THE DAL BLACK AND GOLD CLUB

In the six years since its inception, the Black and Gold Club has played an integral role in the athletic programs at Dalhousie. The involvement has included a large financial commitment as well as behind the scenes help.

Financially, the club has raised in excess of 95000 in membership revenue from alumni, parents, and friends of Dalhousie. These funds have provided our students with many services. A sample only of these services are:

200 plus students receive a weekly post practice meal for four months.

Over 1500 hours of tutorial assistance has been provided to 57 students.

23 bursaries have been awarded.

72 student athletes have been presented out Most Valuable Player Award in 13 varsity sports.

152 Varsity Awards have been given to student athletes who have completed three years of intercollegiate competition.

5 outstanding Nova Scotians have been presented with the Dalhousie Award.

Our involvement also goes beyond money. Our members have:

Hosted the Lobster Supper with the annual Alumni Reunion weekend

Hosted numerous athletic receptions.

Assisted coaches in the recruitment of prospective athletes

Assisted student athletes in finding summer work.

Hired our student athletes.

Sat on organizing committees of the CIAU Basketball Championships

Sat on the Presidents advisory council on Athletics.

BALLET BRITISH COLUMBIA

Bold. Innovative. Provocative.

The Dalhousie Arts Centre is pleased to present BALLET BRITISH COLUMBIA, Saturday, February 11 and Sunday 12, 8:00pm at THE COHN. Tickets are $17.50 regular and $15.50 for students and senior citizens.

Bold. Innovative. Provocative. Sophisticated. Ballet of our time. BALLET BRITISH COLUMBIA has set its sights on giving it home province, the country and the world, a definitive new venture on the international dance scene. Since its first public performance in Vancouver in 1986, BALLET BRITISH COLUMBIA has proven that it is a dance force to be reckoned with. Through its strengths in artistic direction, superbly trained dancers, and a clear mandate to create dynamic repertoire, BALLET BRITISH COLUMBIA has bucked the odds and become "...the country's hottest new dance troupe."

Firmly rooted in the classical ballet technique, Ballet British Columbia presents an eclectic repertoire of neoclassical and contemporary dance works. The success of this company reflects the strong leadership of its Artistic Director, Reid Anderson. Former principal dancer and ballet master at Germany's famed Stuttgart Ballet, the Canadian born Anderson returned to his home country in 1985 to join Ballet British Columbia. BALLET BRITISH COLUMBIA makes its mark in the creation of new ballets commissioned especially for the company by some of Canada's and Europe's most dynamic young choreographers, including new works created by Artistic Director, Reid Anderson.

"Finally, it is neither the emotional nor the intellectual but rather the physical side of dance where the Ballet British Columbia exalts, with the excitement of handsome bodies, moving with a flexibility, precision and stamina the rest of us can only dream of." Marnie Coles, The Tribune.

The programme for Saturday, February 11 includes Petite Symphonie Concertante, Choreography David Allan. This work was commissioned as part of the original commitment of Ballet B.C. to Canadian Choreography. The Fall, Choreography, Serge Bennathan, Return to the Strange Land, Choreography and Design by Jiri Kylian. This is an attempt to convey the step from one form of existence into another and Lovesongs - Old Records - Side One with choreography by William Forsythe and Music by Aretha Franklin and Dionne Warwick.

The programme for Sunday, February 12 includes Brouillards with Choreography John Cranko and music by Claude Debussy, vision-flection choreography by John Alleyne (who recently performed here with the National Ballet), Pavane with choreography by Reid Anderson, Urlicht, choreography by William Forsythe and Lovesongs - Old Records - Side One.

PETER MANSBRIDGE

F E B R U A R Y 8

Even a seven-digit salary from CBS News couldn't lure this CBC veteran away from Canada. The CBS attempt to attract the charismatic Mansbridge to New York was financially generous; it proved to be lacking in an important area. Mansbridge was unwilling to give up interviewing Prime Ministers and Presidents in Canada for actresses and cooks in the United States.
