Dear Mr. Raddall,

I have been asked by the University Women's Club of Wolfville, to inquire whether you would consider speaking to us at our March meeting.

We have been having a series of lectures during the season, all dealing with the general topic "Canadian Development." These have so far included - "Agriculture and the Post War Programme," "Canadian Music," "Canadian Education," "Canada as a World Factor," and are still to include "Canadian Literature," and "Canadian Art," in April and May.

Our March meeting, is in the nature of an open meeting, to which the husbands of members are invited, and we would very much like to have you as our special speaker on this occasion. As you can see from the outline of the programme, the trend of the topics has been forward looking. We thought you might prefer to choose a subject which turned our attention to the past. We would however leave this entirely to yourself, only suggesting that it should tie up with our general scheme.

Our club would of course look after the expenses of the trip, and my husband and I would be very glad if you would be our guest while in Wolfville. I think you and he were in Aldershot together a year ago.

The meeting comes on Tuesday, March 14th, at eight p.m. and is held in one of the lecture rooms at the University.

I hope very much that you will decide that you can be with us -

Very sincerely yours,

Helen S. Boggs,

(Pres. U.W.C.)

My dear Mr. Raddall,

How is the book coming? I heard rumours that it was completed and on sale, but I have not been able to verify the rumours.

I have enjoyed reading several stories of yours which have come to my notice during the last year, and your article on Liverpool in Macleans was a gem, I thought. When are you going to consider the Petitcodiac?

Mrs. Boggs tells me that she asked you last year if you would speak to the University Women's Club, but you were unable to accept. Would it be possible for you to come some time this winter? Our regular meeting date is the second Tuesday in the month, but for a special speaker we would be glad to arrange a meeting to suit his convenience. Our general topic this year is how various wheels go round: in October, we are hearing how the Canadian Nutrition Council works; in November we are having a discussion by members of the Club on how graduate work is carried on, with the Senior girls as special guests; in December, the retiring Librarian, Mrs. Ingraham, is talking on how Christmas is observed in various lands. Would you care to take as your topic how a novel is written? We have left dates open after Christmas in the hope that you will be able to take one of them.

Would you care to speak just to the Club - there are some 35 members - or would you prefer a public meeting with a larger audience? Personally, I would like to have a meeting for the club only, and another address, probably as a feature of the Fine Arts Program of the University.

We do hope that you will be able to come, and that you will plan to remain long enough to look over the materials on the Petitcodiac.

Yours sincerely,

Esther Clark Knight
