Foreword

PHAROS — the beaming light which shone for ancient Greeks, shines once more from the shores of this city by the sea.

We have in Pharos '39, tried to depict scenes of Dalhousie's past year—your scenes, for your future. We have not tried to dress her up as we would have her look; nor have we tried any tactful evasion of the less fortunate side of student activity.

We hope the scenes will recall for you fond memories, and stir your emotions for this old college, in this old city. If they do, our efforts have been successful. You are the judge.

GRADUATES

CARLETON W. STANLEY, M.A., LL.D., Litt.D., F.R.S.C.
President of the University

To the Graduates:

This year, in which you graduate from the University, happens to be a turning point in modern times. The year of graduation is, of course, a turning point in the life of a student. He has come to an end, usually, of his formal preparation; his graduation, his encaenia, as the latter word makes plain, is his initiation into the experience of life and the world. During long periods in the past, it was a time for jubilation largely, though nearly always it carried sober thoughts with it.

In times like these, it would be no courtesy to you, nor would you find it tolerable, if your older friends and well wishers were merely to deal out platitudes to you about the probabilities of your success and the easier path you will find because of your experience in university. The existence of the university is, of course, not justified unless it has done great things for you in training your mind, in acquainting you with first principles of thought and conduct, and in stirring your imagination. Yet, for no one, whether university graduate or not, will life and the world be comfortable in any future that we can now foresee; there is no security either for individuals or institutions, for liberty, for peace, for the pursuit of learning or science. The great minds of every age have always seen that there is no ultimate security for any generation of men, resting on things lying outside those men. It has long been proverbial that each generation of men must save itself, must make its own world. But it is mere wisdom to see and to realize clearly that no age in modern times has been so overshadowed with terrors and threats at this present age. You can, if you like, accuse the generation of your parents for the present dire situation. I, for one, would admit the justice of that accusation. But it will not help you merely to accuse, especially if you have not thought your way to the precise nature of the accusation. If you can find your way to a clear analysis and understand just where we older men left the path of wisdom, you will have gone far towards seeing a possible amelioration.

In the belief of some of the most intelligent men I know, a large part of our failure was that most of us took things for granted, and used words which we did not half mean. We talked of education, but were not careful enough about its quality; we spoke of a free press, and were more than a little careless about the stuff that was printed; we talked of citizenship, and included only our friends, and our class, in the phrase.

These last remarks I offer not as a complete explanation of what has happened, but in the hope that they may be a key to the maze that confronts you. Certainly the disintegration of society and institutions which is going on before our eyes will not be arrested unless you refuse to take things for granted and to use words that have no reality. It is open to you to say: "Over most of the world, reason and righteousness were overthrown before my time". But you can also say: "So-called defenders of reason and righteousness abdicated and allowed themselves to be overthrown." And you can still, in your time, determine, and with hope, to "make reason and the will of God prevail".

CARLETON STANLEY, President.

Mental Lapses into Consciousness

A Play in One Act and Two Scenes.

Author: H. P. BELL

The whole play takes place at a college dance.

SCENE I

Place: The inside of a student's brain.

The scene opens in pitch darkness. Suddenly a brilliant flash of light.

"There's the 'Old Prof.' over in the corner by himself—wonder what he is thinking about."

Pitch darkness again.

Scene ends.

SCENE II

Place: The inside of the "Old Prof's" brain.

The scene again opens in pitch darkness. Then a faint light gradually becoming brighter, but never very bright.

"Why did that tall Med. student come 'stag', and make me sit in a corner by myself.—In my day the girls came 'stag' too—girls more independent now—BALONEY—Class '39, but just like the dances I ran in '13 and '14. Same people, same details, same everything—nothing really changes, just goes round and round.—With us it was 'Kaizer Bill' etc., now it is 'Hitler' etc.—Sir John French has just organized Canada for the war and we had bought a one ship navy.—Now it's a course at the staff college in London, and building aeroplanes—same thing in a different costume.—We thought it a joke.—I suppose these boys do too—and they are exactly the same boys—just called by different names.—I always want to call them by the names they had in '13-'14.— My stocky friend over there with the thick hair and the bright smile—he's 'Young Georgie'—can kick a football as well too, but not so good at the tackle.— Poor Georgie got his at Ypres. That serious looking little fellow—almost called him 'Paul' in class—told me some things that were wrong with Bio. 1—just the kind of thing Paul would have felt it his duty to do.—Fool trick to let a rifle grenade detonate on his steel helmet.—Paul had a marvelous brain until that happened—smeared over a sandbag, it looked like any other brain—should have been looking up watching for those things and dodged—probably looking someplace he was supposed to be looking.—Paul was always too conscientious.—Well look at that! Our combination of brains and good looks from the law school has six girls trying to talk to him.—Those girls show their good sense.—I hope the best girl wins, for he's the dead spit of Ivan—but even brains and good looks can't dodge bullets. As the French-Canadian said 'She come too quick'. We all expected Ivan to be a Judge. Well! He's been in Heaven since the 'Somme Show'. That's twenty-three years ago, so perhaps he has a judgeship by now. He was a fine chap and knew his way around.—A good class this—I'd hate to see them bust up like we were.—The girls are good looking too, but none of them any better than the girl I took to the Dal. dances in '13-'14.—Just now that same girl appears to be enjoying her dance with the tall med. student.—Well who wouldn't enjoy being here—so many classes go and no mark left—Arts and Science Society and all that.—Yes '39 has left its mark.—Yes.—Yes.—Yes.—Deserve something better than a war. Georgie, Paul, Ivan, and all the rest.—What hopes, ambitions and possibilities they had!—These boys have the same.—No war and these chaps will realize their hopes and ambitions, for they have the same stuff in them and it's the right stuff.—Here's hoping."

The light fades slowly to pitch darkness again.

Scene ends.

Play over.

ARTS BUILDING

To the Graduates in Arts and Science

Once again the "open season" on college graduates has arrived. From now until Convocation, and after, most of you will act as targets for many "well chosen words" of advice. I am afraid that there isn't much you can do about it. The giving of advice seems to be one of the perquisites of mankind; it pleases the giver and usually doesn't hurt the recipient.

From this, you may infer that my intentions are humane and that I do not plan to take advantage of the season and offer you suggestions as to your conduct in the years to come.

From experience in observing the careers of college graduates, I can say truthfully that I envy you in all that you have and in all that the future may bring to you. But if, at this time, some of you are trying to balance your account with the University, you have no easy task before you. Under cost, it is easy to set down the dollars and cents, but you must add to this those important years of college life, the value of which cannot be stated in finite terms. The other side of the ledger is just as bad. How can the value of such a nebulous item as a college education be stated in figures? It is always hard to compare what you have with what, under other conditions, you might not have had. When opportunity comes to you your college career should help you to put into operation your own particular qualifications. If you do this with all your might, it is my prediction and my sincere hope that the material "cost" of your education can be forgotten.

Pharmacy

ROBERT CLARENCE DIMOCK—Bob is one of the most popular men on the campus, due to many factors besides the "moustache". A graduate of Windsor High School, he began to investigate medicaments in the pharmacy of H. E. Wilson at Windsor. An ardent tennis fan, he bolstered the '37-'38 team by his skill with the racquet.

BRUCE B. KNOWLTON—"Coast to Coast to be a Druggist" or "Why Bruce left home"—anyway, the Vancouver Flash, after attending Prince of Wales High, came to Dalhousie and succeeded in doing two years work in one. A fine personality and general favorite (with the men, too) Bruce has proven himself a capable student. He plans to enter his father's drug firm of Knowlton's Ltd., where further success will no doubt reward his efforts. His fraternity is Phi Delta Theta.

CHESTER MONSON LEVY—Digby lost a valuable citizen and P. W. Holdsworth a capable employee when "Chet" with his wife and family moved to Halifax. Windsor Academy began his scholastic career and Dalhousie has added to this equipment. He now will take his place in the profession as a man well worth knowing.

JOSEPH IRVING MCGILLIVARY—Irving hails from Amherst, where he has been connected with the firm of W. L. Ormond, Druggist. The pride of Cumberland County Academy also sits at the top of his classes at Dal—a real student. His graduation will remove a valued member of the college band and a very popular member of the student body.

DONALD EDWIN MacKENZIE, B. Sc. (Dal '33).—Don returns to Dalhousie after acquiring five years of practical experience in pharmacy at his father's drug store in New Glasgow. He has spent nearly ever hour of each week in the lecture room or lab and even measured the doors of the Medical Science Building to see if his three-quarter bed would go through. A man who definitely appreciates a joke—no holds barred. He is a member of Phi Delta Theta.

JAMES DONNELLY MacKENZIE—J. D. or "D. J." invaded Dalhousie by the famous route from Stellarton via Pictou Academy. He began his interest in pharmacy under the wing of E. S. MacKenzie at New Glasgow. A man's man (without overlooking the ladies), he possesses a highly developed sense of humor and invariably smokes a long, rank pipe. That he will continue to succeed in his chosen profession, is a foregone conclusion.

CHARLES AUDLEY SELLON—Bloomfield High boasts that it once had Audley in its midst—the institution still functions, but undoubtedly feels the loss deeply. A. A. Thompson has interested the "man with the drawl" in pharmacy and as Mrs. Sellon's boy might say, "Pills make the man—". Audley has been a hard working student and will no doubt become an excellent druggist.

SIDNEY LEWIS SMITH—Sid is the sort of fellow who says a lot in very few words—a treasure to the profs when examination papers are to be marked. H. L. Smith of Digby brought his son into the realm of the drugstore "back shop", showed him "the ropes" and then chased him off to Halifax. Sid has proven the paternal judgment to be sound; besides taking much with him, he leaves his imprint on Dalhousie.

Top—Esther Christina Dauphinee, Elizabeth Frances Belyea, Madeleine Margaret Delaney, John Vincent DeVan.

Diploma of Education

From the ceaseless toil, engendered by the burning desire to qualify for the instruction of the youth of our country, we turn reluctantly, to write a few lines that we may pass but not be forgotten.

A strange class of mortals, set apart in a guarded stronghold, that our minds and morals may be uncorrupted by contact with the lower elements of the University, we have pursued our quiet way, unknown and ignored, producing our great unsung works in modest anonymity.

That favorite anathema of former students, the Murray Homestead Chronometer, pursues its erratic course and causes much anxiety and grief, at our tardy arrival at noon classes.

Our diminutive red-head pursues.

Our class inebriate murmurs restlessly in his Delirium Tremens, "Large Unit! Larger Pay! Dartmouth Bridge! Prosperity!"

Librarians follow their diligent courses and curse violently at empty shelf space and unsigned-for books. Their gray hair falls softly and gently, to form the lovely carpet so often admired in our rooms.

1939 Pharos

Caravans of embryo teachers, driven by entirely incompetent and uninhibited student drivers, careen to Mt. A., to delight and amaze the student body of that College with their insatiable appetites.

Room committees measure windows and walls, with a view to lacy curtains and beflowered paper.

Vocational guidance tests, administered to the students, indicate the following occupations to be most suitable: Two bricklayers, three chimneysweeps, one soldier, one bartender, one engineer, (female), two archbishops and a peanut vendor.

Any morning, at ten minutes past the hour, finds eager faces, beaming or grimacing, turned towards our amiable and very capable professor, with thirst for knowledge and just thirst, expressed on every rosy countenance.

We have tarried enough. Let us to our chosen tasks again.
Our brief stay is ended.

We have not been unhappy.
We shall retain pleasant memories.

To The Graduates in Medicine

Perhaps at this stage of your career I could do no better than ask you to give serious consideration to the economic side of medicine.

During your sojourn at Dalhousie you have learned of the great advances in Medicine made possible by the brilliant contributions of such masters as Harvey, Pasteur, Lister, Koch, Jenner, Budd, Ross, Reed; and our own Canadian, Banting. Slowly, step by step, through new knowledge in the medical sciences, through the discovery of anaesthesia, and through improved methods in clinical medicine and surgery, Medicine has advanced to its present stage of efficiency.

But of late you may have heard rumblings that would lead you to believe that things were not quite right. New terms have crept into medicine—Health Insurance, State Medicine, Medical Relief, Group Medicine. It is generally agreed that the benefits of medical science are not equally available to all, and that those who need our help most are in many cases forced to do without it. Methods to meet these difficulties are now being discussed throughout Canada and the United States and you will face them soon after graduation. In dealing with these questions always bear in mind that the true purpose of your calling is the relief of suffering, irrespective of creed, race, or economic status.

In saying farewell let me wish each one of you success, success that comes by knowledge of your work and a kindly interest in your fellow man. You will bear on your diplomas the seal of Dalhousie, a seal that is respected wherever you go.

H. G. GRANT, Dean.

DENTISTRY

To the Graduates in Dentistry:

W. W. WOODBURY, B.Sc., D.D.S.
Dean of the Faculty of Dentistry of our profession more attention has been paid to the elaboration of new methods than to checking end-results. Too many case reports show the immediate effect and too few exhibit the condition ten years afterwards.

More time-thinking is needed in Dentistry today, and it must be applied to diagnosis as well as to treatment, and also to the community health problems that face the profession. If the graduate entering on practice has been trained to consider the case before him in the light of its history and development and to take the long view in planning his treatment he will not only serve his patient better but he will add to his intellectual interests. He will increasingly realize that his problem does not ultimately rest in the realm of the technical, but that the appropriate technique must be determined by a broad consideration of the dental needs of his patient, a consideration based on an understanding of his patient as an indivisible but complex whole.

About a decade ago the Principal of Manchester College, Oxford, wrote a book in which he pointed out the need for employing what he called "time-thinking" in our social and international relationships. He thought that the "space-thinker" was too much in evidence. He explained that the space-thinker is always concerned with arranging individuals in the community so that their relations to each other will be fair and mutually beneficial and present a pleasing social picture, while the more important question is What will happen next? Will it stand the test of time? Has it the elements of permanence? He further suggested that our concern with patterns rather than sequences was the outcome of our preoccupation with mechanical science.

This sounds very much as if he might have been thinking about Dentistry, for in almost every field

To the Graduates in Law:

In addressing men and women who are leaving us after a period devoted to the study of the law I desire to do so in the words of a great English lawyer:

"I would beg you to join me in declaring our pride in this great and splendid vocation, our resolve to pursue it in accordance with its highest traditions, our determination to do nothing which shall bring dishonour to its records, and our belief that it is possible by the study and the practice of the law not only to render an essential service to the private citizen, but to fit ourselves for the great work of seeing that government is what government ought to be; that argument shall take the place of force; and that the future of human society shall be guaranteed by the same principles of justice and fairness with which the law protects every private citizen."

History of Class '39

By FREDA CAHAN

The record of a class never seems complete unless we think back on all those who at one time or another helped to make the class one that would be remembered. Our class when it came in boasted about 120 members. That was in the fall of 1935. This spring some 70 of us are graduating. Of the others some were Freshie-Sophs, and graduated last year; others have dropped out of College. Others, for various reasons have changed their courses, and do not make up this year's Graduating class.

When we came in we elected Dr. Bell as our Honorary President. Our other officers were Wallie Wright, Marian Geldhert, Fran Martell and Jack Arnell.

The only change in our officers in our Sophomore year was the election of Virginia Piers as our Vice-President. That year the Arts and Science Society was formed and no individual class parties were given.

As Juniors we were joined by those who had been Freshie-Sophs in 1936. George Corston, Nancy Lawson, Joan Furlong and Lloyd Dalton made up our new executive. We had a most successful party in the Lower Gym., which we gaily called the Junior Frolic. Until now our proud boast had been that we were one of the most financially successful classes that ever graced Dalhousie campus. Unfortunately, the Junior Prom, a success in every other way, cut well into our reserve fund. Zilpha Linkletter and George Piercey debated for us in the Bennett Shield Debates.

This year the executive has been George Corston, Freda Cahan, Joan Anderson, and Lloyd Dalton. We have put on record our motion that we will back the Arts and Science Society in every way possible. Perhaps we are one of the last classes that will attempt to keep its identity during its four years stay at Dalhousie.

One can hardly pin down the history of a class. It exists only in each one of its members, and in each of the activities, either work or play, that each has undertaken. Only in this way, through its members, does a class give itself to Dalhousie, or take away with it some of Dalhousie.

Vice-President—Marjorie MacKintosh
Secretary—Charlotte Sullivan
Treasurer—Donald MacKeigan

With the coming of the term 1938-39 came a new name to this class. We now find ourselves the Sophomore Class. As the Sophomore Class its chief duties were to see that the Frosh were kept in their place. The initiation committee certainly did a grand job. The Frosh, for the first time in many years, were definitely kept in their place, especially during initiation week. It was found necessary, due to the infractions of the regulations, placed upon the Frosh, by several members of that class, to lengthen the time and to impose gaudy aprons upon the offenders.

For the first time, we think it is safe to say, since the old Gym burnt down, the Freshie-Soph dance was held in the Gym. This was a very gala affair. Never before was there such an intermingling of the first year students and those going into their second year. This we feel is really the idea behind the Freshie-Soph. We hope that we have set a precedent, and that in future years to come the Freshie-Soph will be held in our own Gym.

Last year it was stated in this book, "'41 on the campus means enthusiasm". This certainly has been true. Today in most of the organizations most of those holding office come from this class.

In regard to offices, the elections for the next term have not yet taken place, but we would like to take this opportunity to thank those who have done their bit to make this class a success.

On the 29th of September, 1938, all Freshettes and Freshmen met in the Chemistry Theatre of the Science Building for the first time. Shortly after the class officers were elected for the year.

During the fall the class participated in the annual track and field meet and, also, in interfaculty rugby but without much success. On November 25th, the Class of '42 gave their first social function in the form of a banquet and dance held in the Gymnasium. It was a great success.

After the enjoyable holidays of the Yuletide Season the class met again in January and hockey and basketball seemed to be in the limelight. The class has, indeed, fared very well in hockey and good support was given to the team. On February 1st, the annual Freshmen night was held in the Gymnasium when the class presented a one-act play entitled "Sally Spry". The evening was also a great success.

At the beginning of the year the Class of '42 gave the promise of being one of the best classes to ever enter Dalhousie. Whether it has fulfilled this promise or not I cannot say. It has, however, proved itself equal to all others in the various activities and above all it has given to Dalhousie a fine group of sons and daughters of whom, I hope, Dalhousie will always be proud.

The Arts and Science Society

One of the most welcome features of the student life this year has been the revival of interest among the Arts and Science students. This reawakening is most evident in the success which the Arts and Science Society has enjoyed. The society under the leadership of the Executive has attempted to build up a permanent organization which will, as the years go by, become stronger and stronger and make a definite contribution to student life. One outstanding feature of its activity has been the drafting of a constitution. While it is realized that this is but yet an imperfect document, we believe that it will afford a foundation upon which the future of the society can be built. The constitution provides for one very remedial change in that it clarifies the electoral system among Arts and Science students.

Another innovation was a Special Events Committee composed of Inez Smith, Betty Pearson and Bernie Graham. This committee presented two lectures which were attended by very large and enthusiastic audiences. The first was a lecture on Russia by C. J. Ketchum of Fleet Street fame and the second was a group of three talks by members of the London Repertory Company—Mr. Howard Fairtlough, Misses Janet Barrow and Gladys Spencer.

The Society was well represented in interfaculty sport, the teams being under the capable management of Craig Smith, Don MacKeigan, Bain Munro and Harry D. Smith.

The Society is now laying plans for a good finale in the form of a supper party which it is believed will be in keeping with the successes already enjoyed by the Society. To next year's Executive go our best wishes and may the Society grow in influence and usefulness!

PETER NICHOLSON DOUGLAS CAMERON
President. Treasurer.

The Commerce Society

The University has been very fortunate this year in procuring the services of Professor Stewart Bates as Head of the Commerce Department. As a result of this there has been a marked increase in the number of students registered in Commerce. Under the impetus of this able man it is expected that the Department will grow very rapidly.

As is the custom in the Commerce Society, social events were confined to the second term. The Millionaire's Dance held in the Dalhousie Gymnasium immediately after Christmas proved to be very successful. Plans for the Society banquet were laid early in the second session. This social function fostered further that spirit of cooperation and good fellowship between the students and faculty for which the Commerce Department has always been noted.

All the regular meetings of the Society were very well attended. On the whole the Commerce Society enjoyed a very successful year, and the members felt more than ever that theirs was the best organization on the Dalhousie Campus.

The retiring Executive wish to thank the members of the Society for their earnest co-operation, and trust that the new officers will further the interests of the growing Department and the University.

To this year's graduates best wishes are extended for future success and prosperity!

The Dalhousie Medical Society

By JAMES LONG, Secretary

The Medical Society, during 1937-38, enjoyed a very successful season under the guidance of a capable slate of officers, led by Clarence Gosse. During the present season it has continued as Dalhousie's most powerful and influential organization under the leadership of George Murphy.

So far, in the field of interfaculty sport, the Medicos-to-be have upheld their renowned reputation. They proved to be a powerful obstacle on the football field; and carried off top honors in track. Now they are looking forward to a successful season on the ice.

The Medical Journal, for a newly found publication, has proven to be a great asset to the Medical School. The November issue appeared under the capable management of Robert Aikens. To Albert Schwartz, the newly appointed Editor-in-Chief, we wish every success.

The Medical Ball, held in November, was one of the outstanding events of the year. Under the direction of Clarence Gosse, Joe Gallant and James Squire it was a great success, both socially and financially. The Society concluded its social activities of this season with the Annual Medical Banquet.

Several interesting and beneficial Surgical Films were shown at the regular monthly meetings. At a special meeting held in November, Sir Frederick Banting gave an enlightning address on Medical Research.

On the whole the Medical Society had a most successful year. May the progressive spirit shown by the members continue during the coming year.

The Law Society

By JAMES MILNER, Secretary-Treasurer

As usual the Law Society took a leading part in all campus activities.

The annual Law Ball was held in the Nova Scotian Hotel on Friday, Oct. 28, 1938, under the distinguished patronage of the Honourable the Premier of Nova Scotia, Angus L. Macdonald, and the Honourable the Chief Justice of Nova Scotia, Sir Joseph Chisholm. Socially, of course, the dance was a great success, and this year a very able committee, composed of Jack Gillis (chairman), Vadim Koretsky, and Eric Teasdale, managed to produce a financial surplus of nearly six dollars.

The Moot Court Committee, Bob Armstrong, Jim Milner, and Fred Regan, successfully directed a docket of fourteen regular cases, and one extra case starring Harvey Veniot, counsel, and R. D. Ash, B.Sc., L.C.J., on the bench.

The Mock Parliament, conducted by the Right Honourable the Prime Minister, Larry O'Brien, assisted by the Honourable the Leader of the Opposition, Wilf Burchell, and the Honourable the Leader of the Independent Party, Jim Milner, brought sparkling wit and humour to the Munro Room. Mr. Len Fraser, popular barrister in the city, made an excellent Speaker, combining a knowledge of procedure with genial pleasantry. J. A. Walker, K.C., was the Governor General for the opening evening. The three sessions were highly successful, and no doubt most of Canada's future politicians were present, as well as one or perhaps two statesmen.

In the field of sport the Law Society provided many highlights. Not the least was the defeat of Medicine to bring Law the inter-faculty football championship. On the basketball floor Law was equally successful. Team Managers were Bud Macdougall (football), Wilf Burchell (basketball), and Nick Webb (hockey).

As is only to be expected, the Law Society provided the debaters for all the intercollegiate debates. It is a particular pleasure to record that this year the Dal Law team defeated for the first time (in Saint John) their ancient rivals in debating, the U.N.B. Law School. Bill Russell, exchange student from Saskatchewan, and Delmar Amiro, represented the Law Society.

On January 28, 1939, President Bob Armstrong presented the Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, LL.B. '93, with an engraved tray on behalf of the Law Society. The occasion was the farewell luncheon tendered to Mr. Bennett by the University and the Canadian Club, on board the R. M. S. Montclare. In his Law School days "Dick" Bennett was an ardent supporter of the Mock Parliament.

The year's activities will be concluded with the Annual Banquet.

The Engineering Society

The Dalhousie Engineering Society is again away to a good start. The Society, though small, is a very enthusiastic group. The Engineers always try to do their best in whatever they undertake. In this year's "BOILERMAKER'S BALL" they have again given of their best. The success of this year's "BALL", "BANQUET", and "SUPPER DANCE" was due, in no small measure, to the capable direction of Wally, assisted by "Bob" and Blair, with Ted as financial manager.

In the realm of sport the society has had its triumphs and reverses. The football team went down to defeat but the Soph. Engineers, under the capable management of Bert Vail, won one of the two handball tournaments. In the soccer tournament the Engineers played only two games. The first game a draw, the second was a decision of 1-0 for Pine Hill.

The only inspection tour undertaken by the society this year was that of the Freshmen Engineers who visited Imperial Oil Limited, Dartmouth. There they saw the crude petroleum in all the stages of its manufacture. The trip was appreciated by the Engineers because from it they had painlessly acquired a considerable amount of useful knowledge.

This year the Engineers, together with the members of the faculty and other students on the campus, were invited to an Open House Night by the students and staff of the Nova Scotia Technical College.

This year's executive consisted of Wallace Wright, President; Harold Reeves, Vice-President; Ted Gordon, Secretary-Treasurer; together with "Bob" Walters and Blair Purves as assistants.

As the year draws to a close the Engineering Society looks back on a very happy year and trusts that there will be many more like it in the future.

The National Federation of Canadian University Students

During the past year the Federation has been undergoing a process of reorganization and is now ready to present its new policy. The chief features of the revitalized program are the increase in the Federation Scholarship, Travel and Information Services. Additional services in the form of an Employment Bureau, a Dramatic Club, Clearing House and a National Radio Hour are being established.

The value of a national organization of university students is recognized in every democratic country in the world; and the English National Union of Students and the National Students' Federation of U. S. A. are outstanding examples. Canadian students also possess such an organization in the National Federation of Canadian University Students, which is composed of the various Student Councils of Canada in order that a certain mass bargaining power of student opinion may be utilized for the benefit of Canadian students.

HENRY B. ROSS

At the present time there are twenty-five Exchange Scholarships available to Canadian students. The response to this plan has been so encouraging that the Executive has considered extending the plan to include Graduate Students and even exchanges with American, British and European Universities.

This year under the Exchange Plan, Miss Betty Sandall has attended the U. B. C.; Miss P. McKim and Miss J. I. Forbes are at University of Toronto. On our own campus we have Miss Mary Hayman of University of Western Ontario and Mr. W. A. Russell of University of Saskatchewan.

Thus, as in the past, the N.F.C.U.S. will continue to promote in every way possible a better understanding among all students; a greater degree of co-operation between all Canadian Universities for the promotion of national interests and to provide a means for developing international relations with student groups in other countries.

The Newman Club

The Newman Club was established at Dalhousie University in the year 1919, for the purpose of bringing together the Roman Catholic students of the University, and to promote their religious and social interests. The cooperation of the members and executive in promoting the aims of the club has made this year outstanding, and if continued will lead to an even more successful future.

The past year was marked by an increase in the Club's activities. The Communion Breakfasts were well attended, and the meetings at which many of our prominent citizens appeared as guests, were much appreciated. A play was entered in the Connolly Shield competition, and was ably presented by an excellent cast. The annual gym dance was one of the high-lights of the year's informal parties, and helped to maintain the club's reputation of being one of the most active societies on the campus.

As in the past, the executive wishes to extend its thanks to those who in any way have contributed to what we consider a successful year. And as in the past we extend our congratulations to the incoming executive and wish them success.

Student Christian Movement

EXECUTIVE

President—Glynn Firth
 Vice-President—Zilpha Linkletter.
 Treasurer—Lloyd Elliot
 Secretary—Mary Doull

 Publicity—Whitney Dalrymple.

ADVISORY BOARD

Rev. J. Norrie Anderson

 Mr. Frank Johnston
 Mr. Robert Zwicker
 Mr. F. P. Moriarty

General Secretary—Katherine Hockin

The Movement began its activities by a fall conference, held during the first week-end of the term. There was a large attendance, and plans were made for the year's work. Reports of National Council proceedings were presented. The first term was featured by a series of lectures on various topics. Meetings with visitors to the campus, Rose Terlin, A. L. Miller, and Gertrude Rutherford were held. Thursday night meetings in the Murray Homestead took John MacMurray's "Reason and Emotion", as their basis of study. The Movement co-operated on a tag day for Spanish Relief. The term closed with four students, Leslie MacHattie, Reta Harrison, Rowena Benson, and Jim Doull attending the Maritime New England Conference at Intervale, N. H.

The second term also had a lecture series of five city clergymen speaking on religious belief. Visitors to the campus were Jan Koups, Phillip Beattie, Lydia Gruchey and Grant Lathe. Federation Week which is being sponsored this year by the Dalhousie unit. The Movement continued to co-operate with Dr. H. L. Bronson in the study of "Jesus in the Records" and "Jesus as Teacher". The groups met weekly with an average attendance of about forty students.

Much of the credit for the success of the Movement on the campus must go to the hard-working executive, and to our capable and popular secretary Katherine Hockin. Kay will not be with us next year but we feel sure that the Movement will go on to greater things because of the impetus she has given it.

Canadian Students' Assembly

EXECUTIVE—Co-Chairmen, Anne Hirsch, Glynn Firth. SECRETARY—Barbara Murray.

The Canadian Student Assembly was the body set up as a result of the National Conference of Canadian University students at Winnipeg. The work of the Assembly at Dalhousie has not been successful for a variety of reasons. In the first term little was done, but in the second term the plan national scholarships was endorsed by a committee headed by James Milner. A visit from Grant Lathe, national secretary, was a feature of the term. Money was raised for Chinese student relief. At this date we are uncertain of the future of the organization.

The Dalhousie Film Society

In October, 1938, the first Film Society ever to be formed east of Montreal came into being here at Dalhousie. The elected executive consists of James Milner as president, Lawrence O'Brien and George Robertson as Vice-Presidents, and Gordon Davidson as Secretary-Treasurer. Four pictures were presented during the year—one each in November, January, February and March. The financial statement for the year showed a small surplus.

The Dalhousie Film Society is a group composed of about 225 members, and formed by the students of the University for the purpose of bringing to Dalhousie, outstanding productions in the field of Motion Picture entertainment.

It looks forward next year with increased hope, and asks the students to co-operate in its future membership drives. In return for the small fee to be paid they will receive perhaps eight or ten pictures per year instead of four, and will be able to enjoy them in surroundings more adapted to sound film projection.

The Delta Gamma Society

As this organization is composed of all women students of the university, it covers a wide range of activities. Its purpose is to make available in the fullest measure to all its members any or all of the benefits of university life. All women's activities are under its jurisdiction.

The executive got away to an early start by a meeting with the new students during Freshman Week. The first formal gathering was held at Shirreff Hall on October 27. At this meeting the society was privileged to have Miss Florence Blackwood, principal of Halifax Ladies' College, as guest speaker. She discussed the Conference of University Women held in Poland in 1938, to which she went as a Canadian delegate.

An informal dance in aid of the Community Chest was held at Shirreff Hall, November 23.

In the realm of sport, things have been going well. Joan Anderson is the President of the Dalhousie Girls Athletic Club, and has been ably supported by the different managers.

Last year Dalhousie won the Halifax swimming meet, and is entering a team again this year. Ground hockey, basketball, badminton, tennis, and even fencing are receiving the support of many. But apart from winning teams, of more fundamental importance is the genuine interest in sport manifested by an increasing number of girls.

Debating has been under the capable management of Maureen Allen. She is also chairman of the Maritime Girls Intercollegiate Debating League, whose constitution is coming up for revision. A desired change is an increase in the number of intercollegiate debates. Another innovation has been the organization of an Effective Speaking Club for women.

The members of this year's intercollegiate debating team are Rowena Benson, Caroline Young, and Lily Hirsch.

A resume of Delta Gamma activities would not be complete without a reference to Open House, and successfully continued this year.

The Glee Club

This year's Glee Club activities probably started off better than any other year within our memories. Through an arrangement last spring, the Dalhousie Player's Guild agreed to produce the opening show for the Freshmen. Their choice was Emlyn Williams' "A Murder Has Been Arranged" and through the able direction of Mr. Leslie Pigot, their production was one worthy of Dalhousie of any year.

In place of the Freshman show another play had to be found to be presented in November. The Glee Club executive stepped into the gap and rewrote, directed, produced, and acted in a one-act melodrama farce "Mariposa Bung". Of this Professor Bennett said, "It is worthy of a prize at any place or any time". It was, without doubt, the most imaginative creation presented at Dalhousie for many a year.

The "deus et machina" play was the first of a long string of one-act plays entered in competition for the Connolly Shield which is awarded annually to the best one-act play of the year. This year the plays chosen have been consistently good and most of them have been well produced. The Players' Guild directed by Dr. C. W. Taylor, presented "Overruled" by G. B. Shaw, a play dealing with polygamy "among quite ordinary people, innocent of all unconventional views concerning it." This was exceedingly well-received. The same night the Newman Club presented Noel Coward's "Hands Across the Sea"; this was also well acted but the best performance of this show was done by "Dids" Oland. In all these plays made up an evening of sophisticated comedy.

The Freshmen, due to the usual mid-term slaughter, were forced to abandon "Ali Baba", and turned to a one-act play. They chose "Sally Spry"—a comedy based on the fictional counterpart of Dorothy Dix—and directed by Mr. J. P. Connolly, they presented a show of which Professor Bennett said, "It's the best Freshman one-act play that I've ever seen". Their night included several musical selections and recitations by members of the class. Two weeks later Delta Gamma, under the direction of Professor Ronald Hayes, brought before the footlights a comic-mock-tragedy "From the Soup to the Savoury".

There are, at the time of writing, still more plays to be presented for the Connolly Shield. Which one will receive the shield is known only to God and Professor Bennet. "Twelfth Night" is also in the making and the usual musical show will appear on Munro Day.

The Glee Club executive wishes to thank all those who have appeared in plays, assisted back-stage, or have worked with the Glee Club in any way and we hope that the support of these people will not be lacking as long as they are at Dalhousie.

The Council of the Students

The work of the Council of the Students consists chiefly in the routine business which varies little from year to year. This body, elected by the students and representing them, deals primarily with the handling of the funds entrusted to them by the students for the maintenance of the various activities on the campus. It is also the intermediary between the students and the officials of the university. To the greatest extent possible it attempts to bridge the gap between the Senate and the faculty on the one hand and the students on the other.

The Council of the Students for the year 1938-39 has tried to do all this as well as to supervise in general the activities of all organizations coming under its control.

The Annual Council dance this year was combined with a tea dance in order to entertain the students of Acadia University who were playing rugby against us on that day.

During the fall session much interest and criticism was aroused amongst the student body when the Council of the Students purchased a Wurlitzer Nickelodean to supply music in the Dalhousie store and for secondary dances in the gymnasium. This machine was appreciated in the store and at dances held by the students at Shirreff Hall and in Fraternity houses. The criticism arose over the using of the nickelodean in the large gymnasium following Glee Club shows. The council and the student body could not see eye to eye.

Shortly after returning from the Xmas vacation the Council appointed a committee to handle a large scroll bearing an illuminated farewell message to the distinguished alumnus Mr. R. B. Bennett. This scroll was passed around among the students for their signatures and then presented to Mr. Bennett at a luncheon given for him by the Canadian Club a few hours before he sailed from Halifax for his new home in England.

The Council, as the supreme body of the Dal students has received the active interest and support from the student body as a whole. It has tried to be impartial and just in its decisions and everything that it has done was carried out with the interests of the student body at heart. The fact that so many different organizations come under its supervision makes it hard at times to realize the minor difficulties some of these may have had. Yet in general the cooperation which the Council has received from each body has been most gratifying.

Ideally, mistakes are undesirable but now on looking back over the years it seems that Dalhousie students are far richer for them. Profiting by the experience gained the Council in future years will be a far more efficient body in dealing with problems of student life.

To the student body the Council is most grateful for the cooperation received and is most severe in wishing the student body of 1939-40 a most happy and successful year.

The D. A. A. C.

The Dalhousie Amateur Athletic Club with the completion of another successful year has maintained the distinction of being the most active and efficient committee on the Campus.

The D.A.A.C. has sole jurisdiction over male athletics at the University. The Club sponsors fourteen sports to enable every student to participate in some branch of athletics. The work necessary for the execution of the Club's program is carried out by the Managing Committee. This committee is composed of faculty members, representatives elected by each faculty and the executive elected by the male students. This committee is charged with stating the policy of the Club on athletics, granting financial aid to the different sports, appointing managers and other officials, and nominating candidates for the elective offices of the Club.

Basketball is at date of writing in full progress. Both Senior and Intermediate teams are showing promise of reaching the top. Interfaculty Basketball and Softball Leagues are in full swing and it would be futile to attempt to pick the winners.

1939 Pharos

Badminton, Wrestling, Gymnastics and Boxing are showing increased interest. The Boxing team is looking forward to the Intercollegiate meet in March. Some titles will be won by Dalhousie at this meet.

The D.A.A.C. supported an Interfaculty Soccer League this year and it proved very successful. Next year it is hoped that the sport will be adopted by the Club and awards given to the winners.

Plans are being laid to hold a bigger and better Letter Banquet this year. All members of the athletic teams are guests. With the support of the Alumni this banquet will ring down the curtain on another athletic year.

The athletic season of 1938-39 opened with the winning by the tennis team of the Maritime Intercollegiate Tennis Championship for the seventh consecutive time. This is an enviable record the tennis team possesses. In football, teams were again entered in the City League but failed to reach the top. Each game played saw men injured and the players of the Intermediate team were used to bolster the Senior team. The Interfaculty Track Meet was again a success with the honors going to Medicine. Law won the Interfaculty Football title.

In Hockey, teams were entered in the Nova Scotia Hockey League and the Halifax Intercollegiate League. Interfaculty Hockey is again showing greater interest.

The Dalhousie Band

The Dalhousie Band for 1938-39 has had its most successful year since reorganization some three years ago. Due to graduation only a few of last year's members remained but around this nucleus a new and stronger unit was built.

Practice sessions were held regularly and enthusiastically. The Band was in attendance at football, hockey and basketball games, the highlight of the year proving to be the trip to Acadia in November.

Much of the credit for the success of the Band must go to Henry Wambolt, the director.

The management was in the hands of the Band Committee composed of Carvell MacIntosh, Don MacKeigan and Phil Christie.

The "Bulletin"

500 editions of the "Bulletin" were printed every Tuesday. An attempt was made to include all notices of interest to students of Dalhousie. As in the case with all publications, mistakes creep in. The choice mistake this year has been: "Girls' swimming class at 8.00 p.m. in the Y.W.C.A. tank."—The girls are still looking for the tank!

Mr. Noonan and Mr. Morris are both first-year students at Dalhousie, and both came from St. Mary's College.

At the very first of the season it was feared that the printing machine supplied by the Students' Council was too dilapidated, so Mr. L. Morris is to be thanked for the use of his office machine. In spite of the fact that few persons all year bothered to volunteer information, the Bulletin was printed regularly every week, excepting one, in both terms.

Sodales Debating Society

The first debate of the year was the annual clash between the pick of Dalhousie lawyers and the U.N.B. Law School at St. John, held this year in the sister city. The Dal. duo carried out a successful invasion presenting a masterful defense of the Alberta press laws, to gain the decision in a convincing manner. As usual a return engagement via the air waves will be held late in the winter term.

Next in the list of the year's activities came an event which will rank as outstanding in the Annals of Sodales. A touring team of Australian debaters invaded the Campus, created quite a flurry during their brief stay and left behind them a heated if not important controversy. They gave a convincing and effective display of platform ease and oratorical ability in defending Nationalism against the attacks of two of Sodales' ablest debaters before a large crowd in the Gymnasium.

Following the departure of the Australians, Sodales settled down to fulfilling the year's M.I.D.L. obligations. Arrangements were concluded for debates at St. F. X. and Mt. A., and plans were made for entertaining a visiting team from U.N.B. This series of debates formed the major part of the year's activities. Consequently the students were able to obtain valuable experience in platform speaking.

Radio debating, a very popular Sodales activity received a great deal of attention and an attempt was made to arrange an extensive series of debates under the M.I.D.L. However negotiations fell through and the project had to be put off until the M.I.D.L. annual meeting.

The Bennett Shield series of inter-class debates afforded an opportunity for the display of intra-mural rivalry on the debating platform, rounding out the year's activities very nicely.

Sodales and Kings were jointly hosts to the representatives of the member colleges of the M.I.D.L. who came to Halifax for their annual committee meeting.

Good general student interest and interesting debates both at home and away combined to make the year very successful for one of the oldest organizations on the campus.

Students' Gymnasium Committee

GEORGE HAGEN, Chairman

A few years ago there was formed a body of students under the name of the Students' Gymnasium Committee and Schedule Committee. The members that formed this committee were selected from the four chief organizations on the campus. The Presidents of the D.A.A.C., Delta Gamma, Glee Club, and Sodales, together with a member at large, and a member of the Students' Council. This being such a representative group it was felt, that it could well manage the Gymnasium. The looking after of the schedules, imposing fines upon those who break the University regulations, are some of its duties.

This year in its short period of office, this committee has accomplished several things. About the most important was when it went to the Senate of the University, requesting that Sunday afternoons be opened to the D.A.A.C., and the Glee Club. This request was finally granted by that body.

The term of this year has been short, but much has been accomplished. The committee's untiring efforts have so far been successful, and at present there is a plan at foot to bring further improvements to the Gymnasium.

The Chairman wishes to take this opportunity to thank those who have worked with him to bring about better management and cooperation in the Gym.

Members of the Committee:

George Hagen—Council Member, Chairman, Secretary
Thomas Sheehan—President, D.A.A.C.
John Dickey—President Sodales
Zilpha Linkletter—President Delta Gamma
John Morrison—President Glee Club
Irene Pentz—Member at Large

Canadian Officers Training Corps

The Dalhousie-King's Contingent, Canadian Officers' Training Corps, has this year had one of the most successful training seasons in its history.

Major A. Stanley Walker has for a second year filled the position of commanding officer of the Contingent, with Captain John R. Cameron in command of "A" Company, and Major R. E. D. Cattley, a new-comer to Dalhousie-King's, as officer commanding "B" Company at King's.

This year "A" Company has had the capable services of Captain S. T. E. Fetterly of the Princess Louise Fusiliers (Machine Gunners) as lecturer for candidates qualifying for "A" certificate (lieutenant), and Lieut. D. Spry of the R. C. R. as lecturer for "B" certificate (captain). Twenty-five candidates from "A" Company sat at examination to qualify for "A" certificate, while some seven sat for "B" certificate. It is hoped that as many as possible of this number will obtain commissions in the Active Militia of Canada, that being the ultimate purpose of the training provided by the C.O.T.C.

The training season extended from the eleventh day of October until March twenty-seven, and consisted of twenty-four parades held each Monday night during the college term. The Annual Inspection was held at the last parade. The unit had a large enlistment this year, some forty officers and cadets joining "A" Company for training. The only public appearance of the Contingent was on November 11th, when both companies turned out in force for the Remembrance Day parade. Many favourable comments were received on the smart turnout of the unit.

Lieut. Wilmur Fraser, Musketry Officer for the Contingent, has been most active in promoting interest in rifle shooting. Both a senior and a junior rifle team were entered in the City Rifle League and each team made a creditable showing.

At the date of writing, no announcement has been made as to the winner of the cup offered for inter-company competition, but "A" Company is hopeful of recovering it from "B" Company, last year's winner. The activities of the unit will close with the annual banquet to be held early in April. With the increased support given the C.O.T.C. and the marked improvement in efficiency in the unit, the future is indeed very bright.

The Dalhousie Medical Journal

This year marks the fourth birthday of the Dalhousie Medical Journal. The new staff took office at the beginning of the Calendar year. The policy of the new editorial staff is to make a greater effort to publish more articles by medical students, and fewer by graduates and members of the faculty. The Journal has now arrived at the stage of accepted appearance. But this is not enough, and now that the novelty has worn off, a high standard of excellence must be reached and maintained. Thus it will continue to be favourably received by its readers.

Although the medical students have shown great interest in the Journal since its inception, the staff is endeavouring to work up even more interest, especially in the students of pre-clinical years.

The circulation is increasing gradually. Several hundred copies of each issue are being printed, and many of each issue go to points outside of Nova Scotia. It is largely to the alumni that the Journal is now turning in order to increase its circulation. The publication is being supported by the students and faculty, and financially the Journal supports itself.

A journal award consisting of a gold "D" enclosing the emblem of the Student's Medical Society was presented to five students this year. These students earned the required 20 points to warrant the award. It is hoped that the Dalhousie Medical Journal will attain the greatest eminence that an undergraduate journal can—becoming a permanent part of the school activities, and an organ of interest and value, not only to the students, but to the University as a whole.

The Moot Court

Following precedent as always, the Lawyers this year presented a docket of fourteen well argued cases before the Supreme Moot Court of Dalhousie. Great were the arguments propounded by the senior counsel from Second Year, and many were the trips made to the Library by the junior counsel from First Year. The Bench of course was adorned by Third Year men exclusively, and great indeed was their dignity. But all their judgments have to be taken cum grano salis and in fee simple.

The Second Year men, as the leading figures in the Moot Court program, showed themselves to be of high calibre, and the Committee are faced with a difficult task in selecting from these contestants men to debate for the Smith Shield in 1940. Of the many qualified, only four can be chosen.

No case ever proceeded from start to finish without at least one fine being imposed. This year the Court established a new high when at a special hearing it fined Lyon Kaufman ten polar pies. There were eight judges on the Bench, and who got the extra two pies will never be known. Earlier in the year, in an appeal from the imposition of a fine of three polar pies, Lord Chief Justice MacLeod increased Ed Cragg's fine to five pies. The Lord Chief Justice said that the dignity of the Court must be upheld at all costs.

The competitors for the Smith Shield this year were Neil MacLeod and Jim Milner for the Appellants, and Mel MacQuaid and Gil Gaudet for the Respondents. At the time of printing, the Bench has not been selected, but as usual it will be composed of members of the Supreme Court of Nova Scotia, and leading lawyers from the City.

The Committee in charge of the Moot Court were Bob Armstrong, Fred Regan, and Jim Milner. They express their thanks to the Faculty who as usual were ever willing to help, and to the gentlemen from the City who so kindly gave their time to judge the Smith Shield case.

Senior Football

RALPH PLUMER, Manager

The 1938-39 squad of Dalhousie Tigers started the season off looking very much like a championship team. The boys put in three weeks of very hard practise under the guidance of Prof. Fletcher, Dr. Noble, Dr. Stoddard and Pooh DeWolfe and opened the City League at Studley on Oct. 8th against Acadia. The Tigers were very impressive in their 15-0 victory over the Axmen, and football seemed destined for a very successful season but the fates ruled otherwise.

On Oct. 10th, the Tigers played Mount Allison at Sackville and suffered a 6-0 defeat at the hands of the Mounties. This was a very costly game since we lost the services of Captain Kent Irwin and Henry Ross, two very valuable players, and the loss was keenly felt by the team. The injury list did not end here and each game saw other members of the team injured.

In the course of the next two weeks the Tigers were defeated twice by the Wanderers and again by Mount Allison. Then on Oct. 29th the fighting Tigers came back strong and, although the Wanderers were heavy favorites, the boys defeated them 11-9. This gave Dalhousie a fighting chance to win the title but in the crucial game with the Wanderers the breaks went against us and the Wanderers managed to draw out a tie game 6-6. This definitely put Dalhousie out of the running and the Tigers were defeated by Acadia the following week 13-3.

While perhaps it does not seem so this was a very successful season from many angles and next season should see Dalhousie on top where she belongs. The team was given a banquet at the end of the season by J. MacG. Stewart, one of Dalhousie's most ardent fans, which was very much appreciated by all those fortunate enough to attend.

I, as manager, wish to thank all the players for their fine co-operation and their sportsmanship throughout the season. On behalf of myself and the team I wish to thank Prof. Fletcher, Dr. Noble, Dr. Stoddard, and Pooh DeWolfe for their untiring efforts at coaching.

The following men were awarded the Athletic D's: Haines, Kerr, Mitchell, Feindel, MacKimmie, Eaton, Phillips, Storey, Leith, Pauker, Hutchins, Ross, MacDougall.

Intermediate Football

TOM LAIDLAW, Manager

The Season of 1938 was not a successful one for the Cubs, that is if success be measured in victories. Starting off with a young and enthusiastic, though inexperienced line-up, it looked as if the seconds were due for a league win. Injuries however took their annual toll and some of our best men were pressed into service for the senior team. Consequently coaches DeWolfe and Stoddard found it necessary to change the line-up frequently with unfortunate results.

Nevertheless the Intermediate team improved steadily throughout the season under the efficient coaching staff, and at times showed their opponents and spectators some fine football. Several of the players will undoubtedly make the senior team next fall.

The boys receive too little credit for their faithful attendance at practices and in their untiring support of the senior team. Attendance at their games was poor and perhaps this was a factor in their failure to hit a winning stride. At any rate, in showing fine sportsmanship the Cubs acquitted themselves honorably at all times and next autumn if all goes well those remaining will form a strong nucleus for a winning team.

Senior Basketball

WALTER R. LAWSON, Manager

Late in October the basketball team started working out under Charlie Steers, one of the most popular and enthusiastic coaches Dalhousie Basketball teams have ever had. Five of last year's regulars, Captain Ideson, Martin, Shainhouse, Seaman, and Hart were back with the squad. With some newcomers to Dalhousie and the greater part of last years intermediates, the senior and intermediate squads worked out during the fall up until the studies for Xmas exams interfered.

During the Xmas we had the misfortune to lose Coach Steers who was promoted to the Toronto office of his firm. Dalhousie heartily thanks Charlie Steers for all he has done for basketball at Dal during his two weeks as Coach and wishes him the best of luck in his new position.

The services of Bevil Piers, prominent in basketball and badminton circles in Halifax for the last few years, were secured as coach on Charlie's departure.

Bev whipped into shape for senior and intermediate competition, one of the biggest and most promising squads Dalhousie has had for some time.

Basketball enters a new sphere of activity at Dal this year with the entry of an intercollegiate team into competition. Owing to the eligibility rules of the Maritime Intercollegiate body, which usually strike Dal teams at the heart by loss of some of the best players, it has been impossible to enter a team in the past. However, this year will see the gold and black represented in the intercollegiate basketball wars. It is hoped that the attempt will prove successful enough to warrant participation in future years.

This year the bearded house of David team were brought to Halifax to play Dalhousie in an exhibition game. These master hoopsters defeated our boys but the game was real basketball experience for the team who put up a great fight. This game drew one of the largest crowds ever to see a basketball game in the gym and in this way is felt to have stirred up some interest in the game, which has been latent at Dal for quite a time.

At the time of writing the city basketball league has just started and it is impossible to predict the fate of either senior or intermediate teams, but Dalhousians know that win or lose these teams will do either in a sportsmanlike manner and bring honor to our college by the sea.

Hockey

To truly judge a hockey team, one must look beyond the games won and lost. This is not the criterion by which to pass sentence. The ability to fight back against a stronger foe—to give your best only to find fickle fate intervening and denying you any breaks is aggravating and would have dispirited a team weak in morale. So, friends, orchids to this year's edition of fighting Tigers, who, though ending up in second place in the N. S. Hockey League, failed to go farther. A parting wish—May all future Dal teams show the same courage and vigor.

Boxing

ABE BECKER, Manager

Boxing in 1939 we know will reach a successful climax, bringing back many championships to Dal, but in one respect will still be disappointing. It will be successful, aside from championships, because of the keen interest shown by those who participate, but disappointing in that few Dal students take advantage of the opportunities offered by this man-building sport.

This year's team representing Dal at the Intercollegiate bouts were:

Earl MacDonald—Maritime Intercollegiate flyweight champion.

Tommy White—Featherweight; runner up for lightweight honors in 1937.

Henry Ballam—Welterweight; runner up for lightweight honors in 1938.

John Windebank—Middleweight, a new comer from British Columbia.

Anthony Minichiello—Light heavyweight, as fine a prospect as ever seen in Canada.

Craig Smith—Heavyweight; says he will prove his own worth.

Manager and coach of this year's team is Abe Becker, Dalhousie's heavy-weight champion in 1938. He is ably assisted by Bob Arneth, 1932-1936, Canadian Olympic welterweight fighter. Also on the coaching roster are Milt Lipitz and Manuel Preiss, two New York boys, who know all the ins and outs of fighting.

Zilpha Linkletter.

Tennis

FRED BARTON, Manager

Again this year the Tennis team has brought glory to Dalhousie by retaining the Maritime Intercollegiate Championship—a title the team has not forfeited since entering the league for the first time in 1932.

In compliance with the new ruling affecting the number of matches to be played by the team per season there were four official matches completed—this being necessary in order that the personnel of the team might qualify for a felt D. We are very pleased to report a victory in each of these engagements having defeated Waegwoltic 9-7; Dalhousie Alumni 9-7; Acadia University 10-8; Mount Allison University 11-6. The victories over our sister universities were particularly commendable as we had the handicap of being the visiting team on both occasions.

And so to the tennis team of 1938-39 go many congratulations and noting especially that it is the only major sport on the campus that has retained a Maritime Championship Title for a period of seven consecutive years. This has been due in no small measure to the unfailing interest and material support that has been tendered the team by our Coach, Professor Mercer since the team's inception into the Intercollegiate circuit.

Badminton

GORDON R. HENNIGAR, Manager

Badminton at Dalhousie this year has proved to be very successful. The team practiced throughout every week in order to be prepared so as to make a creditable showing in the tournaments, and their efforts were rewarded when they played Mt. Allison and Amherst. The University was well represented at the annual Maritime Badminton Association tournament held at Amherst. Before the McCurdy matches began on January 19th, many practice games had been held. Some of these were against the combined Faculty-Alumni team and one with the Militia Officers Badminton Club. Members of the team also practiced during the Christmas holidays. The Alumni cooperated in every way possible to make the past season a success.

Tournaments in quest of the Oland Cup for Ladies' Singles and the Curry Cup for Men's Singles as well as trophies for three doubles events were played among the students.

Dalhousie is very fortunate in having the services of Prof. Mercer and Clyde Sperry to coach the team. The players benefit by their knowledge and experience of the game and their undying interest to the sport is encouraging.

Interest in Badminton has gone ahead by leaps and bounds. Although having lost the services of Anna Maclean, Bill Douglas and Clarence Keddy the team made a good showing in the McCurdy Cup matches at all times.

The support of the student body as a whole has increased enormously over previous years; the courts in the gym were filled during every spare moment between classes and on Saturday afternoon. In spite of the fact Badminton is considered a minor sport by the D.A.A.C. it is thought a major sport by the team, students, and followers of the game. Many hope that steps will be taken to recognize Badminton as a major sport in the future.

Co-ed Basketball

FLORENCE ARMSTRONG, Manager

A new interest has been added to girls' basketball this year by the formation of an Interclass League. This is composed of three teams: Junior-Senior, Sophomore and Freshette. The schedule included two games for each team. At the present time the standing is

Freshettes vs. Sophmores	18-18
Sophmores vs. Junior-Seniors	31-13

It is hoped that such a League will help to make basketball more popular with all the women students. There is a possibility that a cup will be available next year for the winning team.

The Intercollegiate Team has played two games with Acadia and two more are to be played. Scores were 20-16 and 32-23 for Acadia. We are looking forward to better results in the next two games.

We all wish to express our thanks to Miss Wray for her interest and excellent coaching during the season.

Ground Hockey

BARBARA SCHWARTZ, Manager

This has been a very successful year for ground hockey. Miss Phyllis Wray has helped us greatly to arouse interest in the game among the freshettes, and has worked hard to teach those who had played before how to improve their technique. Ground hockey is really enjoyable for those who like outdoor exercise. Although the season for this sport is short, it is grand fun while it lasts. The boys, apparently, must consider it so as they thought it worth while challenging us to play a match with them. The Dalhousie boys played us twice and the Kings' boys once. This was the first year for the Kings' boys to play us and we hope it will not be their last. As usual, we had several games with the Halifax Ladies' College and also our two annual matches with the Edgehill girls; the first match at Windsor, the return match at Studley. The large enthusiastic freshette class of this year will be a great support to ground hockey next autumn, and should have an even more successful season than that which we have just concluded. I feel sure that those who played join with me in thanking Miss Wray for her eager, earnest and cheerful coaching.

Gymnastics

HENRY BALLEM, Manager

Gymnastics comprises a major part of the curriculum of any college of physical education, consequently it justly merits a part in the athletic life of Dalhousie. This form of exercise has been proven to develop one's physique more rapidly and to a greater extent than any other. Regular practice of this most interesting recreation results in muscular coordination, or timing as it is commonly called, to such a degree as can not be attained elsewhere in the fields of athletic training. It is admirably suited to our student life as the desired acquisitions are obtained with a most economical time consumption.

It can definitely be stated that this year we have experienced more enthusiasm and progress than in any of the past three seasons and that the splendid facilities provided for us have seen very regular and active use. It is our intention to enter competitive exhibitions with teams from The School For The Blind in addition to giving our customary display on Munroe Day in the university gym. Greater cooperation and team-work is evident this year. Every individual is particularly concerned with the advancement of his partners and each member has been instrumental in the successes achieved by his team mates.

Graduation takes its annual toll of our numbers and we take this opportunity to convey our sincerest wishes for a bright future to the men who will go forth from our midst this year, and to pay our tribute to the skill and comradeship they displayed while with us.

Interfaculty Sport

GEORGE HAGEN, Manager

The term 1938-39, as far as it has gone, has seen a very keen interest in this line of sport. It is felt that a greater interest has been shown in the Interfaculty games than in any other line of College activity.

Last year, out of the five league, Medicine took the championship in three of them, Track, Football, and Hockey. Of the two remaining leagues Law won the championship in Basketball, and the Freshmen won the Softball.

This year only two of the five leagues have been completed as yet. Medicine again were victorious in Track. Law, for the first time in almost a decade, coped the title in Football. The other three leagues have not been completed. Two of them are well under way, but the third, Softball, is still in its early stages of development. The reason for this is the difficulty experienced in getting time to run off the schedules.

To those ever encouraging managers and to those students who have and are giving of their time so as to make these events successful, the manager takes this opportunity of expressing his thanks for their always needed services.

Soccer

MOSE MORGAN, Manager

Soccer awoke this year from its eight years' sleep to arouse unexpected interest among the students. The magnificent Cup, presented by Mr. Wilson, Fish and Chip merchant, and the endeavour of Mr. Sykes and the Newfoundland Club soon organized a league consisting of six teams: Kings, Pine Hill, Engineers, Commerce, Arts and Science, and the Newfoundland Club. The Newfoundland Club team succeeded in winning the championship. Kings and Pine Hill also played good games. To many of the players the rules were unknown and unfortunately the field was seldom available on account of the rugby schedules, yet the league was a great success. The Newfoundland Club entered its team into the Halifax Senior League fighting two games to a 3-3 draw, and losing a third to the last year champions (R.C.R.). The Soccer fans hope that next year, with greater co-operation from the D.A.A.C. and greater facility in the use of the field, soccer will be more successful. Next year a team consisting of the best players from all the teams should be entered in the Halifax Senior League as a Dalhousie team, wearing Dalhousie Colours, as in the other sports. With luck and support, Dalhousie has every chance of winning the Milne Trophy next year.

STUDLEY FROM THE AIR

Features

Bennett

It has been said that the real test of a great man is his ability to deal with emergencies great or small. No doubt the Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett has dealt with many serious emergencies in his years of public life, but we wish to pass to some of those smaller (or are they greater) emergencies which he has handled in a masterly fashion.

Just last month Dalhousie gave a farewell for Mr. Bennett, then on his way to England.

"R. B."

During the proceedings, six coeds were to present him with a suitable floral bouquet. The leader of the sextette made the presentation and said her little piece in most exemplary fashion and prepared to withdraw, but she reckoned without Mr. Bennett. So six blushing girls were soundly kissed by the grateful alumnus.

It was at a Dalhousie luncheon in honor of Mr. Bennett just about this time last year. Fred ("Tag") Day, then President of the Council of Students, was speaking, listing the many things Mr. Bennett had done for the University. Mr. Bennett had done this — and that — and the other thing. Then, meaning that there were many other things this famous graduate had done for his Alma Mater, said Tag . . . " . . . but this is not enough!" Mr. Bennett rose to the occasion and hoped that in the future he might be able to measure up to the requirements of his young friend.

Medical-Dental Library

One of the University's greatest needs for some time has been a suitable library for use of the Medical and Dental Faculties. This year, through the help of the Carnegie Institute and private subscription, this need has been satisfied and the library is now almost completed.

The Corner Stone was laid during the 1938 Reunion activities by the Honourable Dr. F. R. Davis, Minister of Public Health for Nova Scotia.

THE NEW LIBRARY

But there's one thing we'd like to know. At the laying of the corner stone, the customary sealed metal container was placed in the stone for the edification of some future centuries. In it were many papers and publications of the day and year, but not the Medical Journal of the Student Medical Society of Dalhousie, really the most appropriate and obvious piece of literature for such a purpose.

WHO BLUNDERED?

Tragedy

FOOTBALL had its usual ups and downs this year, but some of its downs were certainly due to the fact that, in the second game of the season, Kent Irwin, star flying quarter, received an injury to his knee that kept him out of the game for the rest of the season. It was an exhibition game between Mount Allison and Dalhousie, played at Sackville. Few Dalhousians were able to see the game, so here's the Tiger's Captain being carried from the field by Mt. A. Frosh.

Who Erred?

WURLITZER. Of course, everyone can't be right all the time, but it seems to be generally accepted that the Council of Students certainly was wrong when it purchased the Wurlitzer to provide music for Glee Club dances, etc., in the gymnasium. The machine has proved quite inadequate to cope with the acoustic problems of the larger gymnasium, and now reposes placidly in the Dal store, a sort of warning beacon to future Councils.

Their minds may be improved by book learning, but the "umph" they show when leaving is due to what Phyllis Wray gives them, as shown in the picture below.

Pharos 1939

THE RT. HON. RICHARD BEDFORD BENNETT, P.C., LL.B., K.C.

Richard Bedford Bennett

*Who makes by deeds his merits known
And lives to clutch the golden keys,
To mould a mighty state's decrees,
And shape the whisper of the throne.*

Tennyson, "In Memoriam".

A few weeks ago, aboard an ocean liner in Halifax Harbor and surrounded by citizens of all classes and political creeds, the Rt. Honourable R. B. Bennett said farewell to Canada. He was leaving to take up residence in England; and, being well on in his sixties, the thought was fairly general he would spend the rest of his life in that country. The whole manner of his leave-taking bore the suggestion of his residing permanently abroad; but not in phrase or action was there the smallest clue that there should be the least abatement in his efforts and zeal for the advancement of his native land and the good of the Empire as a whole.

Free of the exactions and inhibitions of party politics, the former Prime Minister spoke his mind on many things that strike deep into our own political and economic integrity and stir, too, the fibres of our imperial structures. It was a speech spoken in plain, straightforward language by one who knew and felt—and perhaps suffered.

Dalhousians were particularly interested in Mr. Bennett's recollections of his college days here; for Dalhousie knows him as her greatest living graduate. With warmth of memory touched with emotion, he spoke of his former professors in the law school and singled out Dean Weldon as one who inspired him and profoundly influenced his whole professional and public service. In and about the old College—now the Forrest Building of the new University—the former student found his December roses, Barrie wrote about; and their blooms lost none of their tinting and fragrance in Mr. Bennett's gentle touch or in the mellow warmth of his words. Of all the farewell addresses he gave across Canada, we like to think that this one, spoken while his Alma Mater nodded approvingly from the hillside, carried a message deeper, more intimate and abiding than the rest.

We do not think for a moment that Mr. Bennett's work is finished. Some of the ideals of Empire solidarity, formed at Dalhousie's Law School many years ago, may still need his experienced hand; some are already realized. One thing we know with certainty, that in whatever direction his great ability and energy may turn, Dalhousie can continue to be proud of her distinguished alumnus.

We Thank

All who have assisted in any way with the 1939 edition of Pharos, particularly the leaders of the various societies and campus organizations for the prompt manner in which they turned in the account of the stewardship of themselves and their associates.

Peter Nicholson for his specially good work on the Studley campus.

Fred Barton, Council President-elect, for his timely advice on the policy of the book.

The staff of Gauvin & Gentzell and Climo, and particularly Jack McCurdy and his staff of helpful, obliging and capable artisans in making this fine publication possible.

David MacIntosh for his invaluable assistance in proof-reading.

Dr. C. J. MacDonald of the Victoria General Hospital for the use of office space.

The Honourable George H. Murphy, former Minister of Health, for his excellent critique on the Rt. Honourable R. B. Bennett.

And last but certainly not least—our advertisers.

CONVOCATION PROCESSION—REUNION

The Dalhousie Reunion -- 1938

A million sparks swept inshore like a golden blizzard. They hid from view the carnival panorama of boats and water. The bonfire roared. Laughing people hurried up the hillside to escape the blazing heat. The evening's program which that bonfire ended, however, left a picture in many minds that will long remain. The summer beauty of the Birchdale setting was one of the highlights of the Dalhousie Reunion of August 1938. The sheer loveliness of the scene, the spirit of fellowship among those present, and the resurgence of something typically Dalhousian combined to make the occasion memorable.

Hundreds of Dalhousians will recall August, 1938, with unusual pleasure. It will bring memories crowding to mind: memories of placid buildings and green lawns, of old friends, academic hoods, and a nostalgic suggestion of graduation, memories of the North West Arm twinkling like fairyland on a summer night. These Dalhousians hold a new regard for the University. They have captured, or recaptured, something of that spirit which an ardent Dalhousian, known to most of us as "Archie", once described in his "Life of a Little College".

The Reunion began on Tuesday, August 16. Committee members arose and looked with anxiety at gray skies. Many were fearful of rain; more were hopeful of fine weather. The gray skies remained, but the day grew warm and fair.

Many memorable events took place in the next four days. Dr. A. Stanley MacKenzie received bronze plaques to the memory of Dalhousie's first three Presidents. The unique Castine monument was unveiled. The Birchdale hodgepodge and the cruise on the Lady Laurier stand out from a gayer side. Fifteen candidates received the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws. The corner stone of the Medical Dental Library was "well and truly laid". Mention must be made of that Pictou County piper whose strains of lamentation and gaiety resounded on appropriate occasions. The Reunion Dinner and Reunion Ball were two more Dalhousie successes.

A bald recital of the Reunion program sounds as though it were nothing but a series of parties. It was much more. It was an inspiration. It implanted in hundreds of Dalhousians a new regard for Dalhousie tradition, a new appreciation of the worth of Dalhousie, and a new determination to maintain and increase that worth.

IN A 4200-FOOT CHAIN

OR A FINE TROLLING LINE

Canadian Nickel

GIVES STRENGTH WITH LIGHT WEIGHT

A FISHERMAN reels in a fine, silvery trolling line. It is made of "Monel", an alloy of Nickel and Copper — tough, strong, rust-proof. Somewhere out in the Atlantic a chain 4200 feet long drags a 10½ ton plow which buries transatlantic cables in the ocean's floor. It was forged from steel containing 3¼% Nickel—light in weight, but more than twice as strong as ordinary chains of the same size.

When alloyed with iron, steel or other metals, Nickel gives increased strength, toughness, hardness, and resistance to wear and corrosion. So industry the world over makes use of Canadian Nickel. A locomotive in India, a coal cutter in a British mine, a truck in Africa and a dredge in Malay all operate with fewer breakages because of Canadian Nickel.

The sale of Nickel to peaceful industry brings money back to Canada. This money pays wages not only to those who work in the mines, smelters and refineries, but also to those Canadians who produce the food, cut the timber, manufacture the equipment and supplies, and man the railroads which feed Canada's Nickel industry.

You are invited to write for a copy of "THE NICKEL INDUSTRY IN 1938".

UNIVERSITY GRADUATES -- YOUR READING

Education and information is a matter not only of necessity but of pride with every serious-minded reader.

Reading must go further than newspapers and novels, and sound information must be sought on the great questions of religion, education, literature, science and politics.

THE DALHOUSIE REVIEW

The Dalhousie Review—Canada's literary quarterly magazine—supplies this class of reading.

The Dalhousie Review aims at following the example of the great British magazines in the free, intelligent and independent discussion of public questions.

Annual Subscription only $2.00, or three years for $5.00
