Dear Mr Raddall,

On the occasion of the forthcoming honour which is to be bestowed on you by Dalhousie University, may I be one among a great many others who will want to congratulate you.

I feel sure that your dear old Dad would be very proud of you at the present time. My claim to the privilege of saying this rests on an association with him in the military sphere during nineteen thirteen. We were a small group together then, but many have now passed on.

Your father achieved great things in his field before he ^{was} called away under gallant circumstances. His promotion to Lieutenant Colonel made his comrades proud of him. He was a virile man and commanded our respect. His great ability and sterling character

been bound to carry him far when opportunity gave him the chance,

There is no doubt that much of what was in the father is indicated in his son.

May you live long to continue to give us pleasure and instruction.

Yours Sincerely

Edward J. Simon

Captain
The Royal Canadian Regt
Retired List.
