson, President of the Maritime Telegraph & Telephone Co. Ltd., will chair The Dalhousie University Fund for $16,100,000, it was announced today.

Dalhousie's campaign objective and Mr. Richardson's acceptance of the General Chairmanship - the top active leadership post - were announced jointly by Dr. A. E. Kerr, President of the University, and Donald McInnes, Q.C., Chairman of the Board of Governors. They also announced that F. W. Nicks, President of The Bank of Nova Scotia, will act as Honorary Treasurer of the fund.

Mr. Richardson is a Dalhousie graduate, holding degrees in Arts and Law. He is Life President of the Class of 1934.

The Dalhousie University Fund is a national appeal for funds to finance and assist essential expansion at the University during the next five years. In their joint statement, Dr. Kerr and Mr. McInnes said that the $16,100,000 campaign is made necessary by increasing student numbers and the special needs of the Faculties of Medicine, Law, and Graduate Studies.

don Conference, one of the Toronto presbyteries and various other bodies for the moderator-ship of the General Council of the Church during his early years at Dalhousie, but asked to have his name withdrawn.

Asked about his plans he replied that when he finished high school at sixteen years of age, he went to work and has been doing so with the briefest of intervals of leisure ever since. He is now looking forward with anticipation to a period when he and Mrs. Kerr will be free to indulge in their own wishes. He says that they will both miss the refreshing contact with the student body.

Mrs. Kerr is a native of Sydney, Nova Scotia. They have four children: Donald, a lawyer in Halifax; George, a doctor specializing in research in children's diseases; Joyce (Mrs. Hugh Latimer) who is married in Toronto; and Moirs, who is taking a course in education in Toronto University. All his children are graduates of Dalhousie.

A Letter to Alumni

From J. E. Richardson

Dear Fellow Alumnus:

All Dalhousians will share a keen personal interest in the news of the University's appeal for $16,100,000 to finance essential growth over the next five years. It is obvious that we as alumni must assume the leadership and much of the hard work necessary to put the fund "over the top".

Early in the 19th century, George Ramsay, Earl of Dalhousie, wrote in a letter to a friend that the institution for the higher branches of learning which he proposed to found in Halifax, was to have "the power to expand with the growth and development of our society". Clearly the responsibility for giving Dalhousie power to expand at this, society's time of most urgent need, rests primarily with us who have experienced and benefited through the years from the University's excellence.

Circumstances make the raising of funds inescapable. In the next five years alone Dalhousie's fulltime enrollment will climb to 3,500 students. By 1971-72 the number of fulltime students will likely exceed 5,000. If the University's present high standards are to be maintained, such rapid increases must be met with a corresponding expansion of facilities, staff and finances.

We must recognize the particular needs of the faculties of medicine, law and graduate studies for it is here that Dalhousie has attained regional and national prominence. It is a tribute to the character of both teacher and student in each of these faculties that even with inadequate space and facilities a high standard of excellence has been maintained. Now in the face of greater demands for doctors, scientists and other professional people, these insufficiencies must be remedied.

To date, the response of alumni and non-alumni to the challenge of Dalhousie has been gratifying. The management committee of the fund have been hard at work for months and as a result we shall be well organized for the task ahead. The plan of campaign that has been prepared requires literally thousands of volunteers. No possible source of funds can be overlooked.

Shortly you will be asked to assist in Dalhousie's mammoth undertaking. On the basis of the participation thus far, we are confident of your support and through it the success of reaching our goal.

Yours sincerely,

J. ERNEST RICHARDSON

Ph.D. candidate Stephen Baig and a high temperature experiment in Chemistry.

During the last decade Dalhousie, like other major Canadian Universities, has seen its functions and responsibilities expand and multiply. It is now clear that the role of the university in the community will grow even more rapidly in the future than in the past. These interesting and complex developments in the academic body are rarely uniform, but appear as quick growths in one area, then in another, as new functions appear, as new needs are born and as research creates new disciplines for academic study. The last years have seen a notable expansion in graduate studies and research in Dalhousie and across the nation.

The Faculty of Graduate Studies was established at Dalhousie in 1949, under the able leadership of Dean J. H. L. Johnstone. There had been a history of work towards the Masters degree in several departments over the years, so that, at its founding, the Faculty enrolled close to sixty students. The Faculty brought these departments together and began to work systematically at the problem of developing and organizing education in the university beyond the Bachelors degree.

Since graduate degrees, particularly the Ph.D., are largely research degrees, this meant that a research component had to be introduced and developed in the University. Slowly at first, but with increasing momentum through the 1950's, the Faculty gathered the instruments, the space and the scholarships that research in the sciences needs. In 1955 the Ph.D. degree was offered for the first time in the Faculty, the first degree being awarded in 1959 for research and studies in the Biological Sciences. The Institute of Oceanography, founded in 1959, together with the Departments of Chemistry and Physics extended their work to the Ph.D. level in 1960. At the present time work is being done towards the Masters Degree in twenty departments and at the doctoral and post-doctoral level in eight departments and intitutes in the Faculty.

There is no doubt that more than one factor is contributing to the quick growth of graduate education. All, however, relate to the importance of the new professional classes in our society. The industrial development of a nation or a region has characteristically been accompanied by a previous and then concurrent development in the graduate schools for they provide the basic research, the scientists, and, increasingly, the executives and administrators needed to bring these changes about. Rivalries between nations may also have an impact, as can be seen at once from pre and post sputnik trends in research grants and in graduate enrollment. Also, and Halifax is a good example of this, professional research institutions staffed by professional scientists out of the graduate schools are growing rapidly in size and number.

However, though these facts are important and do have their effects on enrollment at Dalhousie, there is no doubt that the single most impelling factor in Graduate Studies today is the imminent shortage of professors. Statistics indicate that the number of students enrolled in Canadian universities will triple by 1970. Even if the buildings to house these students are built the question remains, where will the professors to teach them come from? It is estimated that in Canada a minimum of 23,000 additional professors will have to be found by 1970 to meet these needs. In the Atlantic Provinces, the number would be close to 2,000. This is on the basis of a purely normal rate of growth and makes no allowance for the expanded rate which is indeed expected. In a well informed and interesting speech to the Senate of Canada on October 11th, 1962, Senator Donald Cameron said that, though "Most Canadian Universities today are trying to make the Doctoral degree the minimum pre-requisite for permanent appointment, one university in Canada will require half the Doctoral graduates that the whole of Canada produces in one year to meet its own minimum requirements". Senator Cameron was illustrating the tremendous prospective shortage of people with the kind of training required to teach in universities and to conduct research there.

GRADUATE STUDIES:

Expansion and Development

By DR. WALTER R. TROST
Dean, Faculty of Graduate Studies

ENROLLMENT

The graduate faculty serves as the professional school for the new professions. Students enroll towards Masters or Doctoral degrees that require minimums of respectively one and three years beyond an Honors B.A. or B.Sc. degree. These are twelve month years. In addition, post-doctoral fellows continue their researches in the University for a year or two beyond the Ph.D. degree. Graduate students, therefore, spend from one to five years in the University after winning their first degree. The student receives the broad base to his education in his undergraduate years. In his graduate years, he works to depth in his specialty. He emerges as a professionally trained person who can be called a Biologist or an Economist or a Physicist or a Psychologist or an Oceanographer or whatever his specialty may be.

At Dalhousie, enrollment in the Graduate Faculty stayed roughly steady through the fifties. Then, somewhat later than in the rest of Canada, an upward trend began with 59 students in 1959, 78 in 1960, 99 in 1961 and 166 in 1962. Regional and national statistics indicate enrollments of 300 for 1965 and 500 for 1967. Of the 166 students enrolled in the Graduate Faculty this year, 35% received their Bachelor's degree from Dalhousie, 70% from Atlantic Provinces Universities and 85% from Canadian Universities.

Though each category has increased numerically as the student body grew, by far the largest increase has been in students coming from other Universities in the Atlantic Provinces. This may result from the formation of the Atlantic Provinces Inter-University Committee on the Sciences, in which Dalhousie was assigned and assumed the principal responsibility for Graduate Studies among eight associated universities. It should perhaps also be said that many more students still leave Nova Scotia than enter it for graduate studies.

The breakdown of the enrollment among the Departments is as follows: - Bacteriology, 8; Biochemistry, 9; Biology, 13; Chemistry, 14; Classics, 1; Economics, 8; Education, 7; English, 23; Geology, 8; History, 5; Mathematics, 2; Modern Languages, 4; Oceanography, 15; Philosophy, 3; Physics, 13; Political Science, 5; Psychology, 25; Physiology, 2; Pharmacology, 1. It should perhaps also be mentioned that 32 graduate students are enrolled in engineering at the Nova Scotia Technical College. This brings the total number of graduate students to 198. The two institutions complement each other and fit together at the graduate, as well as the undergraduate level. Doctor's degrees can be obtained in the departments of Bacteriology, Biochemistry, Biology, Chemistry, Physiology, Pharmacology, Psychology, Physics, and in the Institute of Oceanography. Enrollment towards a Ph.D. degree is increasing more rapidly than the total enrollment with 28 students working towards a Ph.D. this year as against eight last year. This is partly due to the fact that each year new departments are taking on this additional and important responsibility as did Psychology this year.

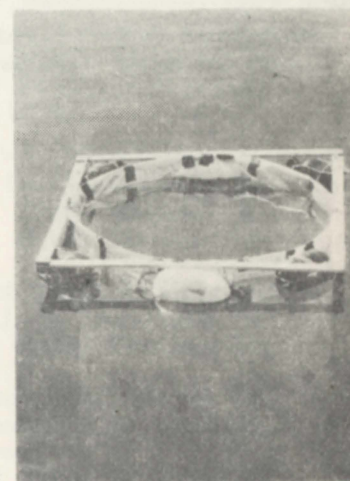

The number of post-doctoral fellows in the Faculty has also increased. This year Dalhousie post-doctoral fellowships were awarded in the Departments of Biology, Geology and Chemistry. These are new awards for the University. Other post-doctoral fellows are supported by awards from the National Research Council. In addition, the Department of Physics has initiated the appointment of Research Associates. The post-doctoral fellows and research associates have received their Ph.D. degrees from other Universities in Canada and abroad. In coming to Dalhousie for one or for two year appointments they not only help along our own research programs, but bring with them the new ideas being developed in other parts of the world.

SCHOLARSHIPS

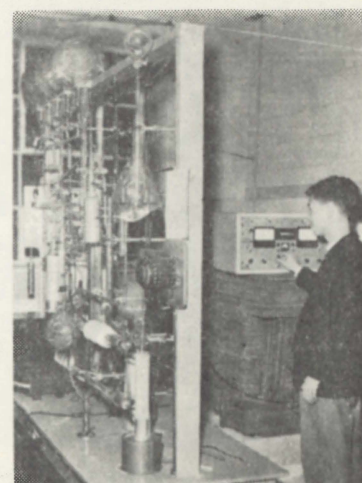

Scholarships and fellowships are an omnipresent and inescapable aspect of the operation of the Graduate Faculty. This year a total of $210,445 is on record as being disbursed towards scholarships and fellowships in the Faculty. Of this sum, $29,955 comes from departmental funds, $41,117 from unrestricted faculty funds, $72,550 from grants in aid to faculty members and $63,540 in awards won directly by the students from sources external to the university. Since students for the most part work all twelve months in the university and so can no longer "work their way through college", enrollment is closely associated with scholarships in the Graduate Faculty. Also, since this is the fifth to ninth year of university work for them, their private resources are generally exhausted. Records show that over 85% of the graduate students in the sciences and in Oceanography student lowering king size plastic test tube to study marine productivity.

Psychology in Canadian universities win total support scholarships. Only students with Honors standing are admitted into Graduate school. Nevertheless funds are so short that many well qualified students cannot win scholarships and consequently cannot enter Graduate school.

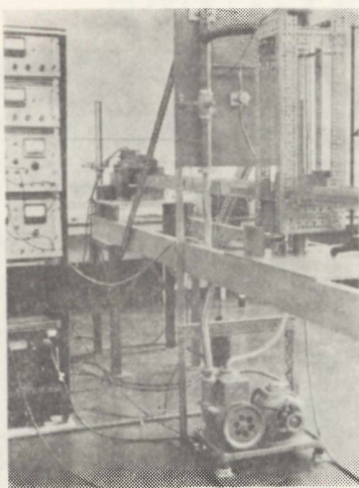

RESEARCH

When the Faculty was founded in 1949, the University possessed very few of the muscles and bones that research needs. Slowly at first and then more rapidly these expensive facilities, instruments and specialties have been gathered together, largely through grants in aid won by professors from Federal agencies like the National Research Council. Grants in aid awarded to members of the Faculty have increased more than ten-fold, from less than $50,000 in 1949 to more than $500,000 in 1962. Without these grants nothing could have been done. With them, the University has been able to transform itself into a competent well balanced school for graduate studies, with specialties that give it distinction.

Altogether indispensable to the growth of research and hence of the Graduate Faculty, was the construction of the Sir James Dunn Science Building. This not only provided excellent quarters for research in Physics, Geology and aspects of Oceanography, but released space in the Old Science Building for the expansion of graduate research in Chemistry, including Marine Chemistry, Geochemistry and Metallurgy.

The Dalhousie Institute of Oceanography, financed by a grant from the National Research Council, was founded in 1959. Under its very able Director, Professor F. R. Hayes, it has already gathered an excellent staff, top notch students and a record of research projects conducted both on board ship in ocean-going vessels, and in the laboratory on land. In a few years, the Dalhousie Institute of Oceanography has established a sound position for itself in the University and in the scientific world. This year, the Bedford Institute of Oceanography, a professional research institution that will employ 300 scientists and supporting staff, was opened. The two institutes work in close harmony and will together certainly establish Halifax as a center of the first importance in the study of the oceans.

The Atlantic Regional Laboratory of the National Research Council is located on the Dalhousie campus. Under its Director, Dr. A. C. Neish, a creative and mutually beneficial association has been built up with the Graduate Faculty, through joint appointments. This year five outstanding scientists have received joint appointments to the Atlantic Regional Laboratory and to the Graduate Faculty. The Professors, three in Biology and two in Chemistry lecture on their specialty and supervise the research of Graduate students working on projects with them in the Atlantic Regional Laboratory. This has been an important step forward and has made such new scientific specialties as plant biochemistry, plant pathology, microbiology, high temperature chemistry and the chemistry of natural products available to Graduate students in the University.

Positron Annihilation equipment used by graduate students for work with radio-active materials.

With the Atlantic Regional Laboratory, the Bedford Institute of Oceanography, the Technological Station of the Fisheries Research Board, the Naval Research Establishment of the Defence Research Board, the Nova Scotia Technical College, and research sponsored by the Nova Scotia Research Foundation, together with the important and valuable work done in the Medical Sciences in the hospitals and in the Dalhousie Medical School, the Faculty of Graduate Studies at Dalhousie is at the center of an imposing array of scientific institutions. If to this is added the Inter-University structure and cooperations that derive from The Atlantic Provinces Inter-University Committee on the Sciences, it can be seen that some of the new professions are beginning to work out a sensible and integrated educative structure from the freshman through the Graduate Student and on to and including professional employment. The Graduate Faculty has a pivotal role in this interesting and complex development. The problems to be now faced are those arising from increases in the size of the student body.

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND BRANCH

A new branch of the Alumni Association was formed in Prince Edward Island on October 18th when over 50 former Dalhousians and their guests met at Montgomery Hall in Charlottetown.

Guest speaker for the evening was Henry D. Hicks, Dean of the faculty of Arts and Science and Vice-president of the University. Speaking on the theme, "University Education in the 20th Century", Dean Hicks compared the way of life in this decade with that of the early nineteenth century and stressed the importance that scientific and technological changes have had in shaping our lives. He said this indicates the necessity for concentrating our efforts in the establishment of adequate facilities for education.

Noting the tremendous growth in student enrollment that has already become evident in Canadian universities, Dean Hicks said that higher education can no longer be left in private hands alone, and federal and provincial governments would have to take a greater part by looking beyond the primary education field and making larger grants to universities.

Dean Hicks concluded his remarks by elaborating on the expansion programme now underway at Dalhousie to enable the University to meet the needs of the rapidly expanding student population.

The alumni dinner was presided over by Malcolm MacKenzie who introduced Dean Hicks to the gathering. The blessing was asked by Rev. George MacDonald and the guest speaker was thanked by Archdeacon J. R. Davies.

In a brief session following the dinner the local branch was formed and Malcolm MacKenzie elected its first president. Other officers elected were Mrs. Robert Sutherland, vice-president; and David Jardine, secretary. Directors elected were Dr. Gerald Barrett, David Boswell and Miss Dorothy Cullen of Charlottetown; Mrs. June Miller, Summerside and Kenneth MacDonald, Montague.

NEWS FROM THE BRANCHES

ST. JOHN'S

Professor C. L. Bennet was the guest speaker at the St. John's, Newfoundland meeting of the alumni held on October 25. More than 70 alumni and guests attended the dinner and dance which was held in the Bally Haly Gold and Country Club.

Former students had an opportunity to recall student days with Professor Bennet during an informal reception held just prior to the dinner. Professor Bennet, a former vice-president of the University and a member of the staff for over forty years, has taught over half the living graduates and is highly respected by students and alumni alike.

During the evening, William Adams proposed a toast to Dalhousie and Alumni Director Bruce Irwin responded. Professor Bennet was introduced by Lloyd Soper and entertained the group with humorous and heartwarming anecdotes which he aptly entitled "Dalhousie Recollections". Mrs. M. J. Pratt thanked the speaker on behalf of the St. John's alumni.

A brief business session followed the dinner and a slate of officers presented by Noel Goodridge, for the Nominating Committee, was elected as an executive for the coming year. Elected were: P. Lloyd Soper, president; Mrs. James C. Stanbury and Dr. Patrick Whelan, vice-presidents; Mrs. Peter J. Gardiner, secretary and Dr. Bruce L. Bowden, James Nesbitt, James Chalker, David S. Templeton and Sidney Epstein, directors.

Medical Alumni President, Dr. C. M. Bethune, presided over the meeting which took the form of a reception, dinner, business meeting and entertainment.

The business meeting, which was held after dinner, was followed by an enjoyable programme which included a selection of folk-songs by "The Phi Rho Five," a humorous enactment of "The Shooting of Dan McGrew" presented by members of Phi Rho and a sing-song for everybody.

During the business meeting, the following members were elected to the Executive Committee and the Board of Directors:

MONCTON

Dr. Henry D. Hicks, Dean of Arts and Science and Vice-president of Dalhousie was guest speaker at the second annual meeting of the Moncton branch of the Alumni Association.

Dr. Charlie Baxter, Bruce Irwin, Dave MacDonald and Dean Hicks at the Moncton dinner.

The meeting, held in the Beaver Curling Club on November 5, was presided over by branch president David MacDonald. More than 50 Dalhousians and guests attended the reception and dinner to meet Dean Hicks and hear his interesting talk on "Expansion at Dalhousie".

In his speech Dean Hicks said that increasing pressure is being exerted on the University by a steadily rising student enrollment which reached 2500 this year and is expected to double within the next eight years. Dalhousie will have to expand in all faculties to meet the challenge, the Vice-President said, and has embarked on a 16 million dollar development programme to raise the funds necessary to carry out the expansion.

During the evening alumni were welcomed by President MacDonald. A toast to Dalhousie was proposed by Leonide Cyr and Alumni Director Bruce Irwin replied. Dean Hicks was introduced by Dr. C. R. Baxter and thanked on behalf of the alumni by Dr. Don Williams.

In a brief business session after the dinner, the following alumni were elected to the executive for the coming year: David MacDonald, president; Eric Stephenson, vice-president; Mrs. David MacDonald, secretary and Weldon Matthews treasurer.

TANTRAMAR

The second annual alumni banquet of the Tantramar Branch of the Alumni Association was held at the Fort Cumberland Hotel in Amherst on November 15. Retiring President, Dr. G. M. Saunders, presided at the banquet which was preceeded by an informal reception.

Dr. Guy R. MacLean, Assistant Professor of History and Head of Residence at Dalhousie, the guest speaker for the evening, gave alumni an informative talk on "Germany Today". A well qualified speaker on the German subject, Dr. MacLean was the 1953 Rhodes Scholar from Nova Scotia and travelled extensively on the Continent during his term at Oxford.

Dr. G. M. Saunders introduced Dr. MacLean to the gathering, and appreciation of the group was extended by W. W. Meldrum. E. Clair Hicks, Q.C., proposed a toast to Dalhousie and this was responded to by Bruce Irwin, Director of Alumni Affairs.

During the evening, the following were elected to office for the coming year: President - E. Clair Hicks, Q.C., Amherst; First Vice-President - W. W. Meldrum, Sackville; Second Vice-President - Mrs. H. L. Parks, Amherst; Secretary-Treasurer - R. L. Davison, Amherst; Directors - G. P. Hennessey, Amherst; Mrs. Truman Layton, Sackville; Dr. W. A. Prentice, Springhill; W. Bruce Fullerton, Parrsboro; Dr. K. V. Gass, Pugwash.

TRURO

Dr. Lloyd B. Macpherson, Assistant Dean of Medicine was guest speaker at the fourth annual meeting of the Truro Branch of the Alumni Association on December 3.

Dr. H. R. McKean, President of the branch presided at the meeting which was held in Bennie's Restaurant and consisted of a reception and dinner. A large delegation of Colchester County alumni attended the dinner and heard the guest speaker tell of important developments in the Dalhousie Medical School.

In his address, Dr. Macpherson mentioned the rapid expansion that has taken place in Medicine during recent years and explained the programme of continuing education being conducted by the Faculty in the four Atlantic Provinces. He also told the alumni about the future plans for expansion which include the construction of a new 4½ million dollar medical school.

Dr. Macpherson was introduced to the gathering by the chairman, Dr. McKean, and was thanked on behalf of the alumni by Dr. Ken Sheppard. During the proceedings, Dr. C. L. Gasse of Tatamagouche, proposed a toast to the University and Alumni Director Bruce Irwin, responded.

Following the dinner, a brief business session was held and Dr. Harold MacCormack presented the report of the Nominating Committee. Elected as the Executive for the coming year were:

Kenneth M. Matthews, president; A. Gordon Cruikshank, 1st vice-president; B. M. Goodman, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. D. A. MacCallum, secretary; D. Turner O'Brien, treasurer; Miss Helen Beveridge, Mrs. D. W. Gruchy, P. W. Tupper, Miss Erma Nelson, Dr. Frank Condon, C. W. Fraser and Alex G. Fraser, directors. Dr. H. R. McKean will serve on the Executive as past president.

NEW YORK

THE DALHOUSIE CLUB OF NEW YORK held its Autumn Party, on November 14, at the cocktail hour in the commodious and attractive club quarters of the Canadian Women's Club of New York at the Savoy Hilton Hotel.

The Spring and Autumn Parties of the Dalhousie Club have become social events which are looked forward to with pleasure by the members of the Club and their friends. At our Spring Party on May 2nd, this year, we had the pleasure to entertain Mr. Bruce G. Irwin, the Director of Alumni Affairs. At our Autumn Party, we were privileged to have with us as our guest of honor, Norman A. M. MacKenzie, C.M.G., M.M., Q.C., President Emeritus of the University of British Columbia, better and more affectionately known to most of us as "Larry" MacKenzie.

The arrangements for the Party were made by our President, Em. Corsi, ably assisted by the Vice-Presidents, Dr. Samuel N. Rosenberg and Miss Sybil Metherall. The Secretary, Janet McNutt and the Treasurer, Bertha Baird, were on hand early to help welcome the guests. Dr. Rosenberg and Dr. Weitz though one is a physician and surgeon and the other is a psychologist displayed unknown skills in dispensing certain liquid refreshments.

A halt in the flow of animated and convivial conversations going on in all corners of the Club rooms was called by the President, Em. Corsi, while she introduced our guest of honor, "Larry" MacKenzie. Larry expressed his pleasure at being with us and meeting so many old Dalhousian friends. He told us of his experience with higher education in the universities he has served, namely the University of Toronto, the University of New Brunswick and the University of British Columbia, the latter two of which he headed as President. He made us all feel happy when he praised Dalhousie for the maintenance of high standards of teaching and the excellent quality of scholarship of its graduates.

There were sixty-five members, associate members and guests present. The following is a more or less complete list of those who were at the Party: Miss Kathleen Allen; Mr. and Mrs. Frederick M. Baird (Bertha Woolaver); Dr. and Mrs. Seymour S. Balkin; Mrs. Anne Barclay; Mr. Remi Benoit; Mrs. Herbert

ROOM IN MEN'S RESIDENCE FURNISHED IN MEMORY OF FIRST DALHOUSIE GRADUATE

A recent donation to the University is worthy of special mention. The donation of $300 was made recently by Miss Margaret H. Chase of San Luis Obispo, California, and is to be used to furnish a room in the Men's Residence in memory of her father, Rev. J. H. Chase.

The significant thing about this particular gift is the fact that Rev. Chase was the very first graduate of Dalhousie, having received his B.A. in 1866. There were two students in that first graduating class, but because of alphabetical listing, Rev. Chase had the honour of graduating first.

An excellent scholar, he received the Grant Prize of £5 in 1865, continued his studies and was awarded an M.A. from Dalhousie in 1869, and studied theology at Pine Hill and Edinburgh. Following graduation from Edinburgh he served a thirty year pastorate in Nova Scotia before moving to California for his health. In his last year in Nova Scotia, Rev. Chase was Moderator of the Synod of the Presbyterian Church for the Maritime Provinces.

Miss Chase, who has so kindly donated the room in memory of her father is also a Dalhousian and graduated with the degree of B.A. in 1899.

The plaque which has been placed on the door of the room in the residence, which her donation has furnished reads:

Furnished in Memory of
Rev. J. H. Chase, B.A. 1866
First Graduate of Dalhousie
By his daughter
Margaret H. Chase, B.A. 1899

ALUMNI SPONSOR AFTER-GAME DANCES

For the second consecutive year the Alumni Association has sponsored After-Game Dances for Dalhousie students. The dances are held in the Men's Residence library immediately following all home games of the football Tigers played at Studley Field.

This year there were two dances, one on October the 13th and the other on the 20th, and on each occasion the dance floor was packed to capacity. Music for the dances was provided by a very popular local five-piece orchestra engaged by the Association. Students and their escorts are admitted to the dances free of charge as guests of the alumni.

The dances were among the most popular held on campus during the fall and the students were pleased to show their appreciation by giving Alumni President Carmen Moir a standing ovation when he welcomed them on behalf of the Association. This project is one of the most successful ever undertaken by the alumni for the students and has done much to make the students aware of the Association.

It is hoped that the project will be continued with increasing success in the years to come.
