

MODDO OPTIMUM

DEDICATION

Sheldon Dwight Higdon

This year the Class of 1995 at the Dalhousie College of Pharmacy would like to dedicate the yearbook to a member of our class, Sheldon Higdon. The College was deeply shocked and saddened to hear that in the summer of 1994, Sheldon had been involved in a swimming accident. This accident unfortunately resulted in Sheldon not being able to graduate with his class this year.

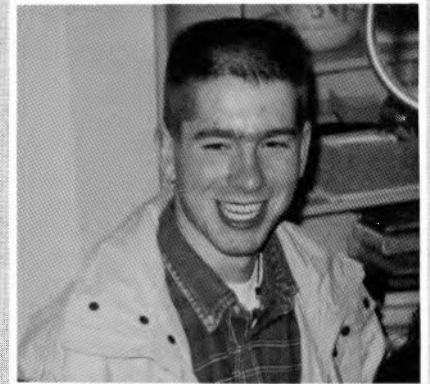

Throughout his years at the College, Sheldon was an extremely outgoing person who was well liked by all who knew him. Sheldon was very active at the College, excelling in both scholastics and extracurricular activities.

Since his accident, Sheldon's true spirit, strength, and determination have come to the forefront. Although confronted with many obstacles, Sheldon remains upbeat about his accident, never adopting an attitude of "Why me?". Sheldon shows no bitterness, but is more than ever determined to finish his pharmacy degree. This determination became apparent when, only five months after his accident, Sheldon was once again attending therapeutics lectures, sociables and other pharmacy functions.

Sheldon you are an inspiration for all of us and it is our wish that we could draw from you and your family a portion of the strength you have shown over the past few months.

In conclusion, we wish you a speedy recovery, good luck in your future studies, and regardless of when you graduate you will always be a member of the Class of 1995.

MESSAGE FROM THE DIRECTOR

Dr. R.F. Chandler

Last year at this time I noted the team of the faculty, staff and students of the College continues to work well together. I believe 1994-95 was even a better example! Many students excelled in extracurricular activities, gaining recognition at the national level. The 1994 graduates excelled as a group, having the highest pass rate of all their Canadian peers. It is amazing what can transpire in the face of adversity!

This past year, the students of the College have taken some very positive steps regarding their current and future interests. Within the College, the Student Advisory Council had a very successful year and has initiated committees to examine the course and professorial evaluation process and also to investigate the degree of alcoholic consumption by pharmacy students. The former topic will be a combined faculty and student committee, while the latter will be students only. Both will begin their work in September. The DSPS has successfully lobbied to have representation on a number of College committees, including the strategic planning committee. This commitment to one's profession is admirable and you are to be congratulated. The faculty and staff are looking forward to this new involvement.

By the time you read this, we will know our accreditation status. However, we are not waiting for these results, but are moving ahead with the strategic planning initiative. A consultant/facilitator has been retained (Dr. Lynn Curry) and will assist and guide us through this process. It will be time-consuming and will offer many challenges along the way, but I believe it is essential for us to examine what we do with limited resources and for whom. To assist us in this study, we will be approaching representatives from all stakeholder groups. These groups will obviously include all pharmacy groups (students, alumni, organizations, corporations, industry, etc.), Dalhousie colleagues and administrations, other health professionals, governments, media and the public. Scary, isn't it? However, at the end of the day, we should have a clear picture of the College's path.

Once the strategic plan is in place, our curriculum committee will swing into action to review the curriculum in light of our stated objectives and desired outcomes. This will be a large task and there will be considerable opportunity for student input. Put on your thinking hats and volunteer.

By this Fall, I anticipate we will be able to inform you about the introduction of our Drug Information "Hot Line" for the public, and the progress of Dalhousie's Pharmaceutical Care Project. We are also planning to introduce a Community Pharmacy Residency Program for June 1996, subject to obtaining appropriate sites and funding. So much for a quiet summer!

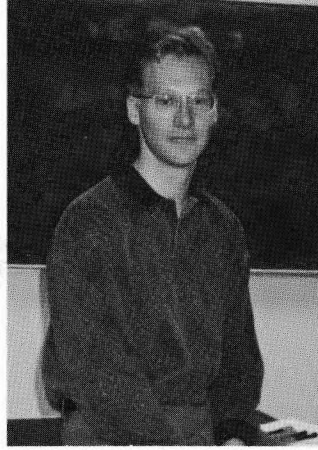

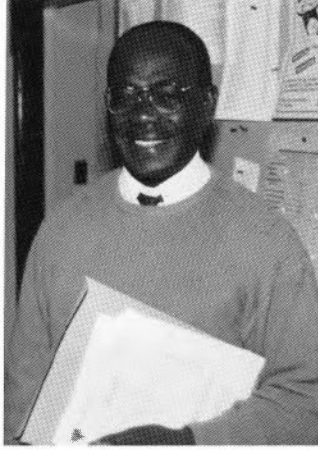

I believe 1994-95 was significant in the history of the College. I further believe that the next few months will provide us with a clear direction so that we can direct our resources to obtain what we see as our value-added functions. We – the faculty, staff, students, alumni, and other stakeholders – must continue to work together to effect a positive change.

For those of you who will return in the Fall, we wish you a productive summer and look forward to your return.

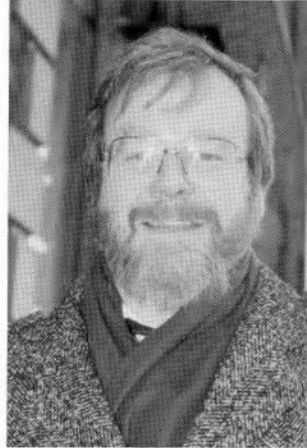

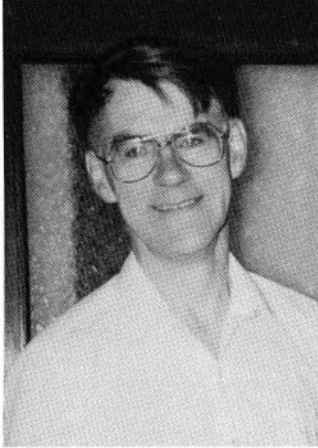

For those of you leaving the College this Spring, we wish you all the very best and look forward to observing your professional involvement and development. You are in a position to be the leaders as the profession moves from being primarily concerned with the distributive functions of pharmaceuticals to the cognitive services associated with healthy outcomes! Don't miss this opportunity to be part of the transformation and development of our profession!

Other events during this fun-filled week included the traditional Boat Cruise, picnic at Point Pleasant and scavenger hunt with the perils of slapshot (Ouch!) and karaoke at Your Father's Moustache thrown in for good measure. Kudos to Deb Orridge and Eric Baker for all their successful planning!

Winners

NATIONAL PHARMACY AWARENESS WEEK

The CAPSI patient counselling competition is a time when participants must bring together their knowledge and communication skills to effectively inform their patient on all aspects concerning his/her drug therapy.

This year's compounding winners were not phased in the least when faced with an ointment, capsules and a ticking time clock. Their precise calculating, weighing, and triturating helped them produce the pharmaceutically elegant products that won them the competition.

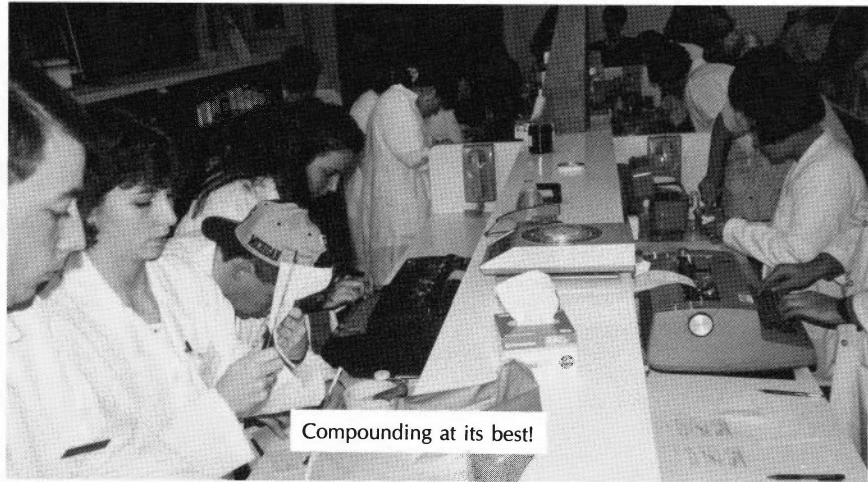

NOVEMBER 1-7

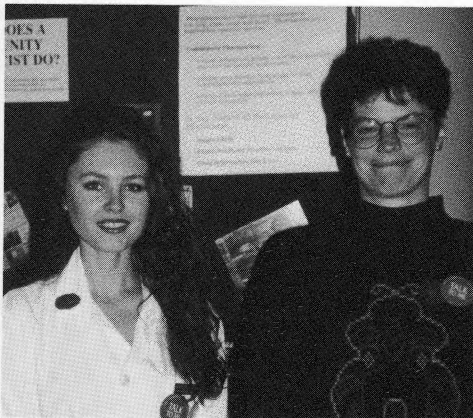

Local CAPSI compounding competition winners: Bonnie Burchill, Tracie Blakney, Tina Morash and Dina McLeod.

This year's CAPSI patient counselling competition winner was Kelly Herget. Micheal Tucker was the runner-up. Both travelled to the national competition at PDW in Montréal. Other recipients of the year's USPDI's were Dina McLeod, Jeff Leger, Drina Zunic, Shawn Brown, Kim Dauphinee, Evan Sullivan, Cláir MacInnis, and Lisa Nodwell.

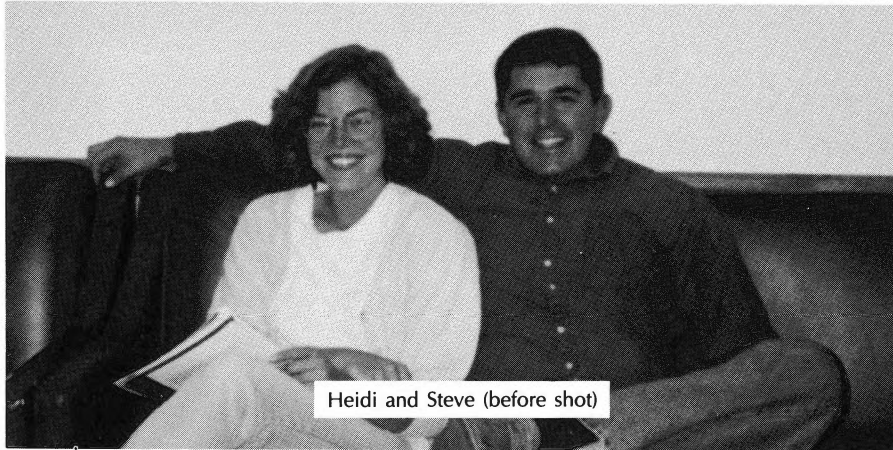

Compounding at its best!

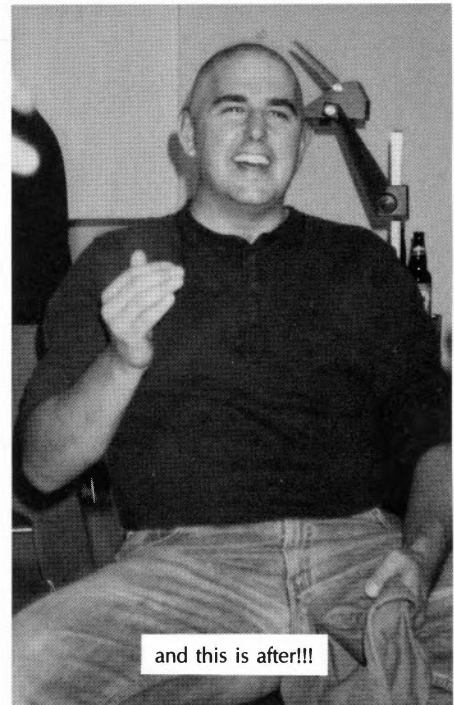

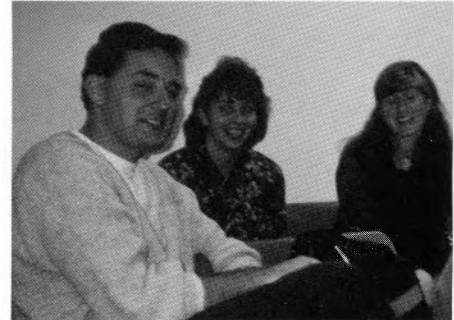

CANDLELIGHTERS

Pharmacy students dug deep into their pockets this year for Candlelighters and to see Steven Graham, Jr. CAPSI rep lose hair in a bet that we could not raise over 500$! Candlelighters is a support group for parents with children with cancer. They supply parents with books, references and information regarding the condition their child is facing. Candlelighters allows parents to interact with others who have had similar experiences and to develop coping skills.

FOR

IT

Dana Cole was the co-chair of this year's show, along with Andrea McAllister from Physiotherapy. These two not only held weekly meetings with Steering Committee, but also coordinated with outside organizations to make this year's show a fabulous success. Great Work Girls!!!

show, along with these two not only committee, but also co-vice this year's show

This year "For The Health of It" raised approximately $3000 for the Nova Scotia Association for Community Living. The role of this organization is to facilitate the integration of handicapped individuals into their own communities.

In celebration of the year of the family, the pharmacy skit entitled "The Circle of Life" focused on the common experiences shared between generations. Every mother remembers sending their child to school the first day, every child remembers the first time their parents took them driving. High school (and University) graduation is always remembered for whatever reason, and marks the end of "childhood" and start of adult life. The circle continues with the birth of the next generation of the family, who will experience the same events and form their own memories.

Kim and Wanda would like to say thanks to everyone who took part in this year's show. It couldn't have happened without the hard work of everyone involved. Special thanks to Andrea Lawson, Brenda McIntyre, Dana Cole, and Elaine Lee for choreographing, and everyone who helped with props.

See you in next years Show!!!

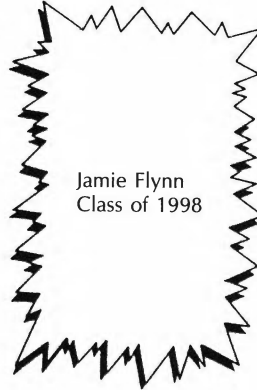

The annual Pharmacy Christmas Party was held December 2nd 1994. Everybody attended except the people with the cameras! The party was very well hosted by the first-year class with a lot of help from the social reps and a few other members of the third year class (including at least one of their DJ husbands). More than half of the class of 1998 was involved in preparation of the event ie. cleaning up, working the door or serving beverages to thirsty patrons.

The Health Professions Lounge was a winter wonderland with red and green streamers and the most creative snowflakes a person will ever see hanging everywhere. It just wouldn't be a Christmas party without a Christmas tree and this was creatively made with colorful ornaments. Santa Claus even took the time out of his busy schedule to drop by. He was certainly Sharpe-ly dressed and many ladies were very eager to sit on his lap and tell him what they wanted for Christmas. Several guys also went back to their youth and sat on Santa's lap (hopefully for the candy canes).

Connie, Elaine and Carolyn made sure everyone was in the Christmas spirit as they were spreading joy throughout the evening. The egg nog also helped put people in the Christmas spirit and Kent showed that he was in the dancing spirit by taking MVD (Most Valuable Dancer) honors for the evening.

I would like to thank everybody who attended for making the 1994 Christmas party a huge success and hope to see most of you back next year to help make the 1995 Halloween party as big a success. Thank you to all those who helped Eric, Deb and I and I hope you will give Lisa a hand next year.

GRAD CLASS MESSAGE

ninety-five

Without the hard work and effort of many people, this year would not have been nearly as successful as it has been. We would like to thank everyone for a great year, especially those people who helped organize major projects such as ring sales, grad pictures, almond sales, hockey pools, sociables, and the various grad week activities. We would also like to wish everyone who are following further academic pursuits, continued success, and for those of you entering the 'real world' best of luck in your chosen career path. For all: good health, happy memories, and a successful future. See you at our first reunion.

Sincerely, Micheal Tucker and Allison Scott.
 Grad Class President and Treasurer.

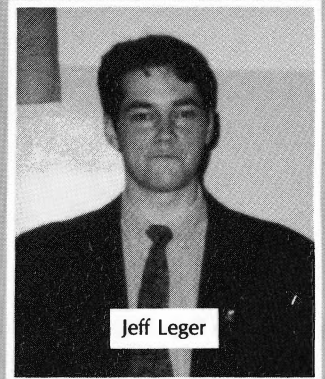

Each year, the fourth year class chooses six classmates that have demonstrated class leadership to receive leadership awards at the J.G. Duff Awards Banquet in March. This year's recipients were Aaron Lloyd, Allison Scott, Micheal Tucker, Dana Cole, Elizabeth Begg, and Karen Henderson. We are all glad to see that Aaron received his award after the mix up the night of the banquet. Congratulations to everyone for a job well done!

Jeff Leger

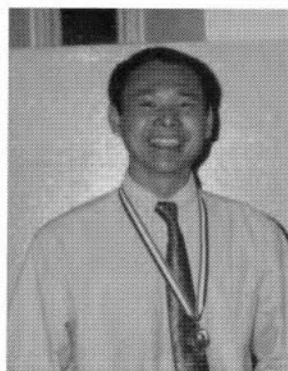

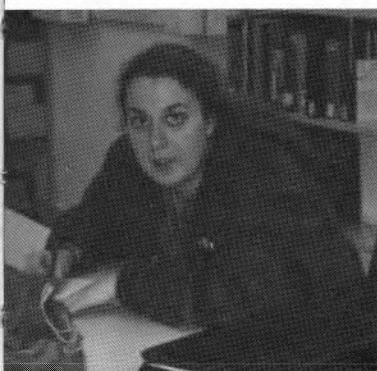

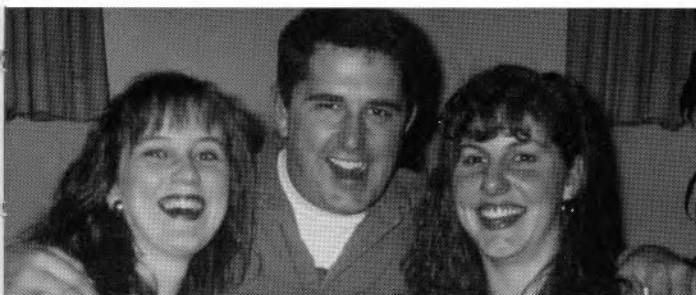

It is hard to believe the year's already over. It seems like we just finished orientation week. For all you guys not in 4th year, hang in there because in no time at all you'll be graduating too! I would like to thank everyone who made my last year in pharmacy so enjoyable. I would like to thank all the DSPS council members for their great work and dedication to all the students at the College. I think that everyone has had a tough year with the uncertainties of accreditation, the challenges of finding a job and the other stresses that our profession faces. However, I think that all these issues have made students at the College much more resilient and more focused on what pharmacy is really about. In the future there may be less opportunities to practice community pharmacy but there will be many other exciting avenues to explore. Grab hold of any opportunity to broaden your experience and get involved at the College. It might help you get a job down the road!

Thanks to Whitehall-Robins for the very nice luncheon!

Dr. Kristin K. Janke, DSPS faculty advisor. Thanks

Sarah Cummings, Wanda Colpa, Kim Dauphinee, Kelly Conrad, and Lee McBride. Thanks for everything!

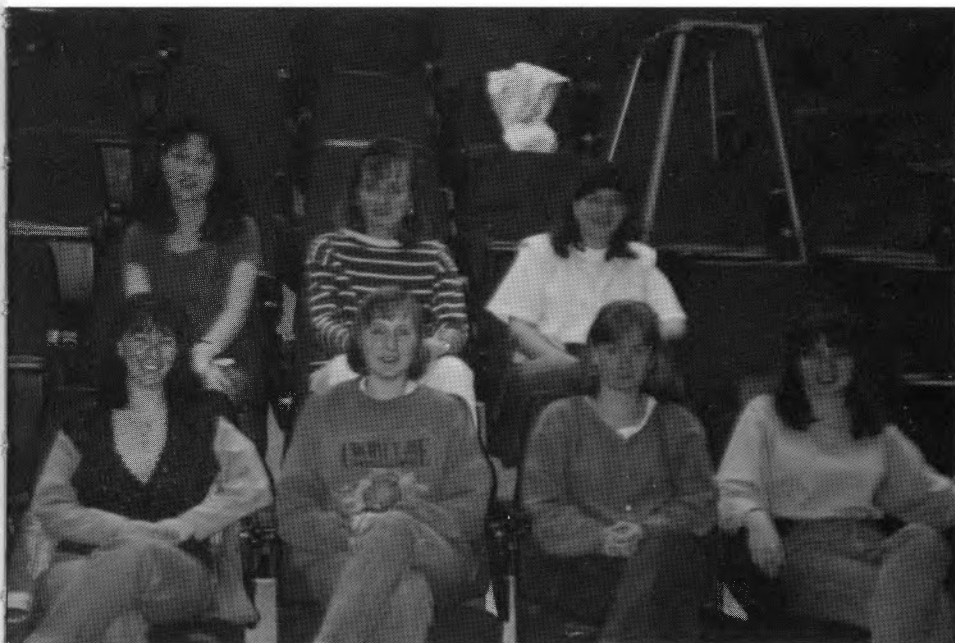

It has been quite a year and quite a book to produce. Fortunately many students helped me. Thanks! As co-editor, I wish to take this opportunity to thank Terry Coolen, our lifesaver from Jostens.

The yearbook staff seems to be a forgotten committee until the book comes out every fall. Many students do not realize all the hard work and long hours put in by the yearbook committee to make it a success. I would like to thank everyone on the committee especially my co-editor, Donna Saulnier. A special thanks to the girls in 4th year for helping with all those odd jobs. Best of luck next year to Donna and her staff. Congratulations to the Class of 1995 and best wishes for every success in the future.

Karen

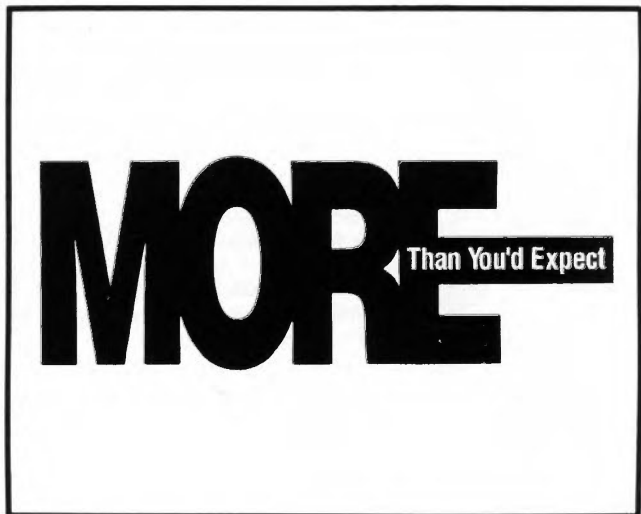

Best of luck to next year's editors, Kim Dauphinee and Donna Saulnier. Hopefully they will have as much support as this year. Congratulations to the YB Staff of 1995 for a job well done!

The local CAPSI council consisting of Heidi Liston (Sr. rep), Steve Graham (Jr. rep), Paula Granville (4th yr rep), Nicky Corkum (3rd yr rep), Esther D'Souza (2nd yr rep), and Johanna Manley (1st yr rep), were busy at work this year providing the students with both entertaining and educational events. Rap sessions, a PAN (Professor Appreciation Night) luck supper, a CPR course, Health Professions Jeopardy, Counselling and Compounding competitions, and curling are to name but a few. Heidi and Steve have been hard at work representing Dalhousie Pharmacy students at CAPSI National Council meetings during PDW and the CPhA conference.

I would like to take this opportunity to introduce myself as your 1995-96 CAPSI national president. Having been junior and senior CAPSI representative at the College, I am experienced and prepared to serve all CAPSI members at a national level. As our future profession evolves to meet the changing needs of the recipients of health care and its providers, pharmacy students are fortunate to have a national organization that represents, informs, and bridges its members with other organizations, the professional community and the public. To assist myself and council in our mandate we would appreciate having you, the members pass on your opinions and suggestions by taking part in our membership survey. Also, I am always open to comments and new ideas, so feel free to write me any time or call me. At this time, I wish to thank each school's reps for giving me this opportunity to serve CAPSI and its members and I look forward to the coming year.

Sincerely,

Heidi.

FUNDRAISING

Kim Dauphinee & Michelle Burnett, 1994-95 Fundraisers

As fundraisers, we were very busy and had a lot of fun this year. Repeat activities from other years included selling jackets, clothes, and cookbooks; the raffle draw; and the car wash.

We also tried some new things:

- In November we sold the Society and Mortar & Pestle pins. Rumor has it that preceptors everywhere are wearing them!

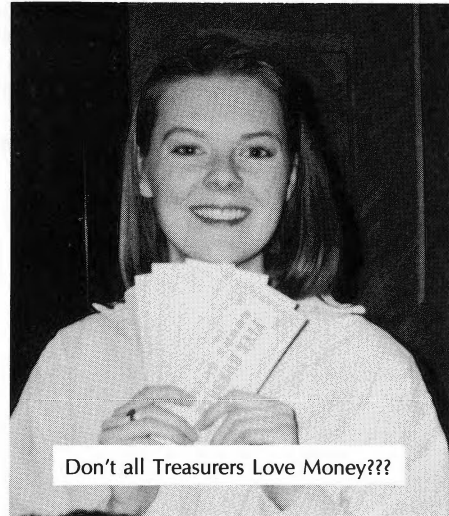

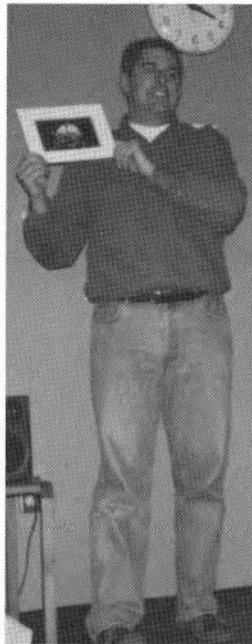

- At Christmas time we made 20 stockings for the underprivileged children in Halifax through a Street Connection project.

Thanks to John Ryan of Pharmasave for helping with supplies for the stockings.

- During Pharmacy Week we held a casino night at the Greenwood. Everyone who came out had lots of fun.

- Last, but not least, we held the professor auction in March.

This was one of our most successful events, raising $200.00 for the Sheldon Higdon Appreciation Fund and the Nova Scotia Arthritis Society. Thanks to Kristin Janke for her idea and to all of the professors for their "donations".

INPHARMATION

What would life at the College be without Inpharmation?? Yet again this year, the Inpharmation editors and their hard-working writers kept us informed on what was happening and what was going to happen, as well as keeping us up to date on life. This year, Inpharmation was published 4 times, as well as the phone directory, and the welcome week and pharmacy week schedules.

"Features" this year included the GI Guy, the Wine Guy, Musings of the Moment, the Funny Page, and of course, Girls on Film.

This was Elizabeth's third year editing Inpharmation. We'd like to say thanks for all her hard work, and wish her all the best.

Sports

Pharmacy had a very successful year in intramural sports at Dalhousie in the 94-95 season. We captured three league titles including Men's Ball hockey, Co-ed B soccer, and Men's B volleyball.

In overall sports supremacy, the women placed 5th out of the 13 faculties, where the co-ed teams also captured 5th place. The men had a close race this year for supremacy, but ended the season in a very close 3rd!

Congratulations to all players for an outstanding sports season!

YEAR VS YEAR VOLLEYBALL

Year vs Year Volleyball:

The 1st years surprised the College (especially the 4th years) and won the tournament this year.

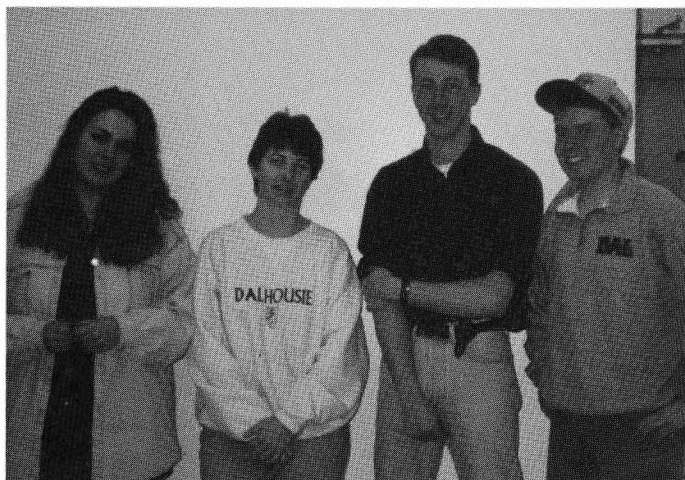

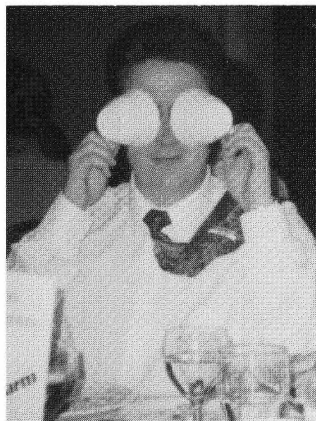

Congratulations!!!

Our journey to Montreal began during the wee hours of January 18th when we made our way to the Halifax Airport, although some of us had been sitting on our suitcases since the week before. Not even an hour-long mechanical delay on Air Canada flight 665 could dampen the spirits of fifty-some hyperactive pharmacy students, who all had one thing on their minds . . . a good time was to be had. A few hours later, the Dalhousie PDW contingent was let loose in the big city. The first day consisted of checking in to our home away from home, the Queen Elizabeth, also getting our PDW loot bags, then heading out on the town to restaurants, shops, and certain other establishments (!) for our ever-popular "leisure time". An opening reception was held that evening at the hotel. After practicing our social skills, most of us called it a night rather early . . . the first and last early night of our stay. On Thursday morning, after donning our high-tech translators, we were ready for the lectures. Vivian Quiring's early morning career satisfaction seminar was definitely worth getting up for, if nothing else, to poke fun at Steve Graham's comment. The rest of the day consisted of more lectures, lunch and tour at the Université de Montréal or just checking out the sights around town. Some of the hot spots during the trip were the Biodome, the Casino, the Peel Pub, and the Underground, to name a few. The evening was mainly spent at the huge nightclub known as the Metropolis, where Too Many Cooks were providing the entertainment. At this point of the trip, days and nights began to blend together. Just as the last die-hards straggled back to the hotel Friday morning after a late night on the town, we were soon being herded onto a bus which took us to the Wyeth-Ayerst plant for a tour. This tour was a definite highlight of the trip, and after only two hours of sleep, this was saying a lot. Meanwhile at the U of M, Dal was being well represented by Kelly Herget and Mike Tucker in the counselling competition, and by Allison Scott, Elizabeth Begg, Mark Hines, and Derek MacDonald, who came in first in the compounding competition. The rest of the day included more lectures, a Jeopardy competition, and hanging out at the hotel, or venturing out to see more of the city. On our last full day, we started it off by grabbing freebies and chatting with reps at the Manufacturers' Exhibit. For the rest of the day we either caught up on our rest, or went to places we hadn't been to yet. That evening we broke out our fancy duds and set the stage for yet another late night, as we were the guests of honor (well, we were invited) at a lavish banquet, where our own Heidi Liston was introduced as the new president of CAPSI National. A dance followed, and lasted until 3:00, where the party then moved up to the hotel rooms. At that point it was decided by most that sleeping was pointless, as we had to be ready to leave for the airport in very few hours. The mood of the crowd took a sharp turn for the worse during packing, partly because we had to go home now, and also because our lack of sleep was becoming all too apparent. Again, before the sun rose, we were loaded onto a bus (sound familiar?), this time headed for the airport. Another delay in our flight wasn't quite so funny, but soon we were back up in the sky, where we promptly lost consciousness. Our flight home helped to preserve our memories of PDW, all the time making us completely oblivious to the midterms/clerkship that were facing us when we got back to Halifax. Oh well, there's always Edmonton '96.

BLOOD DONOR CLINICS

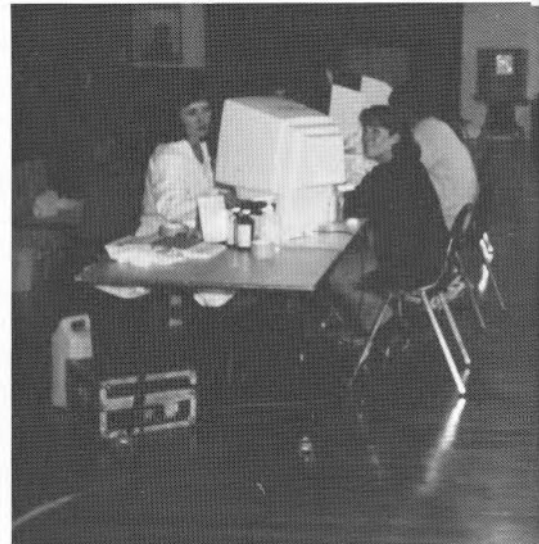

Once again, this year's clinics were a success. Hundreds of donors and volunteers gave of their time and blood to help give the gift of life. Thanks again to Rob Balser and Kevin Garey from fourth year, as well as Wanda Colpa, Brenda MacIntyre, Lee McBride and Sarah Pierce, from third year, for keeping things organized!

DSPS PUBLIC RELATIONS COMMITTEE 1994-95

Krista Hogan, Sr. PR rep and Paula McNeil, Jr. PR rep

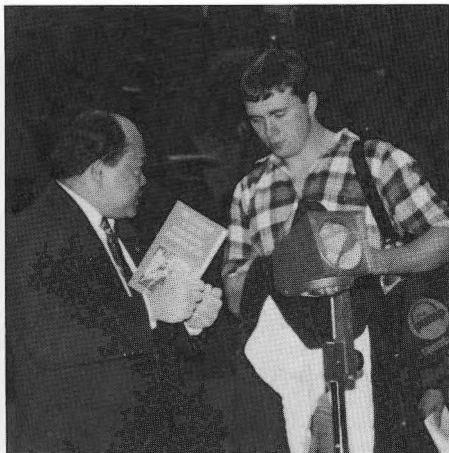

This has been a very active and successful year for the Public Relations Committee. We started off the year with our annual Mall Display held during National pharmacy Awakeness Week, November 1st and 2nd at Park Lane Mall. As well, in the fall, Career Days got under way. This presentation was initiated last year and was designed to promote the profession and present it as a career option to local high school students. In March, the PR Committee held the second Health Professions Night which was a big success. This year we had case presentations in the form of "mock rounds" with a representative from each Health Profession. To conclude, I would like to thank all students and faculty who contributed to the success of the 1994-95 PR activities.

Health Professions Night 1995: Paula McNeil, Clair McInnis and Perveen Gaulti. Clair and Perveen were our representatives at this event. Congratulations on a job well done!

Career Day Girls; First year students, Shera Kneebone, Lisa Bannerman, Jennifer Coates.

Allan Edwards, a first year student, questions homeopathy.

Sarah Cummings, Chairperson for Pharmacy Phorums Committee.

One of the functions of the PR Committee at the College is to host Pharmacy Phorums. The purpose of such phorums is to keep students abreast of new developments in the profession of pharmacy. This has been a great year for phorums as a total of five were hosted. We had exposure to issues ranging from Cognitive Services and homeopathy to liability. I would like to take this opportunity to thank the DSPS, Dr. Chandler, Dr. Janke and everyone else who helped to make the phorums successful. Thanks for coming out!

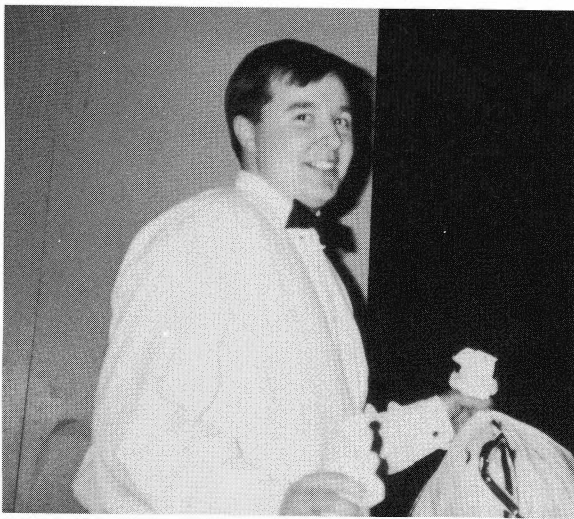

Chairperson, Sarah Cummings.

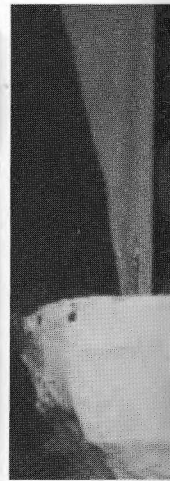

SKIT NIGHT

Did you hear the one about Sandy and Randy?

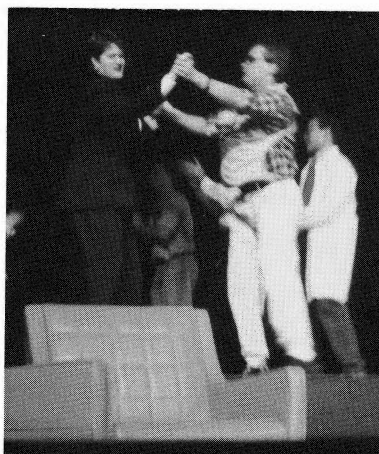

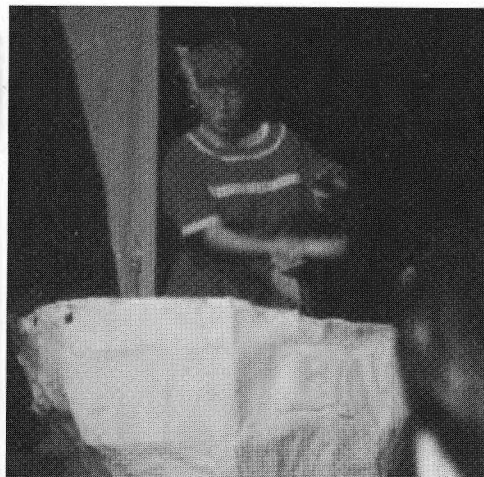

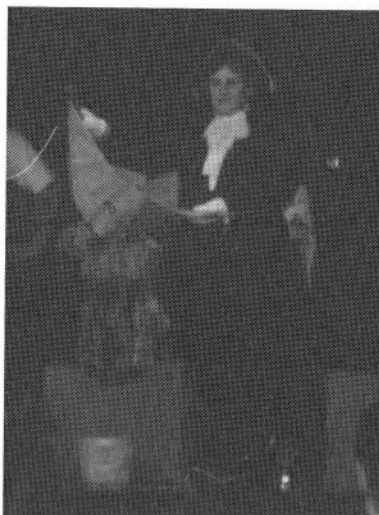

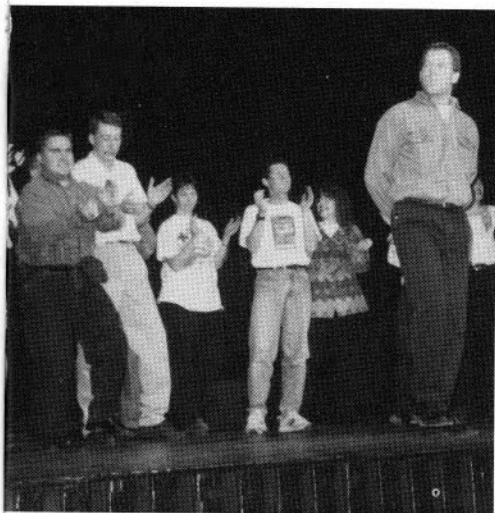

I love ticklin' tigers.

dy and Randy?

Skit night was a fabulous success again this year. This years social reps, Deb Orridge and Eric Baker, did a great job with all of the Pharmacy Week events, including Skit Night.

Once again, the students showed that they are very talented (in song and dance) and know about a lot more than drugs.

The night began with the first year skit. The "rookies" were excellent as they portrayed pharmacy and the first interaction between Cowboys (and girls) and Indians. Who knew that Beth could triturate so efficiently in a birchbark mortar with a stick pestle?? And arrows really do fly, although this definitely wasn't the way to win the judges votes.

The second year skit was about the powers of MORPHINE. Only a few second years on stage were able to be put to sleep. (Maybe Blair will have better luck the next time Raveen is in town). The crowd was too busy laughing to be put under his spell. We were happy to see the return of PPPAAATTT, maybe (s)he will be back next year to tell all his/her secrets. The only other question is, will Todd know the national anthem next year???

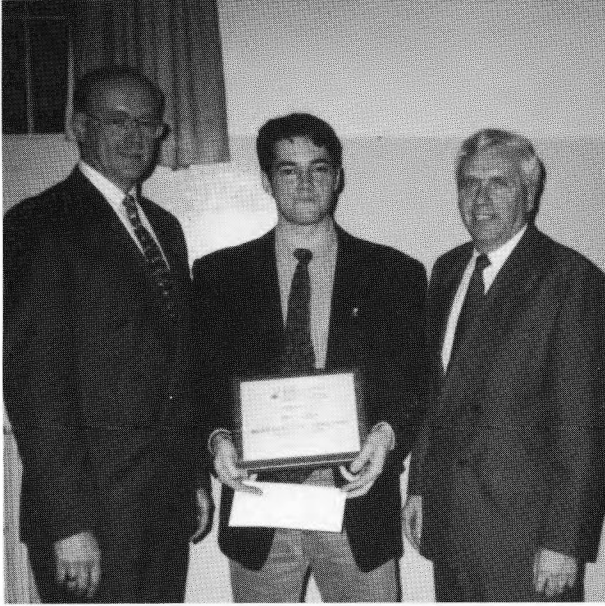

The third year skit took place on the elevator/time machine from *ELL. Dr. Chandler with lots of hair (an ape); Beth, Susan, and Anne Marie with guns; what more can be said? Anything could happen! A word to the wise: If you ever PLAN to hyperventilate, don't depend on STEVE G. to pass you a paper bag!!

Fourth years finished the night with the winning performance. Is this really what happens in the staff lounge?? Was that really how Kristin and Todd fell in love?? These are questions we may never know the answers to, but it was certainly hilarious to see the possibilities. Oh yes, let this skit be a lesson to the first years . . . FOOD is the best way to bribe the judges!!!

Congratulations to everyone for all of their hard work. This year's show had some of the best props and costumes ever. Congratulations especially to the class of 1995 for their winning performance.

TIME TO CELEBRATE

The last exam ever (well, excluding PEBC's) for the 1995 grads was on April 20, 1995. The traditional Champagne fights were held outside the arena until the class was asked to disperse by security. That evening, Janice and Marco held their annual year end bash at 6297 Yukon Street. Everyone had a wonderful time in spite of the noise complaints.

GRADUATION WEEK

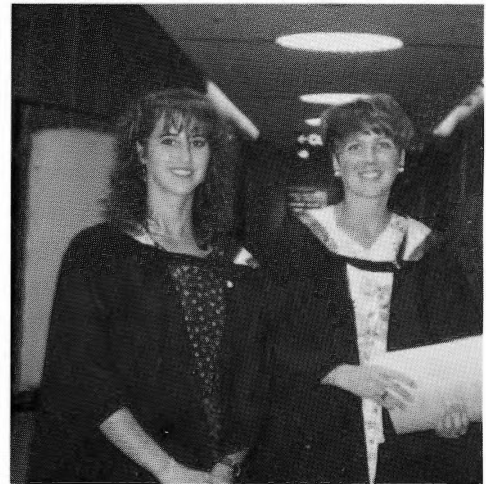

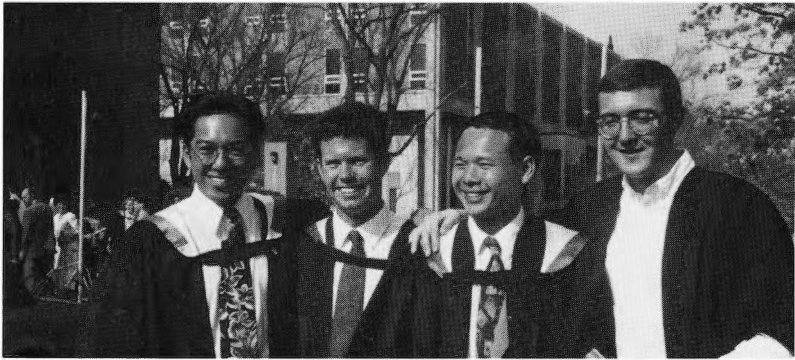

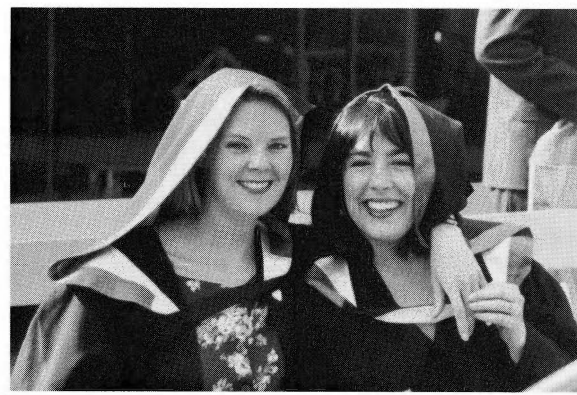

On May 25, 1995 the Pharmacy Graduation Brunch was held. At this time, those who obtained Dean's List status, won awards, and/or graduated with distinction were recognized. A special graduate, Katherine McNeill, was also acknowledged as the first of the First Nations people to graduate from Pharmacy at Dalhousie University. Robin Herbert gave the Valedictory speech which included a reading from Dr. Zeus's Oh the Places We Will Go.

During the graduation ceremony, pharmacy excelled. Allison Scott had the honour of giving the Valedictory Address for the Faculty of Health Professions and Michael Tucker was presented with the Student Union Honour Award. Everything appeared to go off without a problem despite the last minute, mad dash for enough hoods.

APPRECIATION NIGHTS

During the month of February, both Lawtons Drugs and Shoppers Drug Mart held Appreciation Nights for the Class of 1995 to say congratulations. Of course most of the graduates attended, which would not have anything to do with free liquor. Special thanks to Alan Kyte, who arranged Lawtons Casino Night, and Hugh Ellis, who organized the Shoppers Wine and Cheese Night.

The growing family of community drug stores

And every store is owned by a pharmacist.

The associate concept

There are Shoppers Drug Mart stores in every province of Canada. Each one is owned by a Pharmacist/Owner, known as the Associate.

This arrangement offers the benefits of both an independent business and a large chain operation. As an owner, the Associate is highly motivated to develop the business potential of his or her store, with the freedom to purchase, hire, and administer.

As part of a national organization, the Associate has the benefits of financial backing, national advertising, bulk purchasing, professional store design, management guidelines and staff training.

This Pharmacist/Owner arrangement is one of several factors which complete the Shoppers Drug Mart concept. Others are: mass merchandising sales techniques; concerned and courteous response to consumer needs; and low prices.

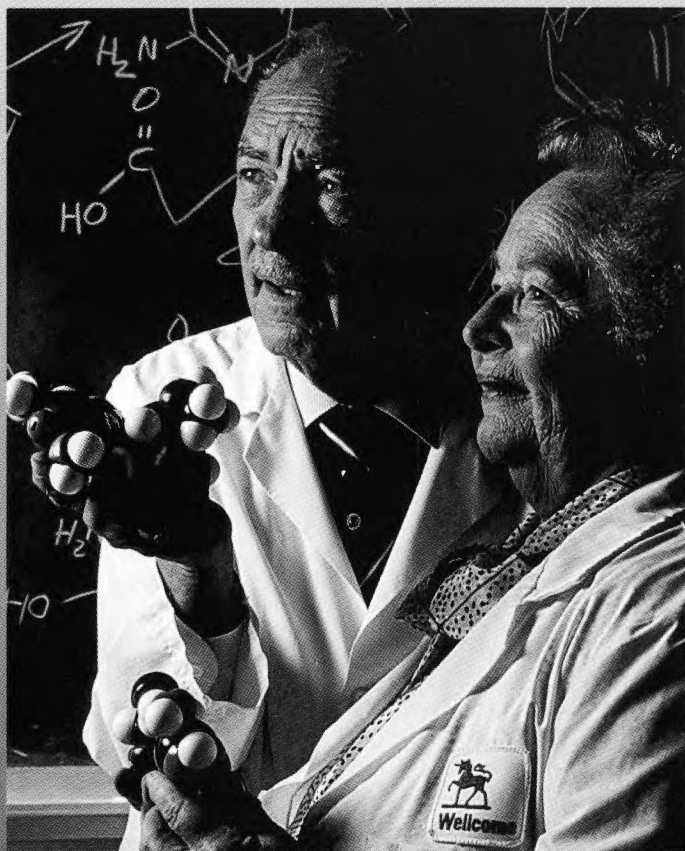

Our success ... can be your success

NOBEL LAUREATES

Dr. Gertrude Elion

In the very few times the Nobel Prize for medicine has been awarded to pharmaceutical researchers, no less than five have gone to researchers associated with Burroughs Wellcome.

Burroughs Wellcome research will be directed toward improved therapies in lung and breast cancers, epilepsy and stroke as well as HIV infection/herpes. Moreover, Burroughs Wellcome will strive to be a key generator of clinical research data to support new drug entities for worldwide markets.

The Company believes medical care cannot remain isolated from social and educational issues. Burroughs Wellcome must work closely with both health providers and the people affected by diseases through programs which support them.

At Sandoz, research means one thing...

life.

Research means a lot to Paul. For Paul and thousands of Canadians, Sandoz research has meant a new lease on life following organ transplantation.

In 1978, clinical trials began on Sandimmune® (cyclosporin A), changing transplant medicine forever. Thanks to our research, people of all ages are benefitting from successful transplantations.

Our research in the field of immunology has meant a breakthrough for medicine. For Paul and others like him, it means life.

And the research continues.
