A Message from Our Director

It is, indeed, a pleasure for me to present this message.

A pleasure because it is my first opportunity to present the Director's Message; and a pleasure because the future for the College looks bright. As I have said to many, the turning point for the College occurred last year when you became collectively involved in the reinstatement of the Lecturer position in professional practice.

The College, as a component of the Health Studies group, has been designated as one of just two areas of emphasis by the University. I am confident that this, coupled with pending accreditation and external expert opinions, will result in a larger portion of the "pie". Already there are signs that our professional needs have been recognized. All of the previously withdrawn faculty positions have been reinstated. Most recently Faculty Council has approved the College proposal for a one-plus-four year curriculum with admission from university.

With increasing resources and faculty we will be better able to prepare you for your professional future. A future which must see you, the pharmacist, take an active role in the correct use of medicines. You must become dispensers of information and divorce yourself from the technical aspects of our profession. A major difference purchase of a medicine from a pharmacy and any other outlet should be the active intervention of you, the pharmacist. Dare to once again initiate the change. Your professional future may well depend on it.

In closing, I thank the DSPS, the alumni, the professional organizations, the Dean, other senior administrators and the faculty and staff of the College for their support and assistance in my first months as Director. When we are focused and work together we can accomplish much.

The faculty and staff join me in wishing the members of the 1990 graduating class every success.

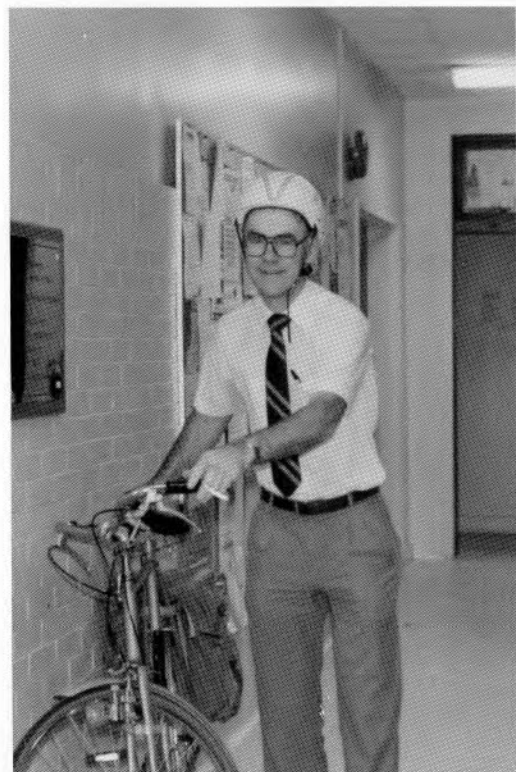

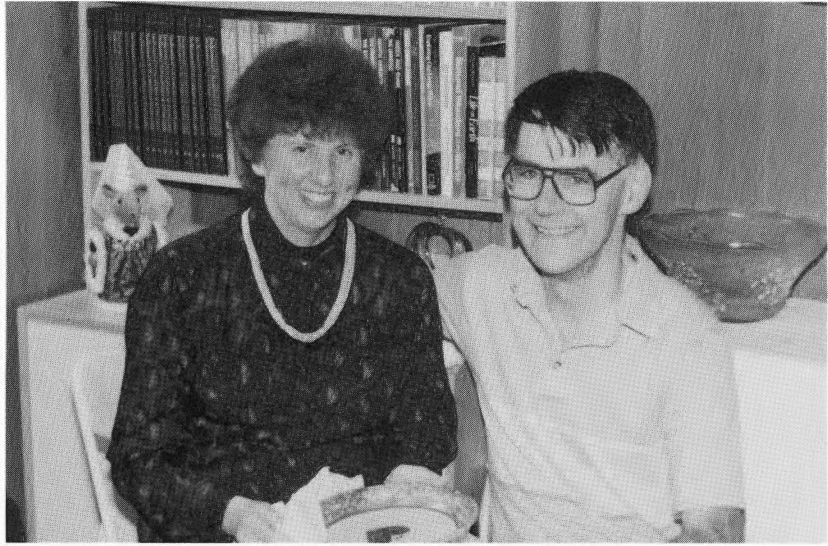

The photos we include of the staff members in our yearbook can never really portray who these people really are and what they mean to us, the students of the college. The administrative assistants in the office are essential to the smooth running of the college. Greg, thanks for all the invisible things you do that you never get thanked for.

Liz, if it weren't for your help in the library there are probably very few people who would be able to pass third year. Thanks for your smile and your encouragement too.

To all members of the teaching staff, thanks for all the work you put in. We know we aren't the only ones who put in late hours.

We admire your commitment to excellence and appreciate all that you do to make learning a positive experience.

A Week to Remember

Orientation Week! What a time! Most of us will never be able to forget it; others will never be able to remember it. The parties, the early morning lectures they forced us to go to, baseball at Point Pleasant Park, the banquet, car wash and most of all the people. The people we met during frosh week will be with us not only for the next 4 years but also for the rest of our lives. The friendships we form are stronger than steel and these people will be our friends forever.

Splashing at DalPlex

This year the pool party was a great time. People showed up looking fit and tanned from the recently ended summer. Bathing suits and fun were out in full force. Everyone got a chance to go diving, swinging on the rope like Tarzan, or just plain having lots of wonderful and very wet fun. All four years were well represented and it was great to see so many first years taking an interest in this activity that was planned in their honor.

The DalPlex pool will now hold fond memories for all of us and it may never be the same again.

Toga Party

The toga party was a really great time. It is a great shame that only a couple of people actually wore togas. People seemed to rise above this lack of togas and managed to have fun, socialize and a few even had a couple of drinks anyway. Although the pharmacy students don't have much spirit when it comes to dressing up they sure do when it is time to go out and have fun.

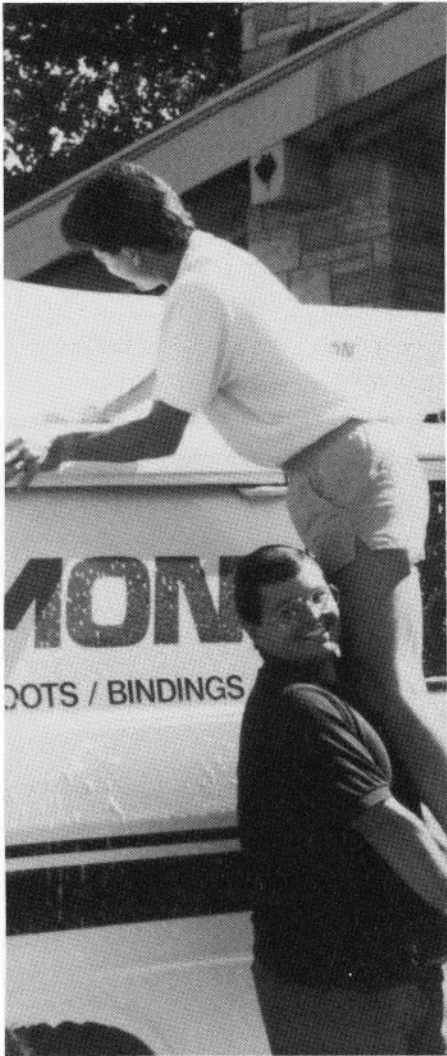

Boat Cruise

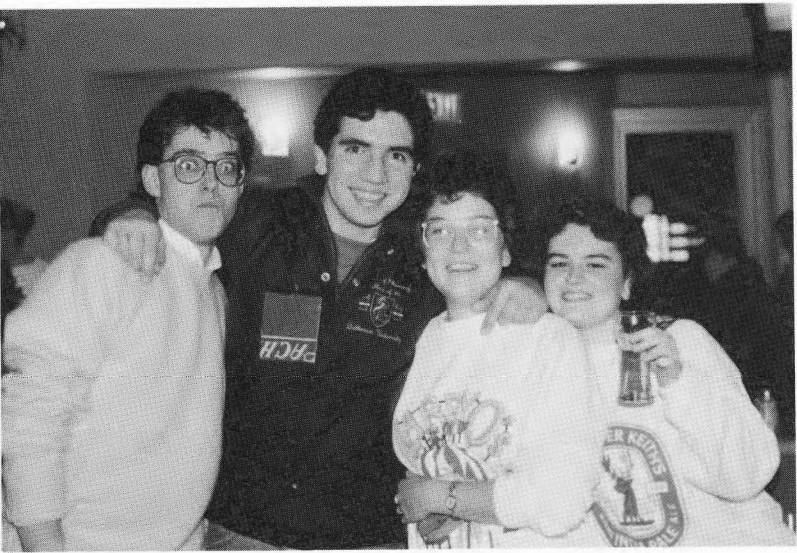

A tour of the Halifax Harbour during orientation week is a tradition at the college of Pharmacy. This year's cruise was packed as usual.

A relaxed atmosphere, the amazing scenery of the Halifax Harbour and a bunch of crazy pharmacy students having a good time all helped to make this year's cruise a success.

Volleyball

Scott in action

Third year spiked their way to victory in the annual volleyball tournament. They defeated fourth year in three games to one to capture the title of their first time ever. Nick "the stick" Steylen had been chasing this victory since his first year. He told reporters "It was a dream come true." Congratulations to Nick and all of the third year team.

Thank you to Jeff and Michele for acting as our referees.

Halloween

Congratulations to the second year class for a great Halloween party. It was well attended with many of those who did go getting dressed up and into the spirit of the magical season.

In the costume competition the winners were as follows: Dennis MacRae (scarecrow) 1st place. Gaston Deveaux, Lorne Buchanan, Todd Barnhill, Keith Hoyt, and Peter Hogan (zombies) 2nd place. Michelle Methot (crayola crayon) 3rd place.

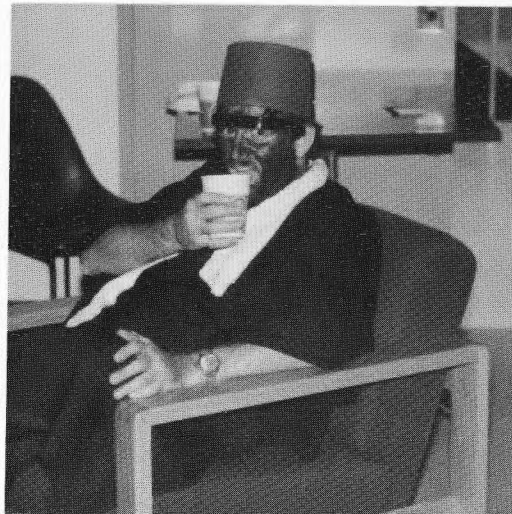

This scarecrow lost his brain at the party.

Right: Well disguised and having fun.

FOR THE HEALTH OF IT

“For the Health of It” is put on every year by the faculty of Health Professions to benefit a local charity. This year over $1000 was donated to Bryrony House a shelter for battered women. Hats off to Amal Raad, Deborah Cherry and all those who performed or helped out. The Pharmacy “Fantasy Island” skit won best comedy with Cand-isse Frigid, Leon Fire, The Hula girls, and the half dressed men in only their towels.

1989 Ho Ho Bash

The Christmas party, courtesy of the first year class, was a success. The fourth year band (who never really did get a name all year) supplied the tunes and kept the place rocking. Santa Claus showed up for a little partying of his own. In keeping with the spirit of the season a collection was taken at the door to benefit the food bank for those who are less fortunate than us.

Top Right: What big little boy. Has he really been good all year?

Btm Left: "And they all settled down for a long winter's nap . . ."

Btm Right: Happy reading Danette.

Pharmacy Week

BOWLING - yes folks, this year Pharmacy week had a new addition that is in danger of becoming a tradition. Very few strikes were seen, although if it were baseball many people would have struck out. Well, we had fun without trying too hard.

Pub Crawl

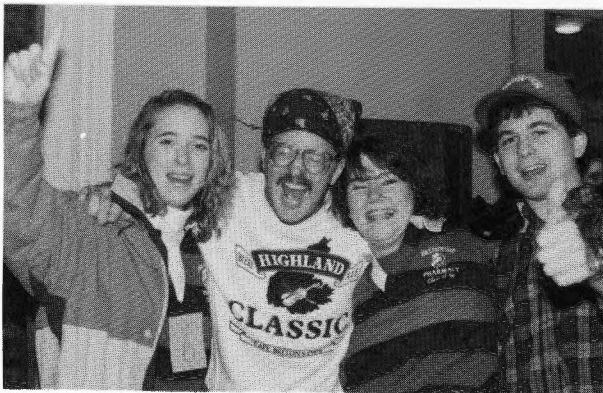

The annual Pub Crawl was its usual up-chuck of fun. The crawl started at J.J.'s, but by the third bar, draught was brewing in the stomachs of the adventurers (fools). For some, eruption was inevitable. The event (torture? You be the judge.) ranged from 30 minutes to 2 hours, but the party lasted all night.

Skit Night

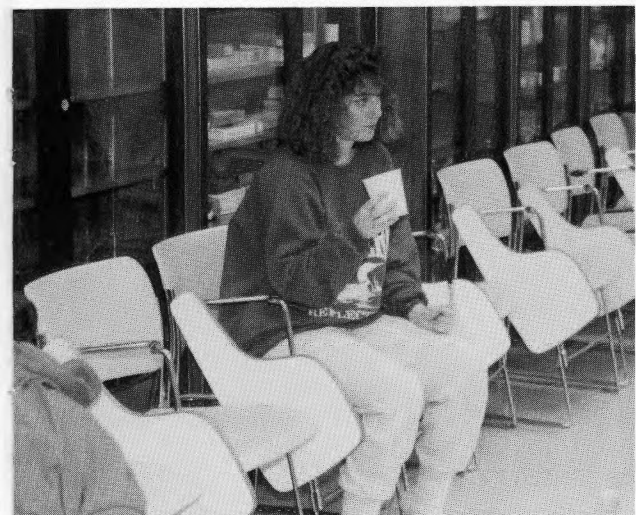

Well, after many years of hard work 4th year finally did it. They finally won skit night. Some comments that could be heard: "We should have won in second year with the Star Trek skit"; "This feels wonderful"; "It's about time."; "We should have won in second year with the Star Trek skit" (that one was heard many times over the years, not just on the fateful night.)

Farmers' Feast

This year all of the members of the Dalhousie Student Pharmacy Society executive had the pleasure of being the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Farmer for an evening of fun. After many appetizers, a terrific meal and a little too much of Dr. Farmers punch, a battle of the sexes ensued over a "friendly" game of pictionary. The women proved to be the winners but only after a bitter struggle that could have gone either way.

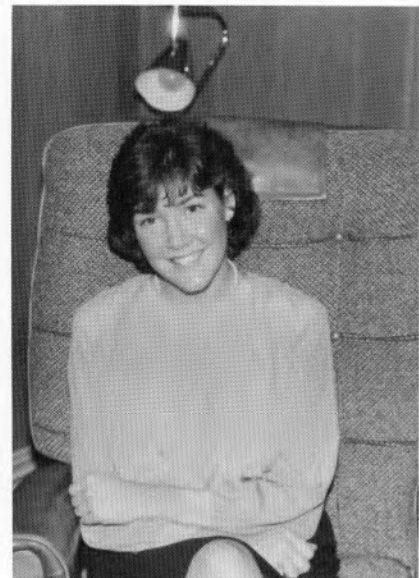

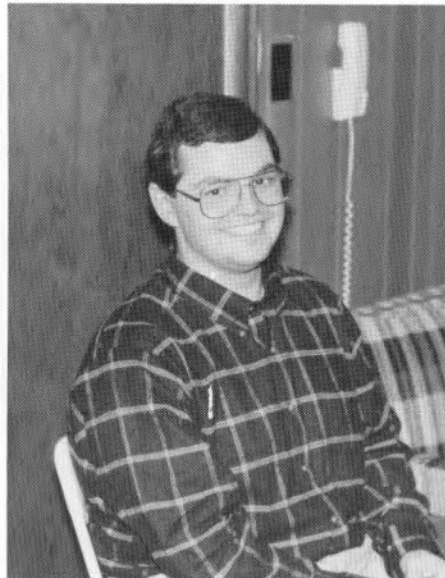

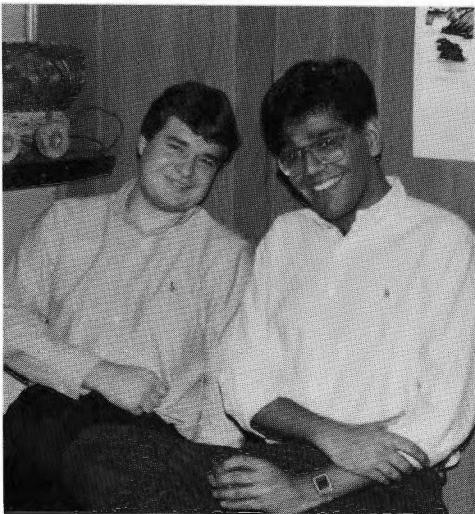

Thanks to the Farmers for their hospitality.

The lovely hosts.

Dr. Duff - A Truly Great Man

At the Pharmacy Awards Banquet, Dr. Gordon Duff's retirement plans were made official for September 1990. Dr. Duff has been at the College for twenty-nine years and many of us know little about him (besides trying to keep awake in his classes!). What we've failed to realize is the substantial contributions that Dr. Duff has made to our education here at the College.

Dr. Duff was born in the wild west of Saskatchewan. In 1953, he received a Bachelor of Science in Pharmacy from the University of Saskatchewan. After working a summer in a retail pharmacy in Ontario, he returned to the University to study with a professor of Organic Chemistry for a Master of Science Degree. (Dr. James had also started that year in a Master of Science program studying Pharmaceutics.) Here in Canada at that time, there were no PhD programs. Writing away to many of the American colleges, he decided to attend the University of Florida. They offered better financial assistance, a good reputation and a different place with a much warmer climate! During his time there, he studied Medicinal Chemistry and did research in Organic Chemistry. In 1958, he successfully completed his PhD and now very homesick returned to Canada to teach Pharmaceutical Chemistry at the University of Saskatchewan for the next three years.

Out of the blue the President of Dalhousie University phoned and asked Dr. Duff to come for an interview for the position of Director of the Dalhousie College of Pharmacy. The Old Maritime College of Pharmacy was integrating to become part of Dalhousie University. Dr. Duff accepted the proposal and came to the Maritimes in August, 1961, where he began the great task of the first Director.

It was very challenging as he initiated the transition from the old three year diploma program to the four year degree program. Working in a small building with limited staff can be frustrating. A few times Dr. Duff was tempted to return home but he stuck it through!

During his teaching career, he was moved farther away from teaching Medicinal Chemistry - partly due to the added responsibilities of being a Director. He presently teaches Pharmacy Administration - first year and parts of third and fourth year Therapeutics such as: hyperthyroidism, hypothyroidism, Crohn's disease, hyperlipidemia, thrombosis, liver disease, alcoholism, and miscellaneous topics.

Dr. Duff has also served on many committees and societies throughout his career as a member or as chairperson. To mention a few, the: Association of Faculties of Pharmacy, Canadian Academy of the History of Pharmacy, Nova Scotia Pharmaceutical Society, New Brunswick Pharmaceutical Society, PEI Pharmacy Board, CPhA, Centennial Committee (which initiated Centennial Scholarships), Admissions Committee, Academic Planning Committee, Human Communication Disorder Committee (which reviewed Dal's role in continuing education), PEBC Examining Committee, PEBC Board and as an examiner for PEBC in Pharmacy Administration. He also established an old-time pharmacy in historic Sherbrooke Village.

In 1970-71, he took a sabbatical year and went to the University of California to observe the Pharm D Program. Since this time he has seen Clinical Pharmacy be introduced in the fourth year curriculum and a Residency Program established here in Nova Scotia but he would still like to see these programs expand more.

Dr. Duff has been a strong supporter of the DSPS. He has only missed one or two Pharmacy Banquets in eighteen years. In his earlier, younger days he attended parties, pub crawls, sociables and other DSPS events. Recently, Dr. Duff was awarded Honorary Life-Time membership to the DSPS for his contributions and in appreciation for all he has done for the students here at the College. Also, the Annual Pharmacy Awards Banquet has been re-named and is now called the Dr. J.G. Duff Annual Awards Banquet to show our appreciation for his support. Dr. Duff has helped make this College what it is today and these small tokens could never repay him enough for all the time and effort that he has given us as students but it is our way to show him that we appreciate him and thank him for everything.

Dr. Duff plans to just relax upon retirement and just "be lazy". He will probably putter around working on the history collection and maybe travel around the Maritimes and the New England States.

We'll miss you at the College Dr. Duff! All the best!!

Annual Pharmacy Ball

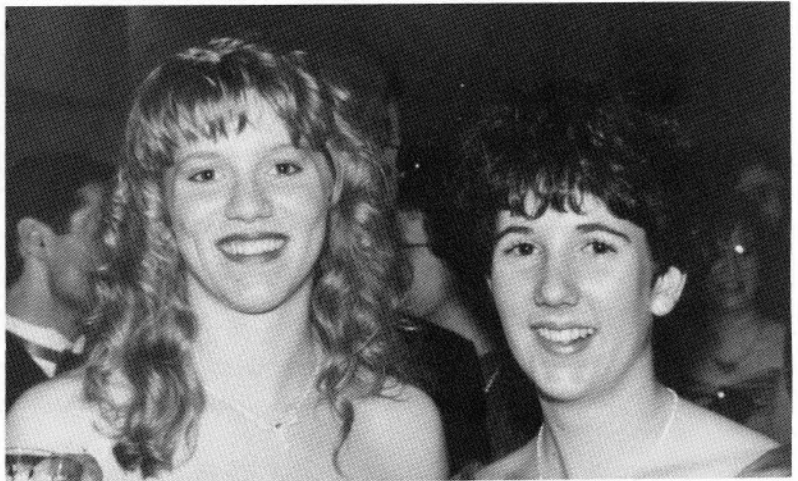

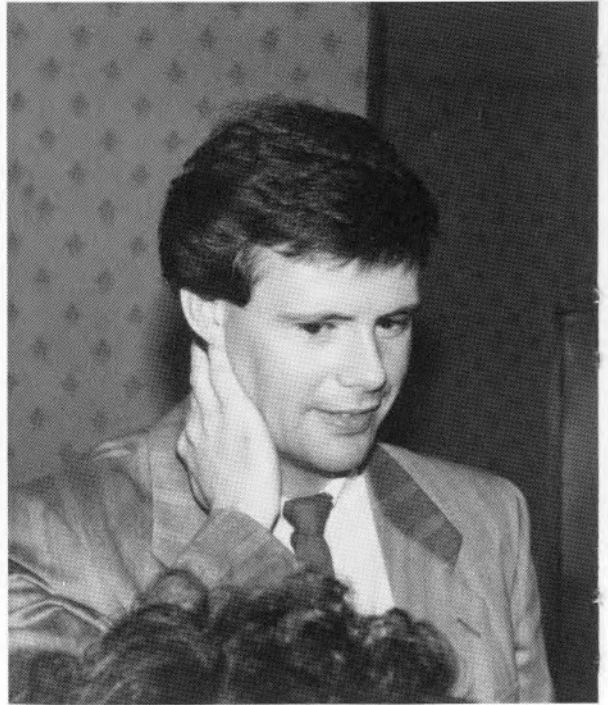

ANNUAL PHARMACY BALL

This year's Pharmacy ball was held at the Holiday Inn in Halifax. Tuxedos and satin were out in full force. We danced until it was very late. We had a good time, some of us even managed to have a wild time despite being all dressed up.

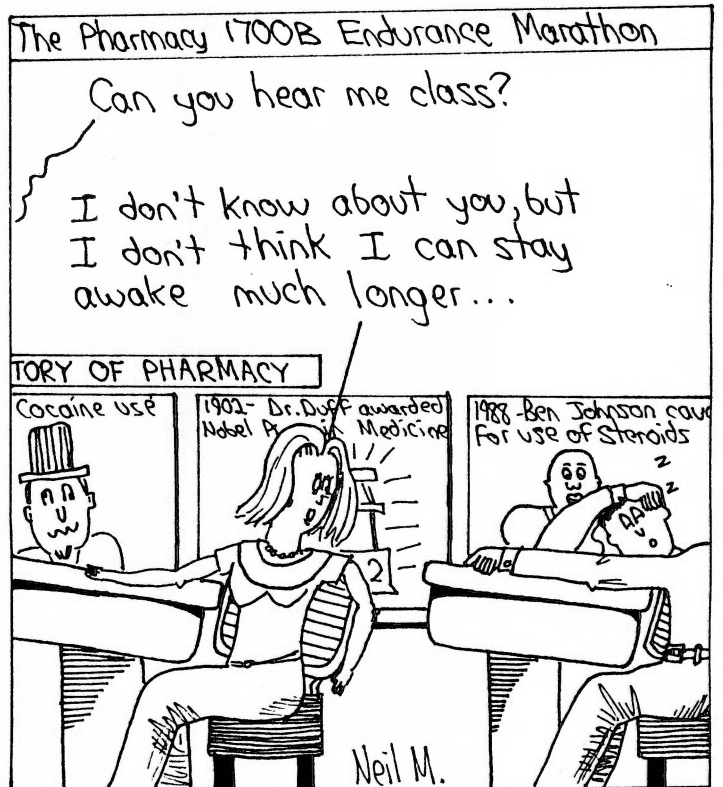

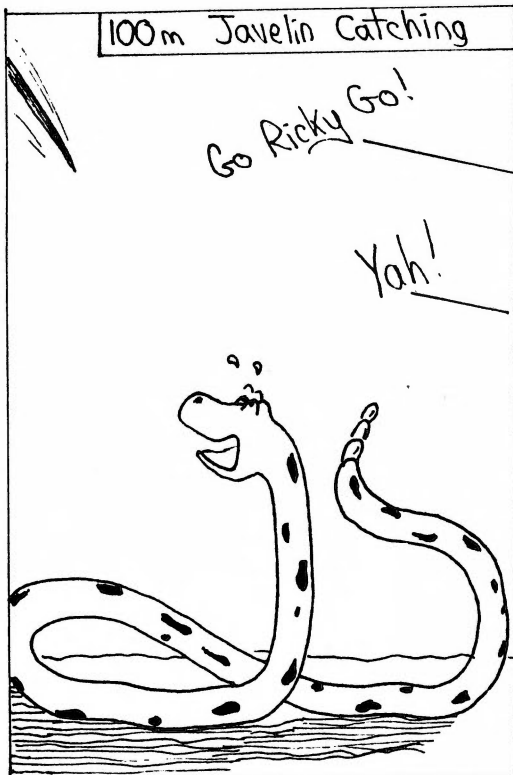

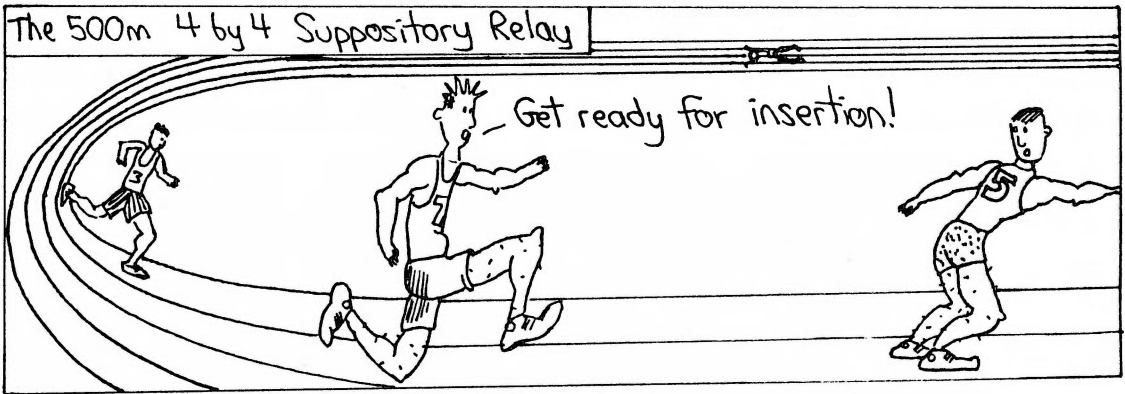

Derek Trainer and Lisa Kelly, our social reps, did a wonderful job in organizing such a complicated event. Everything went smoothly, thanks to all those who worked to make it a success.

Sports

In 1990, The College of Pharmacy at Dalhousie University, Halifax, was pleased to host the biannual Canadian Pharmacy Olympics. Our contingent captured the gold medal in the following events.

Sports

Intramural sports this year . . . well, they were less than spectacular. Many people participated and we placed high in supremacy. Unfortunately we didn't win any of the sports. This year's sports reps - Deborah Cherry and Keith Hoyt did a wonderful job of getting everybody enthusiastic about playing.

(The yearbook committee would like to apologize for the lack of team pictures.)

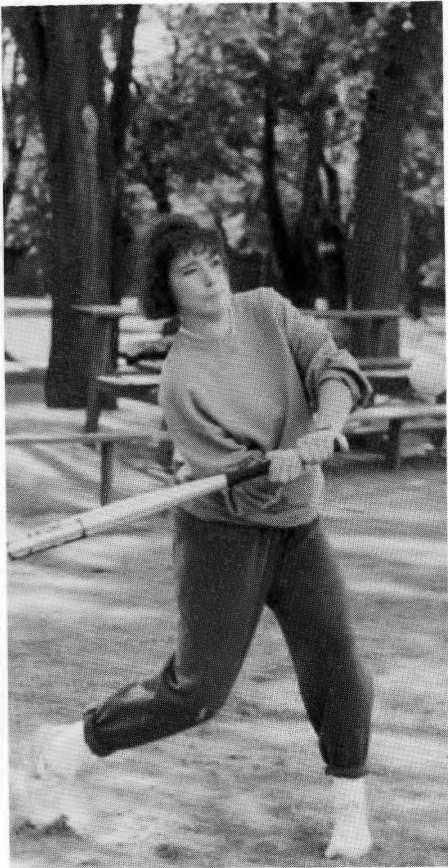

Now, how did Keith manage to make it onto the girl's softball team. Rather sneaky, but definitely not stupid or uncharacteristic.

Next President of the CPhA?

President's Message

It has been a pleasure to represent you as DSPS president this year. Being president was a special challenge for me and it made my final year at the college very meaningful and one that I will never forget.

This year certainly would not have run so smoothly without an enthusiastic and dedicated DSPS executive and I would like to thank each and every one of you for a job well done.

There is an endless list of people I want to thank. I especially want to thank the beloved secretaries at the college: Lisa, Sharon and April for putting up with my constant interruptions during your busy days. And Liz, you certainly deserve thanks for being such a valuable asset to every pharmacy student - what would we do without you? I would like to thank Dr. Farmer for your input and guidance and Dr. Chandler for your continuous support of DSPS affairs.

For the undergraduates, I strongly encourage you to make the best of your four years at the college and the only way to do this is to get involved in student life - become a part of the most active society on campus.

I wish each of you every success in the future. I'll miss all of you.

Sincerely,
Barb Kilfoil

DSPS Executive

CAPSI 89-90

This year, CAPSI has tried to increase student awareness and participation in professional activities and functions. Although we were not completely successful, we have made strides toward our goal.

In September, CAPSI began the year with CAPSI Awareness Week. Events, including a slide show, book ordering, CAPSI kits, a "Cooler Party" and a wage survey, re-introduced students to college life and CAPSI services. November saw the implementation of the first National Rap Session, with the topic of discussion "The Ethics of Tobacco Sales in Pharmacy". A group of students gathered to discuss the ramifications of this issue and an article on this topic was written for the CAPSIL. A major activity, PDW 90 in Montreal, had only 10 students from Dal attending. A great time was had by all and stories about the compounding team will never be forgotten.

There are many plans for the future of CAPSI at the College, including hosting a PDW in the next four years. Although the year was over quickly, it was a great learning experience for us. We would like to thank all the people who lent a hand to help us with the various activities planned throughout the year. Good luck to Linda Onorato, the new Senior CAPSI rep, and Angie Magasi, the new Junior CAPSI rep; their year will certainly be interesting and fun.

Charmaine Cooke, Senior CAPSI rep
Linda Onorato, Junior CAPSI rep

DSU Rep 89-90

As DSU Rep this year I had an opportunity to participate in campus wide activities and decisions. The 1989/90 year can best be remembered as the year Dalhousie students fought against tuition fee increases. The Dal PIRG, Public Interest Research Group was formed and students voted to support the South Africa Trust fund with $1.00 from their tuition fees. It was also the year Dalhousie did not establish an abortion policy. Next year the fight over tuition fees will continue and the DSPS will remain one of the most active societies on campus.

I have enjoyed my year as DSU Rep. Best Wishes to everyone and Good Luck next year Lori!

Carole Goodine
DSU Rep 1989/90

Sports 89-90

When we stressed the intramural motto of "participation over ability" at the first of the year, we didn't realize how important this would be to our success. At the awards banquet, when we learned that both pharmacy men and women had placed high in supremacy despite having not won any one sport, we realized that the enthusiasm at the college was the explanation.

In order to sum up the year and thank the reliable core of people whose names always appeared on the sign-up sheets, here's a few of the moments we hold dearest to our hearts.

Paul Cameron heeding natures call in a lonely corner of studley field while the rest of us labored to lose a flag-football playoff game.

Janet Beyer hitting the softball only half way to Robie St. so she wouldn't have to run as many bases.

Kenny Brownell trying to explain how he missed that ball in centre field to the boys walking back to 1477 Carlton.

Jimmy Gorham pointing to the number 44 on his hockey jersey after he hacked in another goal.

Gail Wilson grinning through a wire screen covered with snow melted by alcohol fumes during co-ed broomball games.

Nick Steylen doing his Captain Highliner imitation by hanging from a co-ed volleyball net.

Kirk Munroe's look of amazement after actually making a three pointer in basketball playoffs.

Peter Hogan's look of happiness when asked to call the girls for co-ed sports.

Rob Thompson's look of glee when I met him coming back from a cancelled 9:00 AM Saturday morning tennis match.

It was the laughs and not the awards, that made being sports reps worthwhile. Thank you to all who participated.

Deb & Hoyt

Public Relations 89-90

This has been a very active year for the PR committee as both new and old projects have been undertaken. Everything began with an organizational meeting in September and our first task was to create an appealing, informative newsletter and this was completed under the expertise of Michelle D'Entremont and Michelle Methot. A sincere thank you goes out to these two ladies for creating an all new "Inpharmation" which has been met with praise by students and faculty alike. Four issues were printed during the year, two per term, and the two Michelles deserve a lot of credit for the long hours they spent doing a fantastic job! The committee also organized three Pharmacy Forums, two in first term and one in second term and the titles were "Generic vs Brand Name Drugs", "Stress" and "Pharmacy Ethics" respectively. These were very informative lunch time topics for all those who attended and provided insight into areas not emphasized in the classroom.

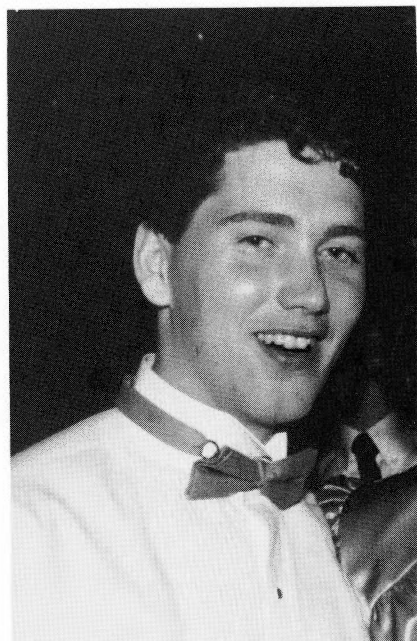

A third project completed was the annual mall display held at Scotia Square. The topic was "Generic vs Brand Name Drugs" and it was well received by the public. Thanks go out to all those who gave of their time to help us out. It sure is appreciated!

The last big undertaking of the PR committee was the Astro Andy workbook. Bernadette Cameron has started a new "adventure" for our little hero and with the new artwork it most certainly is a professional piece of work. Plans are underway to improve it even more and hopefully increase it's use to grade four students around the Maritimes.

That concludes the PR activities for 1989-90. It sure was a banner year and I wish every success to the committee next year in all their endeavors.

Sincerely,

Peter J. Hogan
Co senior PR Rep.

Social 89-90

As the old saying goes, 'time flies when you're having fun.' Where did the year go?

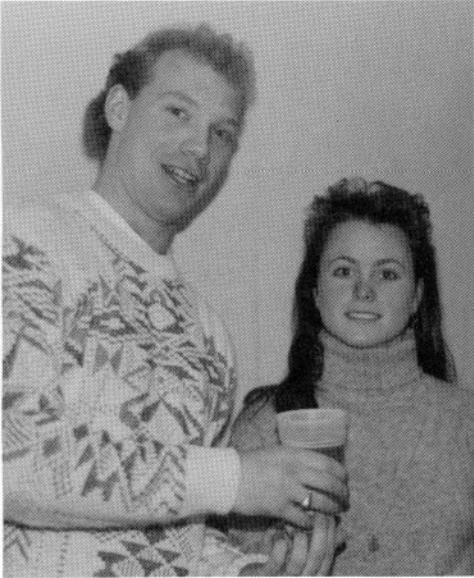

It all started with a phenomenal turnout for orientation week, with the boat cruise and the picnic being the highlights. The togas were few and far between. The pharmacy parties went very well all year. The Christmas and pre-spring midterm parties were exceptional, thanks to the help of the fourth year band.

Pharmacy week was enjoyed by many at such events as bowling, pharmacy party at J.J. Rossys, the pub crawl, and who could forget skit night. Congratulations fourth year! What a way to end a terrific year than with the gala social event, the annual Pharmacy Ball.

In closing we would like to say that we have had the most rewarding year possible. It was a lot of work but it was worth it. This position gave me the opportunity to meet many people and make lots of friends. We would like to thank Ken Brownell for arranging the many prizes for events, Hoyt and Hogan for their help at all the parties (carrying leftovers to their house) and everyone who attended functions, Thanks Guys, we couldn't have done it without you.

We wish the best of luck to Jeff and Michelle, they'll do a great job.

Party On

Fundraising 89-90

This year was another great year for fundraising. The car wash in September was a huge success. It was a beautiful sunny day and there was an excellent turnout. The ticket sales on the compact disc player and Far West jacket went well. The top three ticket sellers, B.J. Jones, Shelley Brown, and Mike Peters, were all fourth year students.

We were kept pretty busy in November as almost everyone ordered clothing. During the spring clothing order in March, we found out that pharmacy students love NEON.

Thankfully, everything went well, and everyone was supportive of our efforts. We would like to wish next year's fundraisers all the best in their new positions. We would also like to congratulate the graduating students and wish the returning students best of luck in their future studies.

The making of this yearbook is a learning experience that I will never forget. Thank-you to Mary LeBlanc the junior editor, and Neil McKinnon our staff artist. Thank-you Leah King - our Jostens rep - I know I would not have made it without you.

Thanks Ingrid Taylor - for giving me a hand (and a boost). I hope you enjoy this book of memories. I apologize for lack of banquet photos and convocation. I had photo problems on a few occasions. I'll miss you all.

THE PROFESSION OF PHARMACY

is one of the oldest in the world, with a long and honourable history of dedication to healing the sick. Pharmacy, like all professions, has changed over the years, and has generated many new skills and disciplines.

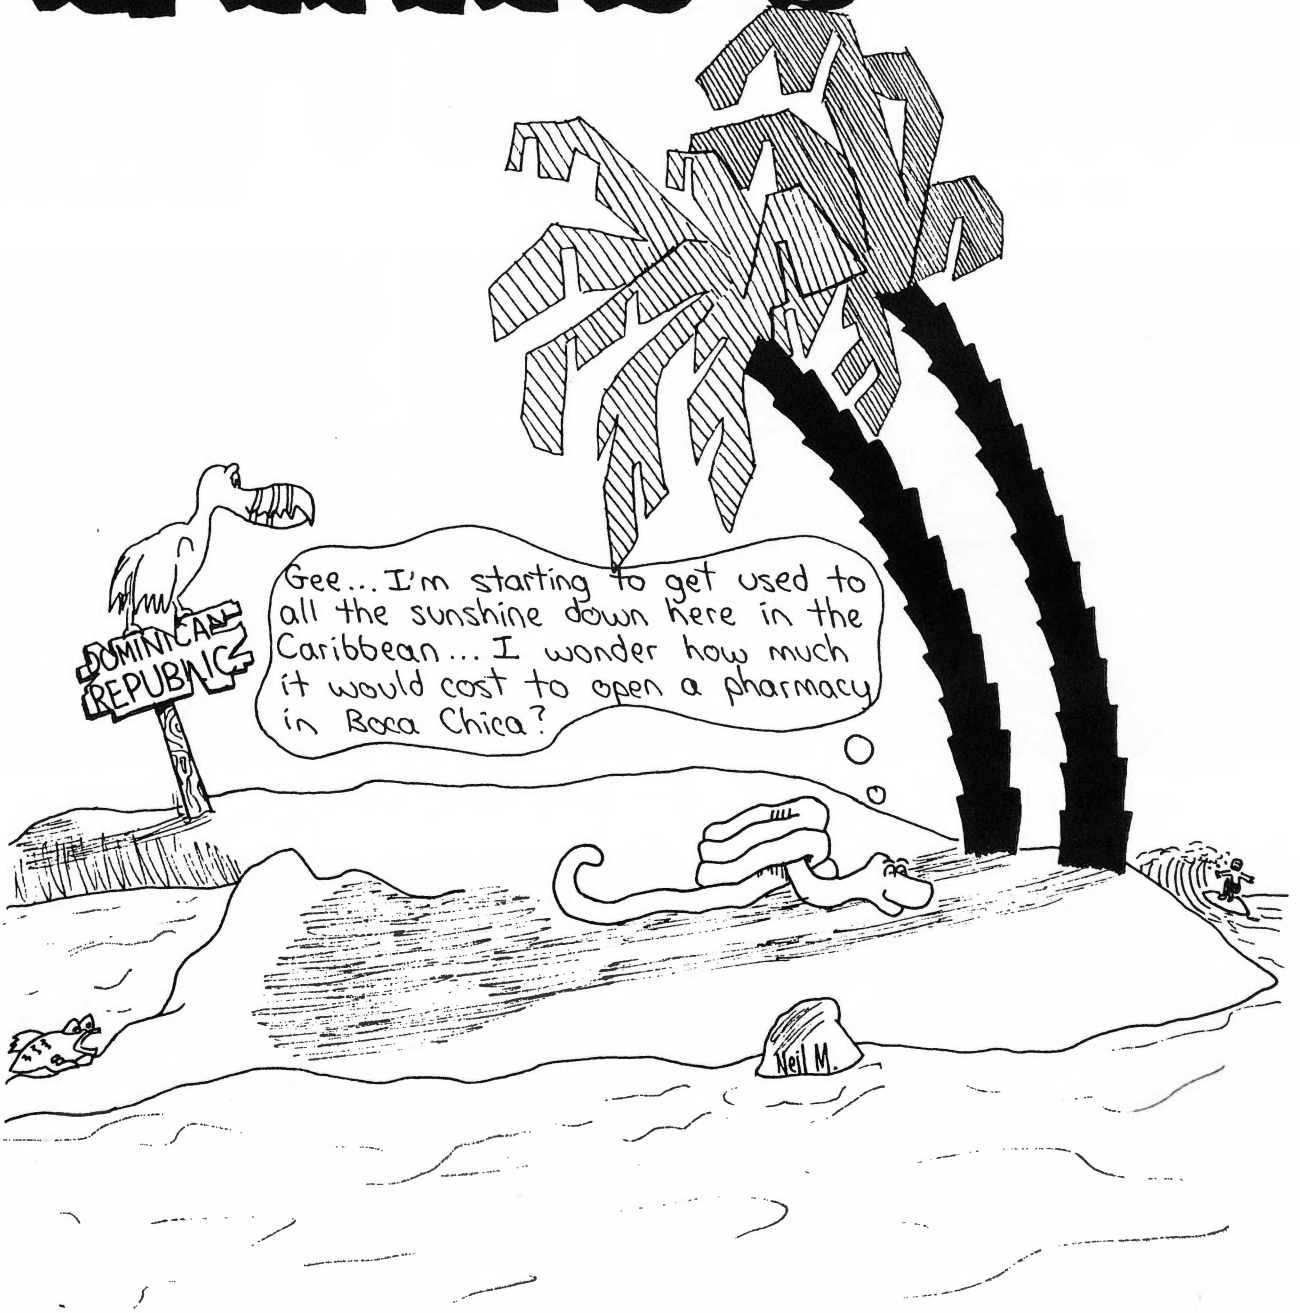

Today, Pharmacists may have different skills from their ancestors, who dispensed "ad secundum artem" from stock bottles of galenicals. Now, legislation permits product selection by Pharmacists, based on their knowledge and assurance of the manufacturers integrity, reliability and quality of medicines to be dispensed.

APOTEX is proud to salute all pharmacists and especially those now entering the profession.

Ode to Nothing in Particular

VERSE: Just take those suits and dresses off the rack,
Pull in your stomachs, and straighten your backs,
Get your hair cut, and scrape off the plaque,
And brace yourselves for Dr. Duff's attack.

This is your pharmacy interview.
If Michael Peters got in, so can you.
Don't tell the truth or you'll never get in,
Just know the structure of norfloxacin.

CHORUS: Those four years that we all spent in class,
You could say they were a pain in the head.
We've spent our time in the downtown bars,
And now we're all driving brand new cars.

VERSE: We left our mothers and we met with Beth,
(A fate that surely was worse than death).
While Dr. Duff talked of history,
Another faculty looked good to me.

In second year we thought our skit was the best,
But the 4th years got the win by request.
Then to organic class our minds did turn;
While caffeine kept our bladders round and firm.

CHORUS GUITAR SOLO

VERSE: Third year brought about a change in thought.
Our enzymes were induced, our marks were not.
Dispensing Lab brought us lots of stress.
Thank God for Isaac, and Cp_{ss}.

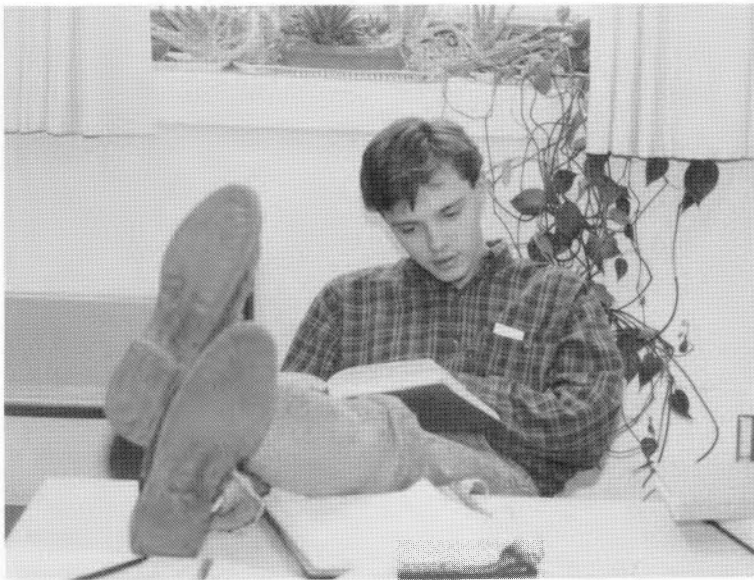

CHORUS - DRUMS & VOCALS ONLY

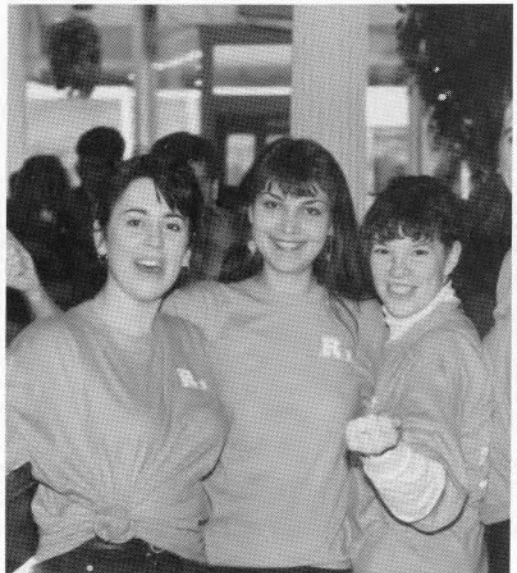

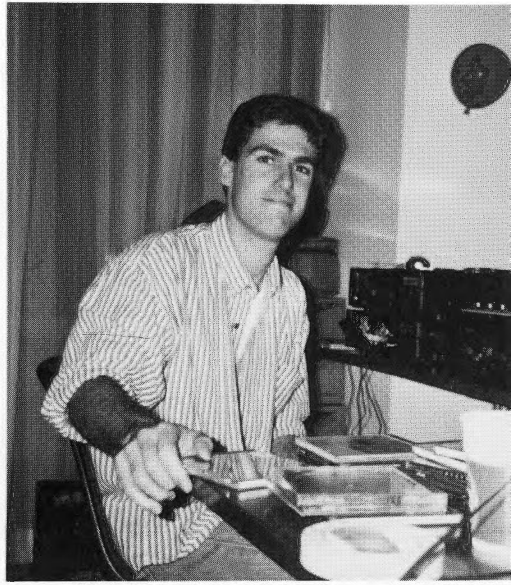

VERSE: Now we're in our fourth year of school.
We have no knowledge, but our skit did rule.
4th year electives are fairly benign,
Except for Dr. Farmer's Drug Design.

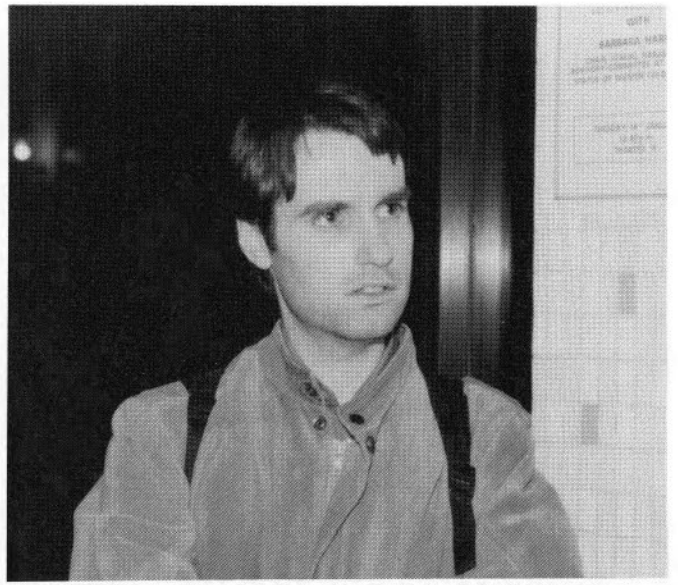

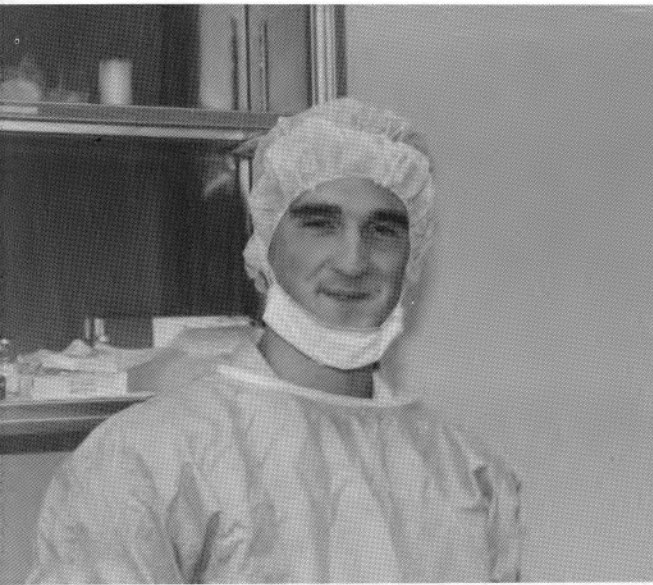

You'll find that 4th year isn't much of a haul,
If you can oxidize the ethanol.
Now we look ahead to PEBC's.
Dr. Glennie, won't you write them for me?
