Good luck in your professional careers!
Scotia and Spryfield Physiotherapy

In this Profession the services you provide and the way in which you provide those services to the health care consumer is limited only by your imagination. Don't Box yourself in. Best Wishes.
B.A. Tomie, Renova Physiotherapy Clinic

Congratulations on a job well done! The staff of Halifax Centre wishes all of the 2000 graduates the greatest success in the future.
Halifax Physiotherapy

Congratulations!
St. Margaret's Bay Physiotherapy

Director's Message

On behalf of the staff and faculty of the School of Physiotherapy, Dalhousie University, I would like to extend our congratulations to you on the completion of your Physiotherapy degree. You, as a graduate of the program are responsible for maintaining and developing your knowledge and skills throughout your career. Your growth as a professional will have a positive impact not only on you and your patients, but also on the physiotherapy profession as a whole.

The opportunities for health-care professionals in Canada and all over the world are growing every day, and so are the challenges. I hope that throughout your career you will never be afraid of such challenges, but instead will consider them as opportunities and seek innovative solutions to resolve the issues you are faced with.

Remember the School's motto, "Evidence-based practice through education and research". The research process requires motivation, self-direction and problem solving skills, all of which you will require to be a successful physiotherapy professional. I hope that during your years at the School of Physiotherapy you were able to learn about a specific area of physiotherapy, but also that you gained an appreciation for the process of scientific enquiry. It is only through research that we can build a strong evidence based profession.

Our mission at the School is to provide you with the best undergraduate program so that you enter the profession with a strong foundation and the thirst for new knowledge. As you move into the professional world to practice as a physiotherapist, I know that you will take the values you have learned with you. Please remember that the School of Physiotherapy is your School, for life. Write to us, visit us, and keep in touch.

With warm regards to all,
Lydia Makrides, Ph.D.
Professor and Director

President's Message

We have finally made it guys! And after three years I am surprised that the school is still standing. We may have gained the reputation of being outspoken, but how else does change come about, eh?

In all seriousness, we certainly have become quite close over our time here. We've grown together as people, professionals and friends, and have made an outstanding achievement in graduating from this program. Throughout all of the study and stress, we managed to help each other get by and then helped each other celebrate along the way. We are now embarking upon an exciting journey into a dignified profession regardless of the career paths we might choose.

To the class of 2001 and 2002, I urge you to get involved, work hard, play hard and make the most of the time you have left together with your classmates. Enjoy!

To the class of 2000, I wish you the best of luck in all of your future endeavors, professional or otherwise. I encourage you to strive to be lifelong learners and to welcome the challenges that arise. I would also hope that the friends you have made here remain good friends no matter where your career takes you.

Cheers!

Maurice Aube

Editor's Message

Yet another great year has come to an end. To my fellow classmates, the graduates of 2000; it has been a blast and I wish each and every one of you a life full of challenges, success and good fortune. I hope this year book will capture some of our most cherished moments and provide a treasured keepsake for years to come.

To the classes of 2001, 2002, may this book be an indicator of the many good times yet to come. These three years pass by so quickly, so make the most of your time here. Study hard, but most importantly get involved and have fun!!

I would like to thank everyone who contributed to the success of the yearbook, for all your hard work and effort. As well, thanks to all of you camera happy individuals who provided us with the great photos.

I hope you enjoy and cherish your book of memories.

Best of luck!!!

Maurice Aube
Dorchester, NB

Maurice hails from Dorchester, N.B. and while most of us know him as Mo, he will always be remembered as the "ladies man". Alone with anchoring the Cremaster intramural basketball team, Mo has been active here at Dal being the CPA Student Rep and President of the DPSS. Mo will be marrying his "one and only lady" Sara in May. We wish them all the best now and in the future.

Lori Bartlett
Georgetown, NF

Lori came to Dal after obtaining a BSc (Psych) for Memorial University and had her choice of the POC and SLP programs. Are we glad she chose Physio! Not much gets by this feisty Newfoundlander, including the thief that made off with her wallet in Paris (after telling him off, she came back unscathed with wallet in hand). Lori is best known for not leaving the house without a fresh coat of lipstick and her "tickle trunk" that overstuffed a backpack that has more contents than the aisles of Shopper's Drug Mart. When not "studying" at the law library she can be found destressing by maxing out the credit cards at the mall. Lori can bring a laugh to any room and life to any party. All in all you cannot ask for a better friend or a better shopping buddy! Best of luck in the future, Lori!

Sonia Batra
Halifax, NS

Sonia joined our class after spending two years at Dalhousie University taking Science. Sonia is the youngest girl in our class. She has been involved with Job Fair for the past three years and is the DSU fourth year rep on student council. She is always seen writing and writing in her daytimer and she is definitely the girl to talk to when it comes to music because of her fond connection to a DJ. Best of luck in the future Sonia.

Tammy Berteit
Moncton, NB

Tammy came to Physio following a biology degree at Mount A and 2 years at Dal. A valuable member of the right side of the Physio 2000 class, Tammy was always up for a good laugh. One of the highlights of her time with us was getting her driver's license. Her loves include W-sitting, pottery, candles, meat and a certain Bradford. In fact every second weekend she disappears from the scene altogether. You'll be missed Tammy!

Lindsay Bradley
Baddeck, NS

Lindsay came to Dal after enjoying four years at St. FX. Lindsay is known for her love of everything Celtic, her photography skills, and her constant stash of treats that she is always ready to share. Her efforts to choreograph and teach step dancing for FTHOI are a tribute to her patience. Good luck in the future, Lindsay!

Ashley Buckle
Corner Brook, NF

Ashley was introduced to us in first year Physio as the winner of the Bowling Shoes for his unique behavior at the PMS party. Since then his unique antics at Physio parties has continued to expand. During his 3 years at Dal, Ashley can always be seen with his Oakleys and NorthFace gear. He has been involved in various intramural sports as well as volunteering for athletic therapy at Dal and MSVU. Ashley's love for sports began in 3rd year when Ashley allowed himself to be Mike Sutton's personal punching bag at the Canada Winter Games. Ashley's easy going manner and extensive knowledge will benefit any clinic he works at, the class wishes him all the best!

Sean Buckley
Sussex, NB

Hailing from Sussex, NB, Sean has been a great asset to the class of 2000. For the past 3 years, he has taken part in a variety of extra-curricular activities including intramural sports rep, 'A' hockey and playing a key role in organizing physio's entry in FTHOI. We're sure Sean will make a great physiotherapist and probably go on to specialize in the C-Spine. Best of luck Sean in all your future endeavors.

Greg Campbell
Victoria, BC

Hailing from "Beautiful British Columbia", Greg can usually be found clinging to cliffs, publishing papers about his rock climbing injuries, or travelling the world with Sarah. Greg is continually amazed by the "nonsensical" behavior of some people and remains a proponent of the use of "voodoo" in clinical practice. In the future, Greg is likely to "snap" during a lecture and "piston?????" the people talking in the back.

Stephanie Carson
Saint John, NB

Everyone loves Steph! Originally known to us as "Rutherford", she acclaimed the title of Mrs. Carson over the summer of '98. She's always sporting a great smile along with her new hair-do and butterfly tattoo. We are all thankful Stephanie chose a career in Physio over pharmacy after completing a biology degree at UNBSJ. This "class abby" is known for her hilarious stories of IVAs and second-degree burns. Steph's hard work and spunkiness are sure to make her an amazing physiotherapist!

Michelle Connolly
Mt. Pearl, NF

Michelle originally from Mt. Pearl, NFLD came to Dal Physio with a Kinesiology degree from SFU. Her true colors showed as she had a great love for parties and the "bottle". She will be remembered by every one in the class as the last one to hand in her exam paper - she likes to write. I guess she needed those ear plugs to concentrate. We wonder, Michelle, if you wore those ear plugs when you took all those naps?!?! We wish you all the best and don't worry, you'll find your "ideal man" some time soon. Good luck as you return to the Rock - without a contract - to become a physiotherapist.

Deanna Curnew,
Corner Brook, NF

Instead of taking steps to avoid much confusion with another classmate, Deanna opted not to mention that she actually prefers to be called Dee (oops!). Well, whatever her name is she is famous for her huge smile and seemingly carefree attitude (No sweat!). However, underneath the facade there is definitely a perfectionists lurking (Have you seen those bathroom towels?). She is also known for steering the FTHOI crew in the politically correct direction, and her volunteering for just about anything Keith managed to avoid. Dee, may the roads to your PT career always be paved literally.

Gurmohan Dhillon

Rob A.K.A. Gramohan, G & Dhillon, hails from the wild streets of Spryfield. Each - but not everyday, driving his gun-shot riddled "198 - something" pont. 6000. Rob is known for being physio hairiest man ever, can often be heard saying "This class sucks, I don't care and Boys up for plan A tonight?" Rob is also known for having the world's largest and ugliest ACL Brace. He enjoys golf, tennis & an occasional game of basketball in which he is known to be quite good. Rob will be an asset to any clinic in which he works as well as a great co-worker. Stay Real G!!

Andrew Drover
Upper Island Cove, NF

With only one year of university under his belt the baby of the class made the move to the big city. After fighting off homesickness and finally shaving off his Baymen moustache he settled in and the true Andrew began to show. His impressions of anyone and everyone and song writing ability have become legendary. Known as the human contracture in Ortho, we will always wonder how he functions in his ADL's. But seriously over the three years Andrew has been well liked, always made us laugh and we know he will be a great asset wherever he works.

Pam Dykeman
Norton, New Brunswick

Pam entered the physiotherapy program after graduating with a degree in biology from UNB. She can usually be seen coming to class with a smile and a large coffee, bagel and cream cheese in hand. Pam will always be remembered for her famous introductions "Hi, my name is Chuck", her inability to speak without using her hands and her willingness to be a model in labs (even if the end result is a sudden drop attack). Best of luck Pam in your physiotherapy career from the Grads of 2000.

Jillian Fahey
Wabush, NF

The 'best kept secret' from Wabush, Labrador came to us after 2 years at UNB. She started out her physio career as a bookworm, but as her love of Lamb's & 80's tunes shone through she could frequently be found at the Marquee on 'Retro Night' with Michelle and Wendy. She will be remembered best for her curly hair, sarcastic remarks and yelling 'DRINK!' during her infamous Century Club games. The class would like to thank Jillian for all the work she put into the yearbook and wish her all the best in the future.

Keith Fahey
Labrador City, NF

Keith - the man of many nicknames. This guy even had a song written about him. "Every time I look..." How he puts up with it all, I don't know. Our Faithful class rep will always be remembered for his dedication to running, late night and early morning studying, announcements, sense of humor and that skin tight tank top he wore to the Physiotherapy Men's Society meeting. What's that Keith? You're hungry for some Chunky?..

Wendy Foote
Cole Harbour, NS

When not running to beat her 'best time', this girl was found swimming at the dalplex. No matter how busy things got however, she always had time for her favorite guy.....Captain Morgan. We're not sure if it was him, or her unstable ankle to blame for her many 'stumbles'. Either way, how she survived with only minor bruises is beyond us!! Although rumored to be joining Jillian on "The Rock", Wendy is off to Barrie to begin her physio career. Good luck Wendy, we will all miss you!

Nicole Gilks
Doaktown, NB

Nicole may be a small town girl, but she fits right into city life with her amazing ability to hail a cab. She's seen every movie that comes out and she's known for her promotion of the Sons of Maxwell. You've been a great friend Nicole, and we know you'll be a terrific Physio wherever you go. Good Luck!

Adam Hannaford
Enfield, NS

Adam commuted every day from Enfield after completing a psychology degree from SMU. He could always be found in the back row of the class with his sweatshirt and fitted baseball cap making witty remarks, and never at the Dalplex. He is known for his love of softball and his theater debut at FTHOI as stage manager in 4th year. We all know that he will go on to be a very successful Physio! Good Luck Adam!

Yong Qing Jiang
China

One of the most educated members of the class of 2000. Yong Qing came to Canada from China only recently. She is a very quiet but extremely "happy" member of our group... rarely is she seen without a smile on her face. Over the past three years she seems to have taken up permanent residence at the Kellogg Library and can usually be found there at any given time. We all wish her the best of luck at her job in Winnipeg where she will be re-united with her husband and son, and start her career as a PT. Good Luck

Zaha Jibril
Halifax, NS

One of the few good things to result from the Gulf War was the decision of Zaha's family to move to Canada. After arriving in Halifax in 1994, Zaha attended St Mary's University and received a BSc in biology in 1997. A dedicated student, Zaha can always be found in the front row of class with her "Hello Kitty" clipboard close at hand. When not in class, she can often be seen at the Kellogg Library either studying or praying (or both). Zaha is sure to be successful at whatever area of physiotherapy she chooses. Congratulations Zaha!

Lisa Jones
Keswick Ridge, NB

Lisa came to physio after completing a degree in biology at UNB (and tracking around Europe). When not speed walking to school with her two physio roommates, she can be found cruising the malls.....or cooking up something yummy in the kitchen. Although one of the quieter members of the class, she will be remembered for her kind and friendly personality. Good luck Lisa, we know you will make a great physio wherever you may go.

Karyn Lechowick
Charlottetown, PEI

Although there are 2 girls with the same name in our class, there are many things that are unique about Karyn. She's the islander (PEI) who is always thinking of others. She will always be known for her frequent disappearances from class (small bladder??), the girl with the last name no one could pronounce, and the Karyn with a "Y". Not to mention her ability to party it up with anyone who is interested!!! Good Luck Karyn!

Jennifer MacIsaac
Inverness, NS

Jen came to the School of Physiotherapy after completing a degree in Biology at the Mount. She seemed quiet and shy at first but we soon realized that she's not just super smart, she's a lot of fun. Her slightly sarcastic sense of humor has entertained us all. We'll miss your great smile. Keep in touch, Jen.

Krista MacKinnon

Dartmouth, NS

In September 1997, Krista started degree #3. Since that time she has amused us in many ways – her seemingly never ending love-life dilemmas, her tendency to lose things (ex. All her textbooks), her tendency to find everything she loses and most recently the flask incident. Joking aside, Krista is a soft-hearted girl who is full of life, has admirable loyalty to her friends. Good luck in the future, Krista, its been great getting to know you.

Charles MacLean

Sydney Mines, NS

Charles AKA Redneck MacLean was always up for a party but wasn't necessarily the last standing. Especially the night we found him taking a dip in the fountain at JJ's. Charles always took part in intramural sports, however one night at hockey he ended up skating on the stairs instead of the ice. He will always be remembered for his amazing memory, few words, hosting the greatest PMS party ever and suprisingly many black eyes. We wish Charles well in his future endeavors.

Stephanie MacLeod

Trenton, NS

After completing her Biology degree at Saint Mary's University, Stephanie joined the Physio Class of 2000 with her Tim Horton's coffee mug in hand. In 2nd year, after being "screeched-in" as an honorary Newfoundlander, Stephanie took quite a liking to Newfoundland and one newfie in particular! Sometimes referred to as "little Stephanie", she will always be remembered for her kindheartedness and infectious smile. Following graduation she is looking forward to bumming around Europe before entering the real world. Best of luck Stephanie, you'll be missed by all.

Mike MacNutt

Canning, NS

Mike came to physio fresh out of Acadia where he got his BBA. He proved to be a well-rounded individual as he was involved in various intramural sports, part time work at the QEII and covering sporting events at SMU. Mike will most likely be the owner of the first private clinic where patients can play a Sony Playstation while they wait with their hot pack. Of course the waiting room monitors will feature 24 hour cartoons and wrestling. Your sense of humor and attitude will be a great asset to whatever you do, best of luck!!

Derek MacPherson

Sherwood, PEI

Derek came to us as a proud, proud graduate of St. FX and brought with him the ability to entertain. With the help of Krista MacKinnon he rejuvenated the MC position in FTHOI while still having time to put in a cameo performance that won't soon be forgotten. Also known as the "Bill Gates" of Physio, Derek was always the man to turn to when something went wrong in the computer lab. Good luck in the future Derek, and keep working on your three-point shot.

Christa Morehouse

Zealand, NB

The bride to be from Fredericton NB, who is always cheerful and has a story to tell ("Well you know..."). Known for her love of the 80's and the Price is Right, it is rumored that she will be heading south after graduation to be Bob Barker's PT. Wherever you end up Christa, I'm sure you will be successful - Best of luck!!

Cindy Morris

St. John's, NF

Cindy arrived at DAL following studies at UNB. She is known to all for having a well-organized schedule and being in the process of either planning or leaving for a trip to meet Trevor. She is also famous for being mortified of giving presentations but always does a fantastic job at them! Following graduation Cindy plans to work in Newfoundland. We wish her all the best in the future!

Karen O'Connell

Miramichi, NB

Before joining our physio class, Karen completed a BSC in Biology at UNB. Whenever you are in the mood to eat out or see the latest flick, Karen is surely the girl to call. She is a diligent worker who gets things done but truly believes that there is no room for studying on the weekend. Karen will be remembered for her easy going attitude, participation in FTHOI and co-chairing of Job Fair 2000. The class of 2000 would like to wish you well in your future endeavors.

Lyne Ouellet
Quispamsis NB

This closet party animal is not the quiet, shy girl we all thought she was in second year. She can often be found writing letters to the bank, talking with her hands or making her super sandwiches. Lyne always has a smile on her face and frequently gets the giggles. She'll be a bright addition wherever she works... Just don't call her "the doctor's wife"! Good luck!

Julie Phillips
Fredericton, NB

Julie came to Halifax and quickly found good friends and roommates in K and L. Julie is always up for anything whether it be vegging out or partying it up...she has to get her mind off the stress of having every condition, disease or symptom we ever learned about!! Julie will always be remembered for her down to earth, easy going and warm-hearted personality. Julie will no doubt shine as a physiotherapist.

Katrina
Philopoulos-Gavas
Halifax, NS

Katrina will be remembered as the classroom sweetheart. She joined physiotherapy after completing a degree in Microbiology and Immunology at Dal. Born and raised in Halifax, Kat showed us the ropes quickly especially at her sleepover in 2nd year. Since the first word out of her mouth was "Eddie", it came as no surprise when she had her fairytale wedding last September. Katrina will be remembered for her willingness to always help out, her role as public relations rep, her dad's Greek salad, and her ability to play hangman (in class!). Best of luck in the future, Katrina. You deserve the best.

Birgit Reher
Halifax, NS

Birgit came to us with several years of nursing experience under her belt. This fun-loving gal is always enthusiastic when it comes to participating in activities like FTHOI and job fair. Birgit can always be seen with a smile on her face, a bounce in her step, and coffee in hand. We wish you all the best in your future career!

Craig Rigby
Lower Sackville, NS

Craig joined our class after years at Mt. A. and SMU. Over the 3 years, the "late one" has been a loyal member of the intramural football and hockey 'C' teams. Craig's outgoing personality graced social events with numerous stories and jokes and the very famous "WORM". This hairy, dependable guy has made many memorable appearances in FTHOI. Craig would like to thank his family and Krista for their support. Craig will be an asset to the profession of Physiotherapy.

Ann Shaffelburg
Port Williams, NS

Ann came to Halifax after spending 3 years at Acadia University. She is known for being an easy going, friendly person. So much so that she didn't complain when she suffered frost bite in cryotherapy during 2nd year. Ann is known for her adventurous trips to Scotland, love for cooking, and involvement with Job Fair. All the best in the future Ann!!

Krista Simmons
Fredericton, NB

Krista arrived at Dal after completing a kinesiology degree at UNB. It didn't take her classmates long to realize that good listening skills are a necessity to follow what this fast paced girl is saying. Krista will be remembered for her sense of humor, dramatic expressions, and famous last words... "Oh my word", or is it "Oh my soul"! Krista has been particularly busy her last year planning her June wedding with fiancé Jason. Best of luck in the future Krista!

John Smallwood
Corner Brook, NF

John completed his "athletic therapy" degree at Acadia before gracing us with his presence. Being one of the most outspoken individuals in the class, he has made student life for everyone else very entertaining at times. This lanky, Oakley wearing Newfoundlander has an opinion about everything and good advice about almost nothing. John will undoubtedly make a great physiotherapist and would like to thank his family, including Ashley and Susan for helping him become the "boy" he is today.

Leasa Stanley

Antigonish, NS

"How hard can you shake a baby?" Right after getting married, Leasa came to physio to complete her 3rd degree. Definitely the "superwoman" in the class, Leasa is no stranger to change. Over the past 3 years, party lovin' Leasa metamorphosed into a devoted new mother. Leasa will be known for her optimistic attitude, excellent time management skills and her big smile. We wish you, Darcy, and Ryan a lifetime of happiness! Good luck in Port Hawkesbury!

Mike Stevens

Halifax, NS

Mike came to us after completing an honors degree at Dal. If he wasn't at the gym or the Olive you could always find him gracing the T.V. screen. We will remember the touch down dances, his perfect date at the ball and how he applied everything to weightlifting. He has been a great friend and could take a joke well. He will be a great physio, an asset to the profession and a definite success. Mike, never let go of that horseshoe.

Helen Sullivan

Fredericton, NB

Helen arrived at the school of Physiotherapy with a BBA from UNB and 4 years of a BSc degree. Following graduation from PT, Helen is looking forward to pursuing a career in Geriatrics. Helen enjoys tennis, nature walks and recently learned how to sew. She will be remembered for her morning, afternoon and evening coffee; not surprisingly she won a T.V. from Tims last year! Best of Luck in your P.T. Career!!

Jodie Terrio

Halifax, NS

This avid chocolate lover would often be seen coming into the classroom with a large Tim Horton's coffee in hand. Maybe that's why she talked so much in class and why she could talk to anyone and make them feel at ease, as if they had known her forever. She'll be missed by all! Best of luck in the future and see ya around the globe!

Cyril Walsh

Pasadena, NF

Cyril came to the faculty of physiotherapy sporting a Physical Education degree from MUN. He is well known for his practical jokes, comical sayings, his strange "hypermobile elbow", and his disbelief until he finds the facts. He has been a great addition to the 'A' hockey team as well, since the team has been in dire need of a "goon" for years. Thanks for all the great laughs Cyril. You're sure to be a success wherever you may go.

Valedictory Address

Welcome parents, professors, staff of the school of physiotherapy, and fellow graduates to the first graduation of the new millennium. You are a part of history.

To begin, I would like to extend a warm welcome to all the family members that made it here today. The graduates understand you are very busy and we appreciate the time it took for you to attend. I heard it took Jillian's parents' a week on a snowmobile just to get off of Labrador. I cannot stress the importance of our parents support and encouragement to become physiotherapists. Without their help some of us would not be here today. Thank-you, once more.

I would also like to extend my thanks and appreciation to our professors for their expertise and their ability to break down this very broad profession into teachable units. I thank you for the extra time you took with some of us to explain in greater detail or to explain again a concept or theory. The knowledge shared with us will be put into great use in our professional lives.

I would like to thank the staff members of the school of physiotherapy that took the time out their day to congratulate the new physiotherapists. Yes, Ina I can hear you we all know how busy you are. We all appreciate your good humor and kindness, which you showed over the years. Without you this school would not exist. Isn't that right James.

I decided to apply to Physio for many reasons. One of the major reasons was I was bored with book learning. I wanted to learn practical techniques and for this reason this is an important thank-you.

I would like to extend my thanks and great admiration to all of the lab demonstrators. The importance of book learning is very significant to this profession however treating patients is by far the most important part of our profession. Our lab demonstrators with their clinical experience have taught us how to use our head and hands to help our patients get better. For this you have my colleges and my utmost respect.

We are all graduating! What a great day isn't it. It took 3 intense scholastic years of physiotherapy to get to this milestone in our lives. Having to write this speech has given me a chance to reflect on my Physio years. I do not think I can remember a more amusing three years. Events that will forever be in my memories are orientation week, the Halloweens, FTHOI, Physio balls, and sporting events. However a great deal of humorous moments occurred during unorganized events and in the run of a school day. The worm graced the floors of 'the Marquee', a Cape Bretoner designed a new surgical procedure for a fistula, and our professors humorous idiosyncroses.

Many members of our class either needed Physio or other medical intervention over our days in Halifax. Accidents ranged from fainting in lab, hypermobility of almost every joint in the human body, osteochondral defects, an inadequate PCL, an elbow abnormality, balance deficits, Bell's Palsy and after our trip to Cuba, anterior translation of C4 on C5, and a possible fractured Dens.

We were all strangers and now look at us we are all colleagues. Our class has been described, if you can believe it, as being "difficult" I have to agree with them. However I think this is exactly what the profession needs. Physios are forever been described as passive but not this group. I would like to challenge my fellow graduates to become involved in their community and raise the public awareness of Physiotherapy. I would also call our class "diverse". Like the smurfs. There are lots of brainies, a few newfies and yes Mike we know who Hefty is.

I would like to personally thank a few classmates for all their involvement in the school: Maurice, Adam, and Katrina for their involvement in the student society, Deanna for her involvement in everything, Jodie and Krista for organizing this week; especially today, Jillian and Lori for all their work on the yearbook, and to Keith for everything he did over the years here, he has been a very important member of our class and he gets made fun of more than he gets thanked. So to these people thank-you

We will all go our separate ways, lead separate lives, and build our own futures. I congratulate each and everyone of you on your achievement.

I would like to leave you with my parody of a Molson Canadian commercial.

*I am not a Doctor, nor a pharmacist.
I don't prescribe drugs or just use ultrasound,
And I don't know Jimmy, Sally or Susie from the Physio Department, even though I am certain they are all really nice people.*

*I have a plinth, not a bed.
I treat patients not clients,
And I pronounce it "olecranon" not "ole cran non"
I can proudly hang my diploma on the clinic wall.*

*I believe in activity not being sedentary, getting better not malignering,
And that education is a very effective form of treatment.
Hamstrings are knee flexors, a neck has 7 vertebrae and 16 nerve roots,
