Dear Ms. Borgese,

Please accept my sincerest apologies for the late arrival of Vol. II #1 of our Newsletter of International Law. Our projections were for a December-January production of this issue, but a variety of circumstances not unfamiliar with the publishing business proved those projections in gross error. (sending only one)

I have enclosed herewith some ten (sending only one) copies of the Newsletter in which your article: "The Fifth Session", appears. I hope you like it.

If you have any further questions relating to this particular issue or any other, please feel free to contact me in the above Post Office Box number. Should you wish to reach me after August, please do so in care of Columbia University School of Law, Graduate Legal Studies, Box 10, 435 West 116th Street, New York, N.Y. 10027.

I shall be very pleased to have your comments on the issue.
With best regards for the season,

Yours very cordially,

Allswell Osini Muzan

Dear Mrs. Borgese,

Thank you for your letter which I received as I was leaving Illinois for New York. I have been in the business of trying to settle down to a new environment both at Columbia and in the larger New York area. So I could not write earlier.

I dare say you have had quite a busy summer of travel. It is commendable, and I am almost jealous!

I expect to be in New York for the next year or two, and for time constraints do not expect to edit the Newsletter within this period. I would, though, love to read your more recent writings on the Law of the Sea. Perhaps, too, we may be able to do some collaborative work in the future. But that depends too on what your numerous demands are in the near future. Please let me know if you find yourself in the New York vicinity. Greetings. Cordially, Allswell

Dear Lewis:

The years pass, and too long we have been out of touch again.
I would love to have your news.

Everything is going all right at this end. I have been deep deep in my oceans -- and don't seem to be able to emerge as yet. My new book, THE DRAMA OF THE OCEANS, is just out, and we are sending you an advance copy, with a BOTHERSOME request -- which I NEVER would make under normal circumstances: that is, if the book were mine. I am asking because the book is the International Ocean Institute's. All the money it is going to make is going to the Institute and will pay for fellowships and research programs. And that is why I am asking: Could you write ONE SENTENCE of assessment of the book that will "turn on" people to buy it? That it is timely? That it is beautiful? that it is important? That it puts problems into a proper context? That it is exciting? That it makes people aware of the problems behind the attempts of the United Nations and the world community at large, to build a new order for the oceans, and for the world? OR ANYTHING ELSE YOU MIGHT FEEL MOVED TO SAY! One sentence is enough!

Could you send it directly to

Miss Lena Tabone
Harry Abrams Publishers Inc.
110 East 59th Street
New York City, N.Y. 10022?

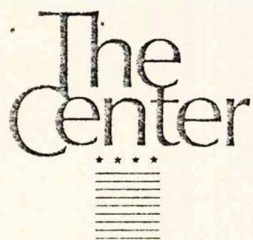

Thank you so much. And I am really embarrassed to bother you like this. But, you realize, it is not self-aggrandizement. It is service to the cause, which is our common cause.

My love to both of you.

Yours as ever,

Elisabeth

Dearest Lewis and Sophie,

Thanks for remembering me by sending the Harcourt
 Brace announcements. What a beautiful job!

I am thinking of you so often, even though we have been out of touch so long.

Every time I go back to one of your books,
 I find new inspiration - and the feeling that many,
 many years ago you understood, and predicted, a great deal more than the "futurologists" of today, who "technologists" have become either fascists or apocalyptic - if there is a difference between them two!

I am enclosing today two of my recent pieces "Beyond Peace and War" is developing into a major research project.

But most of my activities are concentrated on the ocean beyond. And it is here where we are making real progress - which, of course must be unhelpful

at any moment by the movement economic (and other)
Chaos in this country!

And my "hobby" remains "the flowering of dogs." I now have taught one of my dogs to play on an electric organ! She can play a little piece by Bach, the motif of the last movement of Dvořák's New World Symphony, and the Pilgrims' Chorus from Tannhäuser! You should come and hear her!

Where is Alison?

My love to all of you,

Yours as ever,

Frankly

Dear Lewis:

We have not heard from each other for too long a time.

Recently I took up Technics and Civilization. I was again tremendously impressed with it. What foresight and therefore what actuality today! It is so much better than anything written on the subject these days.

I am enclosing a paper I just completed in which, as you will see, I very profoundly agree with you.

I hope you and Sophie are well. I will be in the East early in May for a few days and it would be splendid to see you.

All the best,

Yours cordially,

Elisabeth Mann Borgese

Dear Mrs Borgese,

Thank you for your letter of 20th November. I am most elated that you have accepted to write in Id-Dritt, for I am sure that any contribution on your part is bound to raise the prestige of the journal immeasurably.

I am happy to leave the choice of topic entirely in your hands. As regards length, the article ought to be preferably of about 5,000 words, however, do not let this deter you from writing at greater or lesser length. The editorial deadline is the end of July.

I shall be sending you a copy of the next two issues, of Id-Dritt.

Yours sincerely,

Alec A. Mizzi,

Dear Mr. Mizzi:

I am very happy to hear about the international plans for Id-Dritt, and I shall be honored to contribute.

Would you like a piece on the New International Economic Order and the Law of the Sea? How long a piece would you like? When do you have to have it?

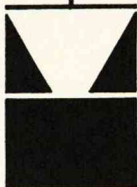

Please let me know as soon as possible.

With all good wishes,

Yours sincerely,

Dear Mrs. E.M. Borghese,

I write to you on behalf of the editorial Board of Id-Dritt, the local biannual law journal issued by the University Law Society.

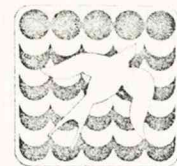

My Board is attempting to put Id-Dritt on an international footing. As Chairman of the Planning Council of the International Ocean Institute, I am more than certain that any contribution on your part would raise the prestige of our journal immeasurably, particularly as we have not as yet any paper on the law of the sea. With this in mind, please allow me to invite you to contribute an article to our journal.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Mrs. Miner:

The International Ocean Institute takes pleasure in inviting you to attend Pacem in Maribus V, to be held in Malta from September 9 through 13, 1974.

As during the past four Convocations, we shall have the participation of distinguished statesmen and legal experts, industrialists, fishery experts, ocean scientists, ecologists, and students and junior civil servants, with a maximum interaction among these groups.

The Convocation will be presided over by H.E. Mr. H. Shirley Amerasinghe of the Republic of Sri Lanka who, as you know, is President of the U.N. Conference on the Law of the Sea. Sir Anthony Mamo, Governor-General of Malta, will be the Honorary Chairman. The inauguration will take place on September 9 at 8:00 p.m. at the Corinthia Palace Hotel.

The Convocation will deal with two major topics:

1. An assessment of the results of the Caracas session of the U.N. Conference on the Law of the Sea, with special emphasis on
 - a. The implications of the Economic Zone concept for the development of an international ocean regime, and
 - b. The prospects for arms control and disarmament in the oceans. This topic will be introduced by Mrs. Alva Myrdal of Sweden on the afternoon of September 13. Her presentation will be followed by a report by Dr. N. K. Panikkar of India on the Indian Ocean as a Zone of Peace, and by general discussion.
2. The development of the living resources of the Mediterranean. This topic will be introduced by Dr. Sidney Holt, Director of the IOI.

Dear Mrs. Borgese:

We are much impressed by your clear exposition of the self-management concept in the May-June Issue of The Center Magazine, and are hoping that your remarks there and in your previous studies THE OCEAN REGIME and THE WORLD COMMUNITIES are being published in book form. If so, I should appreciate knowing when the publication or publications will be available. In the event that all of this material has not yet been committed to some publisher in this country we should be very much interested in offering such a possibility. We have for several years been hoping to find a useful book in the realm of peace research.

Thank you for your good work, and do let us hear from you.

Very truly yours,

No. 1301 July, 31 1972

Sirs,

The Third World Future Research Conference, on THE COMMON FUTURE OF MEN is to be held in Bucharest, Romania, from 4 to 10 September, 1972 under the auspices of the Continuing Committee of the World Future Research Conference.

On this occasion an international exhibition of publications (books and journals) on futurology will be mounted.

The aim of this exhibition is to present those publications which reflect the concerns of the scientists participating in this scientific event as well as the current level of research in this field. The proceedings will develop in sections, working groups, round tables and other forms of debate. The following problems will be discussed under the general theme:

- global images and representations about the future, reports on how the peoples conceive their own future in the context of general development and collaboration;
- future research and systems thinking; explorative studies about the future based on investigations of social systems;
- operationalizing future research - connecting prognosis and long-term planning with present demands and action; - normative planning and public (mass) participation;
- criticism, public participation (mass criticism) aiming at improving research and creation of the future;
- ideological implications of the future research and the use of public (mass) initiative for its improvement;
- mathematical models and formalization technique in the future research;
- youth's future and future youth, - the participation of youth in the struggle for creating a better future through their own activities;
- the position of sciences in the future society a.s.o.

We would enjoy your participation in this exhibition with as many outstanding publications as possible issued in the years 1960-1972. The exhibition is organized by: The Centre of Information and Documentation in Social and Political Sciences, București, Sector 6, str. Gutenberg No. 3 bis.

All materials exhibited remain with the organizer.

If you wish to participate in this exhibition please send us the list of your publications not later than June 30, 1972.

All the materials will be addressed to the Centre of Information and Documentation in Social and Political Sciences until August 10, 1972.

Sincerely yours,
Prof. Ecaterina Micu

Dear Mrs. Borgese:

The Massachusetts Institute of Technology Sea Grant Program is planning to publish the proceedings of last month's conference on the Oceans of the World: the Last Frontier, in which you participated. We are doing this with at least the moral, if not financial support of the Massachusetts League of Women Voters and the United Nations Association of Greater Boston, cosponsors of the conference, and plan to begin the process of typing, editing, and printing toward the end of May.

This letter is just to inform you of our intentions; you will be receiving a copy of the edited manuscript for your full review and approval.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions and comments.
