EDITORIAL

Two football games at Studley and practically the whole indebtedness incurred during the summer has been wiped out; what a blow to the pessimistic souls who declared that the plan of repayment adopted would be a failure. Favored with almost perfect weather conditions, with consequent record attendances, the gate receipts have reached a pleasing total. An expression of thanks to the spectators for their patronage of the new field seems not entirely out of place at this juncture. Their co-operation also, in the matter of seating, has been admirable. The inexperienced ushers, unaccustomed to handling people in large numbers, have been met with a very considerate attitude on the part of the spectators. In the few difficulties which did arise, the spectators have accepted the necessary changes with exceedingly good grace.

The fact that the "Freshie-Soph" annual social event was held in an auditorium in the city reminds us that there is a large building at Studley, the gymnasium, extremely well suited for such an affair and it seems regrettable that it cannot be utilized. It requires no small amount of money, of which the students have not an over abundance, to hire a hall for the purpose of having a dance. Many reasons are given for going outside when that splendid structure is available—it is to be hoped that some given are far from correct—but the chief reason seems to be that satisfactory arrangements cannot be made with the governing bodies. That is to say, it is available, but with numerous restrictions which the students think too onerous and fear would threaten the enjoyment of themselves and their guests. Surely, it would be a simple matter to work out a plan which would be suitable to all parties concerned.

Among the outstanding figures of the advisory committee which is responsible for the metamorphosed playing field at Studley, is Mr. G. Fred Pearson, alumnus and Governor. Ever one of the best friends of Dalhousie, Mr. Pearson and his good deeds are well known to the students, past and present, and need no further comment here.

Through the courtesy of Dr. Fraser Harris, President of the Canadian Club, a number of the students were enabled to hear Mr. Basil King, the celebrated author, explain the object of "Canadian Book Week" at the School for the Blind last week. Those who attended were exceedingly fortunate, and were delighted with their contact with a real live Canadian author.

Dalhousie was fortunate in securing Mr. W. E. Stirling as a gymnasium instructor. Well trained and experienced on matters of physical education, his services are now at the disposal of all students. This is a wonderful opportunity to get regular exercise, so necessary to the student, under proper supervision. The gymnasium, though not yet fully equipped, is ready for use and classes are being formed daily. The schedule for the year is being drawn up this week, so those interested should get a period allotted to their class or group.

ERRATA.

The number of students taking classes at the Law School this year is seventy-nine. The number (63) given in the last issue of the Gazette did not include the sixteen who are registered in both Arts and Law.

Acknowledgments

The Gazette wishes to acknowledge receipt of subscriptions from the following:—Dr. Christena McLeod, Miss Mabel Cumming, Rev. E. J. O. Fraser, Messrs. Harry Dean, O. Gardiner.

Canadian Book Week

Not a Canadian Book Week to merely sell more Canadian books, but one to stimulate the growth of a great Canadian literature and encourage native authors by appreciation of their efforts to express to the world the people of Canada, was that advocated by Mr. Basil King during his visit here last week. Mr. King, a Canadian with a distinguished literary career, is a native of Prince Edward Island.

In his address, Mr. King displayed a broad knowledge of his subject, and held the attention of his large audience at all times. The auditorium of the School for the Blind was completely filled by an audience eager to get better acquainted with Canadian literature and those who make it.

The speaker declared that writers were submitting to the world a true portrait of the country and its people; they represent, in part, the creative art of the land, and it is only while that creative art exists that the nation survives. Permanency was not produced by material progress alone. And, he continued, if the people themselves did not inspire the writing of the book, the painting of the picture, or the lyrical composition, it would never be produced.

In reference to the inauguration of the Canadian Authors' Association and its objects, the speaker paid a glowing tribute to Dr. Archibald McMechan, of this university, as one of the leaders of the movement.

"Think of us as your representatives, saying the things that you are thinking, using your words, singing your songs, painting your pictures. If you care for us, we can do infinitely better work," concluded the noted artist.

Dr. Fraser Harris, president of the Canadian Club, introduced the speaker.

PERSONAL.

Dr. Archibald McMechan spent last week visiting several Ontario cities, where he spoke in connection with Canadian Book Week, September 28 to November 4.

Mr. V. C. McDonald, LL.B., '20, who lectured on Sales at the Law School last year, is delivering a course of lectures on Agency this term.

Miss Wrong's Message

Miss Margaret Wrong, who has spent the past year and a half among the students of Central Europe has been at Dalhousie all week. She addressed several meetings, all of which were largely attended.

Miss Wrong in her travels has accumulated a marvellous store of information, and her keen intellect and unbiased judgment enabled her to present a story of hardship and struggle among the students in the war-stricken countries, which not only appealed to the sympathy of her audiences, but also to their interest. Her intimate knowledge of the political situation in that part of the world also threw an interesting light on conditions there.

The growing interest of the students in the Christian Student Movement was clearly manifested by the number who attended the meetings. President McKenzie very considerably suspended lectures from eleven to twelve Monday morning, thus enabling the students to hear Miss Wrong. Over one hundred and fifty were present and all enjoyed it very much.

Miss Wrong has left those who were fortunate enough to hear her much food for thought, and it is to be regretted that she could not remain in the city longer. All join in wishing her "Bon Voyage" as she journeys to resume her work in Europe.

MEDICINE VS. DENTISTRY

"Resolved that Dalhousie students should be required to wear academic costume while in the university buildings," is the subject to be debated by representatives of the faculties of Medicine and Dentistry on Friday evening, November 10, in the Munro Room. Messrs. J. E. Grant and D. R. Webster, of Medicine, will argue for the affirmative, and Messrs. Murray Logan and Gordon Dawson, of Dentistry, for the negative. Reserve the evening and come early to this interesting discussion.

CORRESPONDENCE

(The Gazette accepts no responsibility for views expressed in this column.)

Correspondents are requested not to exceed three hundred words.)

To the Editor:

Sir,—Would you be good enough to publish the names of the "Advisory Committee" who are largely responsible for the excellent condition of the campus at Studley? Certainly it represents a great deal of effort on the part of some who have not been personally mentioned.

When is Dal going to have a real university dance? One is led to believe that some time in the not too remote past such functions were not entirely unknown—at least, we had them in the Munro Room in the "ante bellum" days. The present subscription affairs are tame indeed and seem to lack the university atmosphere. The excessive cost of the modern functions is also a matter of grave consideration with most of the students.

What is to prevent holding a dance in the gymnasium for all the Dalhousie family, where ordinary chaps could meet the co-eds and otherwise enjoy themselves? Or have such events passed forever into history? MED.

The New Gym. Instructor

W. E. Sterling, the recently appointed gymnasium instructor, comes to Dalhousie highly recommended by J. H. Crocker, secretary of physical education of the Y. M. C. A. National Council of Canada. He is well qualified and has had a broad experience in his particular sphere. Prior to entering the Y. M. C. A. seven years ago, Mr. Sterling occupied a collegiate post at Trinity College, Port Hope, Ontario, for over six years, and there his ability as an all-round athlete and gymnast was ably shown. A notable item is that Mr. Sterling was at one time Canadian wrestling champion in the bantam weight class. He excels in teaching and coaching in several lines of sport, such as boxing, wrestling, swimming, life-saving, elementary and advanced gymnastics, tumbling, football, basketball, fencing, hockey and gymnastic dancing.

In physical work for girls, he has had ten years experience in many lines, these include light gymnastics, calisthenics, basketball, indoor baseball, volley ball and fencing.

Dr. James Lawley of Glace Bay, spent the week-end in the city. "Jim" has been managing one of the teams in the Cape Breton County League this season and while here may complete arrangements for a game between Caledonia and the Wanderers.

Pine Hill Post

"Holy, holy, holy—"

The theologues have returned. There was no demonstration on their arrival—nobody saw them come, but everybody knows they are here; a subtle air of piety seems to pervade the whole place, and now and again glimpses of them are caught.

The first to arrive was Roy Inglis, then J. D. McLeod and Don. Sinclair, and at last "Bad Bill" Forsythe, straight from the wild and woolly west—chaps on his legs and a gun on each hip. After much ceremony some "Pine Hillers" were granted an audience with several of them and learned some of their experiences. Most of them had been in the west, but not one of them had shot a man, gambled away more than a hundred dollars in one game, or been drunk more than five nights in one week. The impression is gaining that these western movies must be a bit exaggerated,—however a few had some stooking, while two got engaged. Victor Walls has not arrived yet, although two of the five foolish virgins were down to meet the late train the other night. The two Aitken brothers stepped off the train together Monday night and arrived simultaneously in Pine Hill. J. D. McLeod did very extensive entertaining this summer, Herme Campbell played a great deal of baseball and Alex. Murray, instead of attending prayer meeting, stuffed his little birds.

Bert. Zwicker, who came here from Lunenburg via Pictou Academy, takes a keen interest in everything pertaining to public affairs. Especially did he make an exhaustive study of the Hydro-Electric situation with regard to the tramways and after an extensive calculation based on Avogadro's hypothesis and proved by the fourth syllogism decided that transfers should be always negotiable. However, the conductor had not time to follow the details of the problem, so charged Bert. seven cents and the policeman let him off with a threat.

Many were startled on arrival from class the other afternoon to find another telephone booth installed. While it is available for all it is understood that it was by the special efforts of A. B. Simpson, W. A. Patterson and some kindred spirits that it was secured. (Shades of Milne Blanchard).

McGregor Grant, conscience stricken because he unwittingly removed two books from the Pine Hill library, returned them and confessed to Dr. McKinnon, who, having been young once himself, gave him a very sympathetic hearing. There is a lesson here for all, viz., the short step from apples to books.

Dean McRae,—“What do you think, Mr. T.?”
Mr. T.—“I don't think, sir.”

DALHOUSIE BOURSE

Gridiron, common and preferred, is at a premium. Senate is below par and Professors are not yet back to normal. Class Pins are picking up. Freshman, long in a slump, is almost back to normal, but the bottom may drop out of these stocks any time. Dances are $97 under par since the Freshie-Soph. Theatre parties are in a state of uncertainty but some insist they see evidences of an upward trend. Co-eds, preferred, are at a premium. Powder Puffs and Silk Hosiery are finding purchasers. On account of the return of the "Gazette" paper, pens and ink are far above normal. A rush on last year's theme-book has taken place. The sudden rise in moustaches (tooth brush variety) was rather unexpected. Spats are also rising, white silk socks are in a slump. Pig-skin, preferred, is the leader.

University Hall

Early Monday morning of last week, the Knights of the Bath decided to hold their annual meeting. After roll call the society immediately proceeded with the initiation of new members. The only bath tub in the house (that's a fact) was filled up, and four candidates for aquatic honors took an early morning constitutional. By this time many enthusiasts had appeared on the scene, and as they expressed a desire for further entertainment, the committee in charge (ever anxious to please) decided to carry on for another half hour.

“Hot towel! That last half hour was good. They immediately proceeded with their next number, a snappy one-glove scrap. After two gruelling rounds of straight-arms, which would have made even Monte look sick, the leather pushers were withdrawn and the next spasm of the show was announced. This consisted of a one-hand hit-me-if-you-can match. There was lots of action, and it didn't take a cheer leader to bring out the applause. That Yarmouth guy sure is the elephant's trunk when it comes to one paw. He had everything his way until one minute to go, when the Foggy City champ knocked him for row of Chinese milk cans. Finally the spectators having signified their approval by cries of “Hot Dog”, the toradors were released from the arena. As it was then getting rather early, everyone went to bed, voting the party a huge success, as they say about the Freshman theatre parties.

The following night, about two p. x., the victims attempted to make a comeback. For some unknown reason, they picked on C—m—n, and even got as far as tying him a la Samson style; when he woke up, and by sheer mental power compelled them to desist. Defeated in their aim, they backed out of No. 7, taking with them four quaking hearts, eight knocking knees, and one unused can of black shoe polish. They say Freddie slept through it all.

At the time of writing the billiard tournament is in full swing. The second round is very nearly completed. Among the possibles is Guthro, one of last year's champs. The betting is also heavy in favour of Dr. Dawson and James Graham. The appearance of two dark horses, Monte Haslam and Hall, has kind of upset the dope. Hull is playing in his first tournament at the Hall. A. C. M.

NOTICE

There will be a mass meeting of the students of the Arts and Science Faculty in the Munro Room on Thursday evening, Nov. 5, at 7.15 o'clock, to discuss the 100% attendance rule. Everybody in the faculty is expected to be there and all others interested are invited.

Progress of Dalhousie Law School

Statistics Allow Some Interesting Comparisons and Helpful Conclusions----- Great Need of Additional Endowment

By "Quill".

ALTHOUGH mere figures taken by themselves can not convey an adequate idea of the many factors and influences which have contributed to the progress of Dalhousie Law School in the teaching of legal subjects, they serve well as an index of the results of those contributing forces, and as such, admit of comparisons and conclusions.

In pursuance of this, taking as a pertinent example the number of hours devoted to lectures, it is found that in the year 1913-14 the total scheduled to be given was five hundred and six; (although, due to all but one of the lecturers at that time being busy judges and lawyers, it was probably necessarily less); while last year the actual total was twelve hundred and twenty-eight. Now, although outside lecturers, whose work is both invaluable and indispensable, still form a great proportion of the staff, there are three full time professors.

That throughout this broadening process a high scholastic standard has not only been maintained, but even raised, is evinced by the recorded results, and needs no elaboration here.

Dalhousie has gained a well earned position of leadership in the sphere of Canadian legal education. Of the law schools which aspire to that leadership, and which are admittedly in the forefront among the institutions of juristic learning in this country, are Osgoode Hall (Toronto), and McGill.

Upon study of the statistics contained in the last annual report of the Principal of Osgoode Hall (published in a recent issue of the Ontario Weekly Notes), a careful perusal of the McGill calendar, and investigation of the records of the work of Dalhousie Law School last year, some very instructive comparisons are evident. Of these statistics, it is well to remark, those of Osgoode Hall and Dalhousie may be taken as authoritative and accurate, while those concerning McGill are but approximate, and derived from a study of the scheduled curriculum.

The total number of lecture hours given at Osgoode Hall during the year 1921-22 was six hundred and thirty-three; those at Dalhousie, as stated above, twelve hundred and twenty-eight; while those scheduled at McGill approximated twelve hundred, taking the Common Law and Civil Law courses together.

Principal Hoyles, and Professor Falconbridge, the two full time lecturers at Osgoode Hall, gave one hundred and thirty-two, and one hundred and seventy-five hours respectively. At McGill the three full time lecturers were scheduled as follows: Professor Rose, one hundred and fifty; Professor Smith, and Professor McKay, two hundred and seventy each, roughly. The lecture hours given by Dalhousie's three full time lecturers were recorded as follows: Dean MacRae, three hundred and thirty-one; Professor Smith, three hundred and fifty-one; and Professor Read, two hundred and seventy, with an additional one hundred and twenty-five hours given to practical work with the classes in Procedure.

Without comment these figures speak for themselves in a superficial way highly favorable to Dalhousie. The fact that on deeper investigation they also bespeak a high quality of work, reveals at the same time a high degree of self sacrifice and constant overwork, on the part of the professors responsible. When, for instance, it is considered that in addition to his duties as Dean, Dr. MacRae must devote so great an amount of time to lectures, as compared to the Principal of Osgoode Hall, this conclusion becomes very apparent.

Concerning this phase of the subject the following quotation from an article in the Harvard Law Review by Professor Thayer of Harvard is very much in point: "The teaching of law... requires, as regards any one of the great heads of our law, in the present stage of our science, an enormous and absorbing amount of labor. This means... limiting the task of the instructors. Instead of allotting to a man the whole of the common law, or half a dozen disconnected subjects at once, it means giving him a far more limited field,—one single subject, perhaps; two or three at most; if more than one, then, if possible, nearly related subjects; to the end that as the final outcome of his studies some solid, public, and permanent contribution may be made to the main topic which he has in hand."

Commerce Clearings

Professor Hunt Meets Society to Arrange Series of Important Lectures.

Professor B. C. Hunt, Honorary President of the Commerce Society, addressed that body at its meeting on Wednesday, October 25. After expressing his gratification at the number present and his pleasure at seeing together the entire body of Commerce students, whom he had hitherto only met in small groups at various lectures, he stated that his principal object in meeting the Society was to make arrangements for the Business Men's Lectures, which had proved such a valuable source of information last year. He said he had broached the subject to several prominent men, who had assured him of their hearty co-operation. He believed that it would be preferable, this year, to make all arrangements with the lecturers through his office instead of through the president of the Commerce Society, because by so doing a more complete and varied series of lectures could be obtained.

He also urged the Society to appoint a committee for the purchase of commercial text books direct from the publishers in order to eliminate expense.

These remarks of Professor Hunt were received with enthusiastic applause. At their conclusion, he withdrew, and the regular business of the Society was transacted.

The Archives Committee presented a petition for a book in which to keep the records, of the Society, which are already very numerous. The Society was favorable to this plan.

In accordance with Professor Hunt's suggestion, a committee for the purchase of text books was appointed, comprising one student from each year.

The first Commerce social event was then discussed. It was decided to hold this during the first week of November. The exact date and the form it will take were left to the discretion of the Social Committee, consisting of Mr. E. A. Mowatt, Mr. Gordon Beazley and Miss Ruth Fulton.

Interfaculty Debate

Arts Won Honors from Law in Economic Discussion at Sodales.

One of the best interfaculty debates heard at Dalhousie for many years, took place in the Munro Room on Friday evening last, when Arts won a hard earned decision over Law. The subject, "Resolved that the coal mines of Canada should be controlled by the Government" was upheld in the affirmative by C. S. Richardson and G. P. Flavin, while F. Bissett and D. McInnis supported the negative.

MR. RICHARDSON, Affirmative.—Spoke of the dangers of exploitation of privately owned mines and the lack of necessary capital with the consequent resulting poorer conditions for the working man. Closed with a plea for "economic democracy". Showed exceptional fire and fluency, possibly appealed more to the ear than to the mind of his hearers.

MR. BISSETT, Negative.—Gave a comprehensive outline of economic theory since Adam Smith. Declared that the present ideal of labor was neither private ownership nor government control, but rather a Communistic idea of operation and profit sharing. Dealt with the question from standpoint of employer and employed.

MR. FLAVIN, Affirmative.—Offered a theoretical system for the management and operation of mines under government control. Convincing and interesting.

MR. McINNIS, Negative.—Brought forward strong analogous arguments to prove failure of resolution. Argued from standpoint of public.

Both Mr. Bissett and Mr. Richardson did well in rebuttal. The judges, Messrs. Creighton, Baxter and Hogen, after a prolonged private discussion, rendered a decision in favor of Arts. Law led easily in presentation but confined themselves too much to generalities. President L. W. Fraser of the Sodales Society occupied the chair and introduced the speakers. The debate was well attended.

OXFORD VS. HARVARD.

Though Harvard defeated Oxford in the debate on the question "Resolved, that the United States should join immediately the League of Nations," the Englishmen, handicapped by the sudden illness of the leader, who was unable to speak, put up a remarkably good fight in the unequal contest.

When the vote was taken it was found that 1000 had voted for the affirmative, Oxford, and 1614 for the negative, Harvard. The debate took place in the Symphony Hall at Boston, and was heart by 5000 people.

PROGRESS OF DALHOUSIE—

Consistent with Professor Thayer's thesis, it is an obvious deduction, to take a contemporary example, that if Professor Falconbridge had a lecture burden equal to that of Dalhousie's law professors, he would not have the time for the wide and intensive study necessary as a basis for his valuable contributions to legal knowledge through his text books and articles.

It is impossible to make a greater demand upon the time of the already overworked Judiciary and the Halifax practising members of the Bar. They continue to make an inestimable contribution to the success of the Law School at no small inconvenience to themselves.

There is clearly only one solution of the problem which must be solved in order to allow time for exhaustive and original research by the Dalhousie Professors of Law; work which must be done if they are to have the opportunity, which in all fairness they should have, to add their quota to the present and future knowledge of jurisprudence; and to maintain Dalhousie's leadership among Canadian Law Schools. That solution is the appointment of additional full time professors to the Law Faculty; one that will only be possible with increased endowment.

That such endowment will be provided all feel assured, realizing as they do that there are many among Dalhousie's friends who believe with Professor Thayer that "the first requisite for the conduct of a Law School is faith in the highest standards of work; and that if the maintaining of these standards does not pay financially, this circumstance is nothing to the purpose,—maintained they must be, none the less". Additional endowment must be provided.

This week Mr. Walter and his players are producing "Three Wise Fools." It is one of their best productions this season.

LECTURE TO-NIGHT

Dr. H. S. Thompson, Director of the Canadian Oral Prophylactic Association, Toronto, will lecture in the Munro Room this evening at 8 o'clock, his subject being "Oral Hygiene and the Prevention of Diseases of the Mouth."

The Dental Society, under whose auspices the lecture will be held, are extremely fortunate in securing the services of Dr. Thompson. He has been touring the Province in the interest of this work, and as the subject is of such vital importance and general interest, all are cordially invited to attend.

Government Investigation at the University of Toronto.

"The first meeting of the Commission on University Affairs took place in the Parliament Buildings, with Premier Drury in the chair.

The Commission was appointed following the controversy in the House during the last session of the Legislature. It is empowered to investigate all affairs of the University of Toronto, its affiliated colleges and the Toronto General Hospital as far as the latter affects the University. To aid in this investigation witnesses can be called to appear and be put on oath.

It is probable that the question of University finance will be considered and also the methods of appointment to the teaching staff and to the Board of Governors. The committee can make any recommendations it sees fit, and as it has such a wide scope an interesting report is expected."—Varsity.

Dalhousie Wins Intercollegiate Game

Tigers Trim Kings By 14-3 Score In Rugby Game At Windsor

Special, By "Isau".

In a clean, hard fought game, replete with brilliant runs by Dalhousie backs, and providing their best exhibition of effective passing this season, the Tiger Intercollegiate Team defeated Kings at Windsor on November 1st, thus becoming winners of the Eastern Section and entitled to meet U. N. B. for the Intercollegiate Championship.

The first half of the game was marked by a continuous assault upon the Kings goal line, Langwith crossing for a score twice, and Mont Haslam once. Haslam converted one of these tries.

Haslam, Langwith, and Capt. "Dinty" Moore combined for some effective runs time after time, only being prevented from further scoring in this period by the brilliant tackling of G. White of Kings.

Kings opened the second period with a vigorous offensive, carrying the ball immediately into Tiger territory, and MacCoy went over for the Kingsmen's only try of the game. Soon after, the same player, being given a free kick, narrowly missed a goal from placement. Then, however, the Gold and Black awoke to the situation, and proceeded quickly to regain the upper hand, threatening the home team's line continually until the final whistle.

The last score of the game was made by Mont Haslam, when, sweeping aside tackler after tackler in a race of over seventy yards to the goal line, he made one of the prettiest runs seen on any Nova Scotia gridiron this year, as well as a stellar demonstration of how the "straight arm" should be used.

The muddy condition of the field proved costly for Dal when it led to Moore injuring his leg. He remained in the game to the end, but as a result may not be able to play again this Fall.

As is always expected of Kings, they put up a clean, plucky game against superior weight and experience, living up to their well won reputation for good sportsmanship.

Dr. DeWolfe of Acadia proved an impartial and efficient referee.

Dalhousie Sports Advisory Committee

Col. W. E. Thompson, Convener.
President, A. S. McKenzie (ex-officio).
Alumni Members—Messrs. H. E. Mahon, G. Fred Pearson, and H. Pike.
Senate Members—Professors Macneill, Murray, and Wilson.
Student Members—Murray Britton, Pres. D. A. A. C.; F. E. Coster, Secy.-Treas. D.A.A.C., and N. A. MacKenzie, Pres. of the Students' Council.

All Dalhousians who made the trip, both players and supporters, were accorded a splendid reception by the Kingsmen, and were warmly entertained while in Windsor.

Charlie Beazley was there with a motor carload of rooters and, though his cohorts were small in numbers, they made a mighty noise.

King's—G. White, Timothy, Jackson, Davison, Morrison, Teed, MacCoy, Coopen, Goodwin, Ernst, Norwood, Nelson, Dikee, Sheperd, White.
Dalhousie—Melnnis, Haslam, Coster, Langwith, Crease, Phinney, Moore, McLean, Logan, Baird, Britton, McOdrum, Sutherland, Tupper Bruce.

MEDS SUCCUMB TO DENTS.

The Dents pulled the Meds teeth in a highly spectacular "Football" set-to (known officially as the second Interfaculty Rugby game), last Wednesday afternoon, and then buried them under a smothering score of 15-0.

With a heavy scrim and smooth working half line, the Tooth Pullers proved that "Mother Earth's" sub-normal temperature was a symptom of a truly pathological condition too difficult for the Medicos to solve, and crossed the goal line five times.

The only time that the Meds looked dangerous was when they captured Turnbull's sweater in fragments. Their stars were Lawrence and Zinck.

The play-off between Arts and Dentistry should be a thriller.

"D".

Wanderers seconds, though unable to cross the Dalhousie Juniors' line, won their game on Saturday and with it the Intermediate City Championship, by a well placed drop kick, score 4-0.

TITLE PLAY OFF.

The decision of St. F. X. to withdraw from the Intercollegiate League for this year, due to inability to arrange playing dates, leaves Dal as winners of the Eastern Section by defeating Kings. At going to press definite arrangements with U.N.B. for the championship play-off had not been made. The date will likely be Nov. 10.

Wanderers Win Both City League Championships

Although their scrim held its own with that of the Wanderers, the Dalhousie backs were outplayed by the fast Red and Black combination, and, forced to play on the defensive for the greater part of the game, the Tigers went down to defeat in Saturday's City League fixture by a score of 6-0.

Right at the kick-off the Wanderers carried the ball close to the Dal line, and, greatly to everybody's surprise, scored their first try within four minutes. Then the defence stiffened. Dal players tackled hard and often to successfully prevent another score, until, following a long kick to touch by Langwith, they themselves became the attackers. At this time Kelly McLean's aggressive following up was very noticeable, and effective as well.

About two-thirds through the second half, after holding the play continually in Dalhousie territory, Ritchie MacCoy started a short half line combination play, which gave the "Red Shirts" another try and clinched the game.

Don McInnes, in his first City League game in senior company, did very well at Fullback, while Porter lived up to his reputation as an outside half.

Weakness at quarter was very apparent, due to Beaton and Moore, the Dal regulars, being both laid up by injuries.

Senior Line-up:

Wanderers—H. Edwards, fullback; Jack Edwards, Temple Lane, Lily, Hunter, halfbacks; Bob MacCoy, Richie MacCoy, "Red" Campbell, quarter backs; Studd, Young, Dr. Don Campbell, Hattie, Schwartz, Hoskings, Armitage, forwards.

Dalhousie—McInnes, fullback; M. Haslam, Coster, Porter, Bates, halfbacks; Beaton, Langwith, quarters; McLean, Logan, Livingstone, Bruce, Sutherland, Jones, forwards.

A PROMISING BOY.

First Prof.—There's a lad with good stuff in him.

Second Prof.—Let's follow him; maybe we can find out where he got in.

GOOD ADVICE.

Excited husband (to doctor over 'phone)—“Hello, Doctor, my wife has appendicitis. What shall I do?”

Central (breaking in)—“Operator.”

ON THE SIDE LINE.

Lady—Which end do I get off at?

Conductor—It's all the same to me, lady; both ends stop.

BOY, PAGE MR. GILLETTE.

Nervous Freshman (in English, stroking his chin)—“This is the forest primeval.”

HEARD IN THE BARBER SHOP.

Freshman—“How long have I got to wait for a shave?”

Barber (looking him over critically)—“About three years, Sonny.”

SOAP SUDS

It was Sunny Monday at Colgates and they were snuggled up in the Old Brown Windsor.” May I hold your Palm Olive?”—said the jolly Tar as he Peared into his Baby's Own eyes. “Not on your Life Buoy”, replied the little Fairy, with a Castile look. But he was full of the Old Dutch, so just for Lux, he thought he Woodbury a Djer Kiss upon her Ivory cheek—and in spite of the Sunlight—it was not a Surprise.

S. C. A. Won Bun Fight

THANKSGIVING CELEBRATION, LARGELY ATTENDED, WAS AN UNQUALIFIED SUCCESS.

The Bun Fight, Thursday night, resulted in quite a triumph for the defending forces. All afternoon the willing helpers toiled like Trojans, preparing their defences and a formidable palisade of bread, ham, cake, ice-cream and other implements of war seemed an impenetrable barrier.

At five-thirty the attack commenced. The slaughter was terrible. At five forty-five the outer barricade was gone and at six the enemy were hammering at the inner court. Only by superhuman efforts was the situation saved. The little crowd of defenders brandishing knives and spoons, won back the ground, inch by inch, until at last completely routed the attackers were driven across the outer court and forced to seek refuge in the Great Gymnasium.

However, the conquerors after feasting on the spoils, felt that the true Christian spirit would be to soothe the vanquished ones. So they too, under a flag of truce, sought the Great Gymnasium, where friendly relations were soon once more established. All manner of rustic games were played, trials of skill and strength being much in evidence. The remainder of the spoils were auctioned off and so at the close of the evening, and on the way home, a lasting friendship was established.

Many neutrals witnessed the combat to ascertain that no infraction of international rules of war-fare took place. Among these were Dr. McKenzie, Dr. and Mrs. Stewart, Mrs. Munroe and Dr. Bronson, to whom all feel very grateful.

IN BUSINESS FOR HIMSELF.

Dan Campbell, a graduate of 1920 in Pharmacy, who has been employed with Buckley's in this city since leaving college, is this week commencing a drpg business of his ow nat 285½ Barrington Street. “Dannie” is well known to a large number of the students and while at college he had a splendid record as a student and practical pharmacist. He may be assured of the support of the collegians and their best wishes for success in the new venture.

The Mean Thing!

Ray—How do you get such a nice complexion?

May—I run five miles every morning.

Ray—My. Do you live that far from the drug-store?
