Dear Mr. Raddall:

You have doubtless received many congratulatory letters about your book "The Path of Destiny", and I want to add my warmest compliments for a fine book, useful to all interested in the history of Canada.

As visiting professor at St. Francis Xavier University in Nova Scotia, I am giving a course of lectures during April and May on the history of exploration and of geological investigations in British Columbia, Washington, Oregon and California from early days to the present. Your chapters 20 to 24 have been a great help in preparing the lectures on the explorations before 1812, and I take this opportunity of thanking you most cordially.

Sincerely yours,

Walter L. Whitehead
