Dear Irving, dear Eulah,

You have been with us during rough times. Will you now help us to become "established"? We would love to have you as a Founding Member.

All the best,

Yours as ever,

Dearest Irving:

I am back again -- for less than two weeks; then I'm off again to New York, Japan, and India.

If there is anything I can do for the opera, I shall be glad to. I asked my friend from Holland what he knew about Gaudeamus. He had heard the name, but not much more, but promised to inquire.

Today, for a change, I want to ask for your cooperation again, if possible. Enclosed a letter from our lawyers who are handling our tax-exempt public foundation, Friends of the International Ocean Institute, which Frances McAllister founded here to facilitate fund-raiding for our International Ocean Institute.

To make a long story short: We have to raise the modest sum of eight hundred dollars before the end of the year. Of course we need much more money than that, but I am glad to report, I have been rather successful with fund raising lately. The problem -- cooperation in the oceans is so important and the work we have been doing is really beginning to add up. I am sending you, separately, a report we prepared for our forthcoming Board of Trustees meeting.

Can you give us these $800? Part thereof?

Whatever you can do will be most enthusiastically appreciated.

Incidentally, why don't you and Eulah come for dinner one day next week? It would be nice to have a relaxed conversation with you. I am sure you would enjoy seeing my dog playing her Mozart Sonata.

Love,
